ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States (except reimmigrants defined in section 3 (6) of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 154; 8 U. S. C. 203)) for more than a period of twenty-nine consecutive days, or for an aggregate of thirty days in any one calendar year, unless such alien has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence or has been granted a permit to land temporarily as a bona fide alien seaman, and no such alien shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily while in transit between vessels, or while in the service of the vessel on which he arrived, or for hospital treatment, or for detention by the immigration officers, or for such time as may be necessary to enable him to make his application for and obtain a visa from the consular officer of the country to which he belongs, or which he last left, if he is destined to a country which will not issue him a visa without such application, or for such time as may be necessary to enable him to secure a passport and visa from the consular officer of the country to which he belongs, or which he last left, if he is destined to a country which requires a passport and visa as a condition precedent to granting him a visa, or for such time as may be necessary to enable him to secure transportation to the country to which he belongs, or which he last left, or to secure a passport and visa from the consular officer of some country other than the United States which will grant him a visa, or for such time as may be necessary to enable him to comply with the requirements of the immigration laws: Provided, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in the case of any alien seaman who establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he was forced to land in the United States solely because of illness while in transit as a seaman on board a vessel and who is certified by the United States Public Health Service to be suffering from a communicable disease of a character which would be a ground for exclusion under section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 154; 8 U. S. C. 203), or any mental disease or physical defect of such character as would be a ground for exclusion under such section 3, and who is certified by such Service to be otherwise admissible under the provisions of the immigration laws: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in the case of any alien seaman who establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he was forced to land in the United States solely because of illness while in transit as a seaman on board a vessel and who is certified by the United States Public Health Service to be suffering from a communicable disease of a character which would be a ground for exclusion under section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and who is in need of immediate medical treatment, or who is destined to such a foreign contiguous territory as the Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose of such medical treatment, and who is certified by such Service to be otherwise admissible under the provisions of the immigration laws: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in the case of any alien seaman who establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he was forced to land in the United States solely because of illness while in transit as a seaman on board a vessel and who is certified by the United States Public Health Service to be suffering from a communicable disease of a character which would be a ground for exclusion under section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and who is in need of immediate medical treatment, or who is destined to such a foreign contiguous territory as the Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose of such medical treatment, and who is certified by such Service to be otherwise admissible under the provisions of the immigration laws: Provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 889–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port or place at which the vessel shall first arrive a complete list, signed and sworn to by him, of all the persons employed or shipped on board such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those persons who are not citizens of the United States, and the nationality of each; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the first port of the United States at which a physician is located the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port at which it touched, and also the number of those, if any, who have been employed or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to do so, or to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if convicted by the Attorney General, be punished by a fine not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General may prescribe, and in addition thereto, suffer such penalty as to the Attorney General may seem proper. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same upon such terms as he may deem proper. (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171 (a), 171 (c).)

(43 Stat. 164–165, as amended by 54 Stat. 673; 8 U. S. C. 171 (a), 171 (c).)

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, David Olson, of the Swedish M/S "BARACUA" do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew presently in said vessel from and bort or place quoted for present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

Sworn to before me this 3rd day of October, 19 41

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken ashore by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list of crewmen to attach hereto (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. "Motorvessel" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, severally and respectively, in the case of the port of arrival, and in the case of a vessel bound to a subsequent port, in the case of the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, to deliver to the immigration officer at such port a complete list, or manifest, of all the persons on board such vessel, whether cabin passengers or those in the steerage, who may be transported or landed, which list or manifest shall be prepared in the form or forms prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall contain such additional information relative to each person listed thereon as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, touching the right of each person to enter the United States, which list or manifest shall be signed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, or by the chief officer or surgeon thereof, and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master and chief officer of such vessel, and by the surgeon, if there be one, concerning each person on board such vessel: Provided, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may by general rules provide for the examination and landing of alien passengers who have been in transit through foreign contiguous territory, or who have been landed at ports other than ports of arrival, and may by general rules provide for the examination of aliens employed on vessels arriving at ports of the United States, and for the boarding of vessels for such purposes. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel, or the master or chief officer thereof, who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or at the subsequent port, if any, the list or manifest required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board such vessel or at the dock at which she lands any alien who may be certified to him as required by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse or neglect to prevent any such alien from landing in violation of law, or who shall refuse or neglect to report, or who shall conceal or attempt to conceal, or who shall aid or abet any other person to conceal or attempt to conceal, any alien who may be liable to detention by the immigration officers of the United States, or who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section or with any lawful rule or regulation made by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 37. (a) The master, captain, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the United States (except an alien crewman employed on the vessel arriving at the port of entry and reporting and departing with the vessel upon the conclusion of her voyage), shall be responsible for and pay the cost of maintenance while detained at a hospital, and of burial in case of death, of such alien, and also the cost of maintenance while detained at a quarantine station, if such detention is required by law or regulation, and the cost of burial in case of death of such alien at such station. Such cost shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may arrive or depart. Clearance may be withheld or granted in accordance with the discretion of the Secretary of Labor regarding the payment of such cost or the furnishing of such security therefor as he may require or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety or sureties to secure such payment. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the cost of maintenance of any alien detained for observation, but clearance may be granted upon the deposit of sufficient security or the giving of a sufficient bond to secure such payment. The Secretary of Labor may issue a certificate of clearance in any case in which he is satisfied that the cost will be paid to the United States, and such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of his decision in the premises.

(b) If any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof shall have on board any alien who is afflicted with any loathsome disease or with any mental disease for which such alien is not certified at the time of inspection, or who is a member of a class which the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival shall have certified to the immigration officer at such port as being suspected of any such disease or as being liable to become a public charge, such alien shall not be allowed to land in the United States, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be responsible for and pay the cost for the maintenance of such alien while detained at a hospital, and the cost of burial in case of death of such alien, and also the cost of maintenance while detained at a quarantine station, if such detention is required by law or regulation, and the cost of burial in case of death of such alien at such station. Such cost shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may arrive or depart. Clearance may be withheld or granted in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) If any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof shall have on board any alien who is certified by the examining medical officer at the time of inspection to be afflicted with any loathsome disease or with any mental disease for which such alien is not certified at the time of inspection, or who is a member of a class which the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival shall have certified to the immigration officer at such port as being suspected of any such disease or as being liable to become a public charge, such alien shall not be allowed to land in the United States, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be responsible for and pay the cost for the maintenance of such alien while detained at a hospital, and the cost of burial in case of death of such alien, and also the cost of maintenance while detained at a quarantine station, if such detention is required by law or regulation, and the cost of burial in case of death of such alien at such station. Such cost shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may arrive or depart. Clearance may be withheld or granted in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below shall be observed by the Department and by every master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or broker of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place in the transportation of aliens to the United States, and by every person, whether a citizen or alien, who shall aid or abet in the transportation of aliens to the United States from any foreign port or place.

Sec. 26. (a) That no alien seaman (except a seaman employed on any vessel entering in the United States which shall depart from the United States within twenty-four hours after its entry, and which shall not land at any port in the United States, except temporarily while in transit to the vessel's destination, and which shall not receive on board any cargo at such port) shall be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel on arrival thereat unless such seaman shall have been duly certified by the proper immigration officer at the port of foreign embarkation as having been found upon examination by him to be not affected with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases which would be sufficient to exclude such seaman from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

Sec. 26. (b) That masters, consignees, agents, owners, charterers, or lessees of any vessel entering in the United States from any place outside the United States shall, before such vessel departs from any port in the United States, deliver to the proper immigration officer at such port a complete and accurate list, in triplicate, of all alien seamen (except alien members of the crew who are employed on board such vessel and who intend to depart from the United States with such vessel upon her next departure from the United States) employed on such vessel upon her arrival in the United States, which list shall contain the name, nationality, last foreign residence, and intended future residence of each such alien seaman, and the date and port of his last arrival in the United States, and shall state whether he has been issued a certificate from a consular officer, and the number and date of such certificate, if any. Such list shall be verified by the master or commanding officer of such vessel by his signature thereto and the oath administered by the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall deliver an incomplete list, shall pay to the collector of customs at each port at which such vessel shall arrive a penalty of $10 for each alien seaman concerning whom complete information is not furnished in such list, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of such penalty, or while any such alien seaman remains on board, unless a sufficient sum of money to pay such penalty shall be deposited with the collector of customs.

(c) If any master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel on which any alien seaman has arrived at any port of the United States shall fail to report the departure of such seaman or the cause of his failure to depart, as required by the immigration laws and regulations, or if any such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at any port of the United States the certificate issued to such seaman by the consular officer at the port of foreign embarkation, as required by section 2 hereof, or if any such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at any port of the United States the list required by subdivision (b) of this section to be delivered by the master of such vessel, or if any such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall refuse or fail to pay any tax, fine, or penalty due by him under the provisions of this section, such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(d) Every alien who shall depart from the United States shall, before his departure, deliver to the master, commanding officer, purser, or agent of the vessel on which he departs, a true and correct statement, in triplicate, containing such information as may be required by the Attorney General, and the master, commanding officer, purser, or agent shall deliver such statement to the immigration officer at the port of departure. Any such master, commanding officer, purser, or agent who shall refuse or fail to deliver such statement shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(e) If any such master, commanding officer, purser, or agent shall report the departure or the cause of failure to depart of any alien seaman, as required by subdivision (c) of this section, he shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each such alien seaman, unless such alien seaman shall have been lawfully permitted to land temporarily or permanently in the United States, or shall have been taken from the vessel for medical treatment, or unless a verified statement shall be furnished to the satisfaction of the Attorney General showing that such alien seaman was prevented from departing from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived by sickness, accident, or other cause beyond his control, which statement shall be corroborated by the certificate of the United States consular officer, if any, at the port of foreign embarkation.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel within the period of time fixed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of other aliens.

(g) It shall be the duty of the Attorney General to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and to prescribe such forms and issue such certificates as may be necessary for the proper administration thereof.

ALIEN SEAMEN

Sec. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be permitted to land in the United States from any place outside thereof, nor shall any vessel entering in the United States from any place outside thereof, except a vessel entering in distress or because of stress of weather, be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel on arrival thereat unless such seaman shall have been duly certified by the proper immigration officer at the port of foreign embarkation as having been found upon examination by him to be not affected with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases which would be sufficient to exclude such seaman from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

Sec. 26. (a) That masters, consignees, agents, owners, charterers, or lessees of any vessel entering in the United States from any place outside the United States shall, before such vessel departs from any port in the United States, deliver to the proper immigration officer at such port a complete and accurate list, in triplicate, of all alien seamen (except alien members of the crew who are employed on board such vessel and who intend to depart from the United States with such vessel upon her next departure from the United States) employed on such vessel upon her arrival in the United States, which list shall contain the name, nationality, last foreign residence, intended future residence, and length of time in the United States of each such alien seaman, and the date and port of his last arrival in the United States, and shall state whether he has been issued a certificate from a consular officer, and the number and date of such certificate, if any. Such list shall be verified by the master or commanding officer of such vessel by his signature thereto and the oath administered by the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall deliver an incomplete list, shall pay to the collector of customs at each port at which such vessel shall arrive a penalty of $10 for each such alien seaman concerning whom complete information is not furnished in such list, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of such penalty, or while any such alien seaman remains on board, unless a sufficient sum of money to pay such penalty shall be deposited with the collector of customs.

(c) If any master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel on which any alien seaman has arrived at any port of the United States shall fail to report the departure or the cause of failure to depart of any alien seaman, as required by the immigration laws and regulations, or if any such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at any port of the United States the certificate issued to such seaman by the consular officer at the port of foreign embarkation, as required by section 2 hereof, or if any such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at any port of the United States the list required by subdivision (b) of this section to be delivered by the master of such vessel, or if any such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall refuse or fail to pay any tax, fine, or penalty due by him under the provisions of this section, such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(d) Every alien who shall depart from the United States shall, before his departure, deliver to the master, commanding officer, purser, or agent of the vessel on which he departs, a true and correct statement, in triplicate, containing such information as may be required by the Attorney General, and the master, commanding officer, purser, or agent shall deliver such statement to the immigration officer at the port of departure. Any such master, commanding officer, purser, or agent who shall refuse or fail to deliver such statement shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(e) If any such master, commanding officer, purser, or agent shall report the departure or the cause of failure to depart of any alien seaman, as required by subdivision (c) of this section, he shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each such alien seaman, unless such alien seaman shall have been lawfully permitted to land temporarily or permanently in the United States, or shall have been taken from the vessel for medical treatment, or unless a verified statement shall be furnished to the satisfaction of the Attorney General showing that such alien seaman was prevented from departing from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived by sickness, accident, or other cause beyond his control, which statement shall be corroborated by the certificate of the United States consular officer, if any, at the port of foreign embarkation, as to the sickness, accident, or other cause.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel within the period of time fixed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of other aliens.

(g) It shall be the duty of the Attorney General to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and to prescribe such forms and issue such certificates as may be necessary for the proper administration thereof.

Sec. 150.15. Lists of alien employees; where clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel that the list required by section 26 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 172) shall not have been furnished, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the delivery of such list, and while any alien employed on board such vessel is required by section 26 of said Act (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 172) to be listed, unless a sufficient sum of money to pay the penalty which may be imposed under section 26 of said Act shall be deposited with the collector of customs. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel that has employed on board any alien seaman whose name was required to be but was not included in the list delivered to the immigration officer at the port of departure, until the master, commanding officer, purser, or agent of such vessel has delivered to the immigration officer at the port of departure a supplemental list containing the name of such alien seaman, full information concerning him required to be furnished in the list delivered at the port of departure, and the reason for his failure to include the name of such alien seaman in the list delivered at the port of departure.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

Sec. 36. That from within the limits of the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to cause to be delivered to the immigrant inspector at each port of entry of the United States a complete list of all aliens, including the name and nationality of every alien, whether accompanied by relatives or friends or not, who may be brought to the United States on such vessel, and the last permanent foreign address of such alien, whether such alien intends to enter the United States or to depart therefrom, and whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States, and whether he has a ticket through to his destination, and whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when, and how much money he has with him, and whether he has been in prison or in a almshouse or an asylum for the insane or a charitable institution, and whether he is coming in pursuance of a prearranged employment, and if so, the name and address of the person who has sent for him, and the kind of work he intends to perform, and whether he intends to apply for admission to the United States, and whether he has been previously refused admission to the United States, or deported, and the cause thereof, and whether he intends to return to his former home after performing labor or service for which he is coming, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which list shall be verified by the oath of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, or his subordinate, and shall be subscribed by the person making the same. Such list shall be prepared on a printed form furnished by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and shall be in such form as he may prescribe, and shall contain such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom he fails to furnish the information required by this section, or in which any false statement is made, and may be imprisoned for not more than one year.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below shall be observed by the Department and by every master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or broker of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place in the transportation of aliens to the United States, and by every person, whether a citizen or alien, who shall aid or abet in the transportation of aliens to the United States from any foreign port or place.

Sec. 26. (a) That no alien seaman (except a seaman employed on any vessel entering in the United States which shall depart from the United States within twenty-four hours after its entry, and which shall not land at any port in the United States, except temporarily while in transit to the vessel's destination, and which shall not receive on board any cargo at such port) shall be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel on arrival thereat unless such seaman shall have been duly certified by the proper immigration officer at the port of foreign embarkation as having been found upon examination by him to be not affected with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases which would be sufficient to exclude such seaman from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

Sec. 26. (b) That masters, consignees, agents, owners, charterers, or lessees of any vessel entering in the United States from any place outside the United States shall, before such vessel departs from any port in the United States, deliver to the proper immigration officer at such port a complete and accurate list, in triplicate, of all alien seamen (except alien members of the crew who are employed on board such vessel and who intend to depart from the United States with such vessel upon her next departure from the United States) employed on such vessel upon her arrival in the United States, which list shall contain the name, nationality, last foreign residence, intended future residence, and length of time in the United States of each such alien seaman, and the date and port of his last arrival in the United States, and shall state whether he has been issued a certificate from a consular officer, and the number and date of such certificate, if any. Such list shall be verified by the master or commanding officer of such vessel by his signature thereto and the oath administered by the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall deliver an incomplete list, shall pay to the collector of customs at each port at which such vessel shall arrive a penalty of $10 for each such alien seaman concerning whom complete information is not furnished in such list, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of such penalty, or while any such alien seaman remains on board, unless a sufficient sum of money to pay such penalty shall be deposited with the collector of customs.

(c) If any master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel on which any alien seaman has arrived at any port of the United States shall fail to report the departure or the cause of failure to depart of any alien seaman, as required by the immigration laws and regulations, or if any such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at any port of the United States the certificate issued to such seaman by the consular officer at the port of foreign embarkation, as required by section 2 hereof, or if any such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at any port of the United States the list required by subdivision (b) of this section to be delivered by the master of such vessel, or if any such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall refuse or fail to pay any tax, fine, or penalty due by him under the provisions of this section, such master, consignee, agent, owner, charterer, or lessee of any vessel shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(d) Every alien who shall depart from the United States shall, before his departure, deliver to the master, commanding officer, purser, or agent of the vessel on which he departs, a true and correct statement, in triplicate, containing such information as may be required by the Attorney General, and the master, commanding officer, purser, or agent shall deliver such statement to the immigration officer at the port of departure. Any such master, commanding officer, purser, or agent who shall refuse or fail to deliver such statement shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(e) If any such master, commanding officer, purser, or agent shall report the departure or the cause of failure to depart of any alien seaman, as required by subdivision (c) of this section, he shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each such alien seaman, unless such alien seaman shall have been lawfully permitted to land temporarily or permanently in the United States, or shall have been taken from the vessel for medical treatment, or unless a verified statement shall be furnished to the satisfaction of the Attorney General showing that such alien seaman was prevented from departing from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived by sickness, accident, or other cause beyond his control, which statement shall be corroborated by the certificate of the United States consular officer, if any, at the port of foreign embarkation, as to the sickness, accident, or other cause.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel within the period of time fixed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of other aliens.

(g) It shall be the duty of the Attorney General to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and to prescribe such forms and issue such certificates as may be necessary for the proper administration thereof.

STATEMENT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

Crew will be employed at ports of stop including Kobe
(Master's signature)

I, the undersigned master of the vessel, do solemnly swear that the above and foregoing list is a true list of all aliens employed on board said vessel as members of the crew, and that it contains a full, true, and correct statement of the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and intended final destination of each alien so employed, and of the date, place, and manner of each alien's engagement; that no member of the crew has been or will be discharged, no substitute has been or will be employed, and no change has been or will be made in the crew, except by reason of death, desertion, or other unavoidable cause, to the knowledge or belief of the undersigned, without the consent of a duly authorized officer of the United States; that no alien has been or will be taken on board for employment in the United States except as specified in this list; that no alien on board will be allowed to land in the United States except as specified in this list; that no alien on board will be transferred to any other vessel within the United States without the consent of a duly authorized officer of the United States; that no alien on board will be allowed to leave the vessel while in port except in the performance of his duty; that a proper lookout will be maintained at all times while in port; and that the vessel will depart from the United States with all the aliens employed on board.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12 day of August 1948

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens on board vessels at ports of crew (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is in a "workhouse," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively applied to engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival and those destined in the port of arrival; to list contained in section 4 of this act to the Attorney General shall be furnished by the master of the vessel from which the alien is about to depart, or by the agent, consignee, owner, or master of such vessel, a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to the identification; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to the immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel during her stay in port, and the reasons for the employment of each of them; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of every vessel bound for a foreign port and clearing therefrom to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of her departure a list containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel during her stay in port, and the reasons for the employment of each of them: Provided, That the Attorney General may by regulations exempt from the provisions of this section aliens employed on such vessels touching at ports of the United States for a period of less than twenty-four hours.

SEC. 150.13. Limit of alien employees. When clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 136) has been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, and paid or made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or by reason of the United States Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or the Attorney General may prescribe for the purposes of this section, or to accompany a sick or injured member of the crew who is certified by the medical officer of the port to be unable to proceed to sea with the vessel, or for the purpose of receiving treatment in a hospital, or for burial, or pending the departure of such alien from the United States. (42 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone shall cause all the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), for medical treatment, or because of such illness or injury as would probably result in such seaman becoming a public charge, or because it is required by the Attorney General, or his duly authorized representative in the United States, except temporarily in the discretion of the immigration officer or the medical examiner in charge, or pending removal or hospital treatment or burial, or pending the departure of such alien from the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the application to the case of a sick alien concerning whom correct likes are not obtained or a true report of a medical officer of the Public Health Service certifies that in his opinion such alien is not likely to affect the welfare of the community or of any individual therein before the next inspection by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such certificate is noted on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States as a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrived shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection and admission, unless he shall be found by the Attorney General to be entitled to be admitted to the United States under any law or treaty then in force, or unless he shall depart from the United States on some vessel or aircraft within such time as the Attorney General may prescribe, and shall pay to the collector of customs the cost of his maintenance while detained, at a rate to be fixed in advance by the Attorney General, but not exceeding $3 per day, unless he shall deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or to give a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Attorney General shall not have received from the master of any vessel on which any alien seaman shall have arrived, or from the owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof, or from the immigration officer at the port of arrival, the certificate of the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service provided for in subdivision (a) of this section, or a notice of the allowance of an appeal from the decision of such medical officer, within the time allowed by subdivision (a) of this section, or if the Attorney General shall be satisfied that any such certificate was improperly issued, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act, and the cost of his maintenance while detained, at a rate to be fixed in advance by the Attorney General, but not exceeding $3 per day, unless he shall deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or give a bond with sufficient surety, approved by the collector of customs, to secure the payment thereof. The decision of the Attorney General shall be final as to the deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived under this section, except that such decision may be reviewed as provided in section 10 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, and not otherwise.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, HANS J. ANDERSEN MARTES, of the GREENSHIP - YARA, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel now and for my or hence during per interest voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as may render his removal from the United States, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, inadvisable, or for the purpose of obtaining surgical treatment which cannot be obtained on board, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or for such other reasons as may be deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, but only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the safeguarding of the public interest: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman who has been in the United States for a period of not less than five years immediately preceding his application for admission as a seaman, and who has married a citizen of the United States and has filed his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States prior to the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory of the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as may render his removal from the United States, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, inadvisable, or for the purpose of obtaining surgical treatment which cannot be obtained on board, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or for such other reasons as may be deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, any alien seaman employed on board any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or after inspection of each alien seaman on board vessel, after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer to the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the determination of the immigration officer that the alien seaman has complied with the requirements of this section, or has been granted permission to land temporarily by the Secretary of Labor, or has been granted clearance papers by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving in the United States subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart from the contiguous territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from such place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of the vessel or a designee, shall be prima facie evidence to the effect that such seaman has remained in the United States in violation of this Act.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any person has violated any of the provisions of this section, or any rule, regulation, or order thereunder, or has connived or conspired with any seaman to violate any of such provisions, rules, regulations, or orders, such person shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such violation, for which sum the vessel on which such seaman arrived shall be liable, and such penalty shall be a lien on such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may be found. Clearance papers shall not be granted to any vessel liable to such penalty, and the Secretary of Labor may refuse to grant clearance papers to any vessel which has refused to pay any such penalty assessed against it.

(43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 646; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board in the port of arrival; to list countries in which such information as to the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival of the vessel at which such alien may be entered, and before the vessel shall depart from the port, to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon as are then on the vessel, stating which of them have been rejected by the immigration officers, and the cause of such rejection, and the names of those, if any, who have been granted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, who have deserted or landed, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill vacancies; and such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall also report the cause of any alien employed on such vessel who is discharged or who shall die or leave such vessel, stating the name, birthplace, last residence, and destination of such alien, and the number of any certificate granted to him, and the name of the vessel on which he arrived; and such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall also report the cause of desertion or landing of any alien seaman, stating the name, birthplace, last residence, and destination of such alien seaman, and the number of any certificate granted to him, and the name of the vessel on which he arrived; and such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and on each vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of cabin or alien passengers or crew (Form I–418) shall not be destroyed or pulped, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, alphabetically arranged under the headings that were respectively printed or engraved, and specifying such facts to be said in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has before the departure of the vessel, without a description of such alien, together with the information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel to deliver at the time of the arrival upon the vessel, agent, consignee, or master to such immigration officers a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed, thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or had discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver either of the lists required by the Attorney General, for to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a sum equal to double the amount of such head tax, if in the event such sum is impossible, while it remains unpaid, not to exceed $300 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or tendered: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax. (39 Stat. 886–887; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless copies of the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), and by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 169) applicable to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fines prescribed by section 16 of said Act, have been delivered, the deposits specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, and paid or made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the act of the master in the United States from any place outside the United States, or because the services of such alien are required in the case of a vessel arriving at the port of destination, and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), and certified that in the opinion of such officer the admission of such alien is not prejudicial to the interests of the United States, and issued a permit to such alien to land temporarily, under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof bringing an alien (from foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands) to the United States shall be liable to a tax of $8 for each such alien, and no such vessel shall have clearance or be granted a permit to depart from any port or place in the United States until the tax imposed by this section has been paid or its payment assured to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (b) Any person who shall bring, land, or cause to be landed in the United States, by any means or in any manner, contrary to law, any alien, or who shall conceal, harbor, or shield from detection, or attempt to conceal, harbor, or shield from detection, any such alien in any place, including any building or any means of transportation, shall for each such alien be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien assumed on the vessel on which he arrived has been unduly delayed by the negligence of the master or owner of the vessel or the failure to comply with any of the requirements of the immigration laws, he may require the master or owner of the vessel to pay the cost of the maintenance of such alien while he is detained awaiting deportation, and may withhold clearance of the vessel on which such alien arrived or any other vessel owned by the master or owner of such vessel until such cost is paid or sufficient security therefor given to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than an immigrant inspector, or permit any alien seaman (which term, as used in this section and in section 19 hereof, means any master or member of the crew or other person employed on board any vessel while such vessel is in the United States) to land from such vessel at any port of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than an immigrant inspector, or permit any alien seaman (which term, as used in this section and in section 19 hereof, means any master or member of the crew or other person employed on board any vessel while such vessel is in the United States) to land from such vessel at any port of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Any such alien seaman may be permitted to land temporarily by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, in the discretion of and under such regulations as the Attorney General shall prescribe, but no such alien seaman shall be granted a period of temporary leave or parole longer than necessary for his medical treatment, or for the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or for his removal, deportation, or departure on some other vessel or otherwise from the United States. Such alien seaman shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens ordered deported. Deportation of such alien seamen may be made from any port at which the vessel on which he arrived may call, touch, or stop, and such seamen may be required to depart on any vessel or vessels which may be available, or may be placed on board any vessel or vessels which may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port. Such seamen may be required to perform such labor as may be required of them while in the United States by the immigration officer in charge of the port, or by the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the vessel on which they arrived, and may be detained on board the vessel or on shore in the discretion of the immigration officer in charge of the port pending the departure of the vessel from the United States. Compensation may be paid such seamen at such rate as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and the cost of their maintenance while detained on shore, and of their deportation, may be paid out of appropriations for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Any such seaman who refuses to perform labor required of him as provided herein, or who deserts or attempts to desert, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $500 or to imprisonment for not exceeding six months, or both.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the time which he has been in the United States, or for any other reason may in his discretion be deemed sufficient, he may cause such alien seaman to be granted a period of temporary leave not exceeding four months, subject to such conditions as to security, reporting, and such other matters as he may deem necessary, to be imposed by the immigration officer in charge of the port, and may cause such alien seaman to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expenses shall not be deemed clearance fees, but such expenses may be paid out of the appropriations for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(43 Stat. 164–165; 22 Stat. 816; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively examined and admitted to shore leave, and specifying those to be held for the payment of the head tax, and the reasons for the detention; and upon the departure of such vessel from any port of the United States it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which this oath or other information required by the immigration officers has been given, and to report the illness or hospital treatment of any alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left such vessel prior thereto or who have been discharged, and of all cases in which any such alien has deserted the vessel; and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists required by this section at the time of the departure of the vessel from any port of the United States, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, in addition to the penalty provided by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located (which penalty shall not be remitted), pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which are incurred subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit what requirements by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned at the foot of column (Form I–418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessels in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board when discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and such lists shall be verified by the oath of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to the best of his knowledge and belief. Any master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which vas shall have been illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any master, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which vas shall have been illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel at the time of the arrival but who may have left the vessel before the departure of the vessel from such port, or who may have been employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may have been discharged, and the cause or reason for the discharge of each such alien so employed, and the destination of each such alien, so far as known, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each such alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. Provided, That clearance papers shall not be withheld by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure is located for the failure of the master to deliver such lists or reports unless he has reason to believe that the same have been knowingly and willfully falsified, but the refusal of the master to deliver such lists or reports shall be reported to the Secretary of the Treasury and to the Attorney General. (39 Stat. 884–888; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board vas vessel arriving in the United States from vas place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unnvas to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of vas vessel arriving in the United States from vas place outside thereof, other than a Canadian or Mexican port, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels entering ports of the United States on and after July 1, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from vas place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence to vas failure to deport such alien seaman, unless such alien shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such failure to deport arises from circumstances beyond the control of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be treated clearance fees, and shall be in addition to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and may be used for delivery to the immigration inspector possible the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be prepared in not less than duplicate for each such port. One list of members of each race or people (Form I–418) shall not be detached and posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. After examination of each alien, such officer will return to the master a notation to that effect which shall be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens assigned, including names of arriving American citizens assigned as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether they are destined to the United States or not, and if any such persons are not destined to the United States, the list or manifest shall also state the final destination of each such person. Such list or manifest shall be prepared in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be verified by the oath of the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of the vessel, administered by any officer of the United States authorized to administer oaths to passengers arriving at ports of entry in the United States. Any master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any such vessel who refuses to deliver such list or manifest, or who fails to include therein the name of any person on board such vessel, or who inserts therein the name of any person who will not be duly admitted into the United States by the immigration officers at the port of arrival, or who refuses to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge and belief any question touching the right of any person on board such vessel to enter the United States asked by any officer of the United States charged with the execution of the laws thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such person in respect to whom such default, refusal, or false statement occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of any such fine, or while the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer thereof refuses to pay the same, or while any such person remains on board thereof. Any such fine may be sued for and recovered by the United States, or may be remitted or refunded in whole or in part by the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be final. Clearance may be granted to any such vessel upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to pay such fine, or of a bond with sufficient sureties approved by the collector of customs conditioned for the payment of such fine when imposed. Duplicate lists or manifests shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at by such vessel en route to the United States. Such officer may, in his discretion, require the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any such vessel to make oath to the correctness of the list or manifest with respect to the last two ports or places touched at by such vessel prior to the departure therefrom for the United States. Such officer may also require such master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer to make oath to the correctness of such list or manifest with respect to any or all persons on board such vessel as to their right to enter the United States under the provisions of the immigration laws. Such officer may administer any such oath required by this section, and may detain such vessel for a period not exceeding two hours after the same shall have been brought to the dock for the purpose of examining the list or manifest and the persons on board, or for the purpose of having any such oath administered. Any master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who refuses to deliver such list or manifest in accordance with the provisions of this section, or who refuses to administer such oath or to answer any question authorized by this section to be asked by an immigration officer, or who fails to detain any alien on board any vessel when ordered by such officer so to do, or who refuses to carry any alien who has been ordered excluded from the United States by such officer to the port from which such vessel came to the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any vessel touching at a port in the United States from any foreign port to deliver to any immigration officer a list or manifest concerning any alien who is in possession of a diplomatic passport, or who is the bearer of official documents of a recognized foreign government, or who is an official thereof, or who is in charge of property belonging to any such government, or who is en route to take up a position as a member of the family of any person hereinbefore described, or who is the servant of any such person: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of such vessel shall furnish to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at by such vessel en route to the United States a list containing the name and description of each alien so entitled to enter the United States under the provisions of this section, and the reason why such alien is entitled to such entry, which list shall be verified by the oath of such master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer.

(f) Every alien who shall depart from the United States shall be required, before he embarks, to deliver to the master of the vessel on which he intends to depart a signed statement setting forth the following information in regard to such alien: Full name, age, sex, race, nationality, last residence, calling or occupation, whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, whether he has ever been in the United States before, if so, when and where, whether he has been deported or has ever applied for permission to enter the United States, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether an anarchist, whether going to perform labor and if so what kind, the name and address of the person who has sent for him, the amount of money in his possession, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether he has been assisted by any society or person in defraying the expenses of his journey, and whether he has a relative or friend in the country to which he goes, and if so what relative or friend, and his address. Such statement shall be subscribed by the alien in the presence of the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of the vessel, who shall certify on the statement that it was subscribed in his presence by the alien, and the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of the vessel shall deliver a duplicate of such statement to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at by such vessel en route to the United States. Such officer may, in his discretion, require the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer to make oath to the correctness of such statement with respect to any or all persons on board such vessel as to their right to enter the United States under the provisions of the immigration laws. Such officer may administer any such oath required by this section, and may detain such vessel for a period not exceeding two hours after the same shall have been brought to the dock for the purpose of examining the list or manifest and the persons on board, or for the purpose of having any such oath administered. Any master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who refuses to deliver such list or manifest in accordance with the provisions of this section, or who refuses to administer such oath or to answer any question authorized by this section to be asked by an immigration officer, or who fails to detain any alien on board any vessel when ordered by such officer so to do, or who refuses to carry any alien who has been ordered excluded from the United States by such officer to the port from which such vessel came to the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any vessel touching at a port in the United States from any foreign port to deliver to any immigration officer a list or manifest concerning any alien who is in possession of a diplomatic passport, or who is the bearer of official documents of a recognized foreign government, or who is an official thereof, or who is in charge of property belonging to any such government, or who is en route to take up a position as a member of the family of any person hereinbefore described, or who is the servant of any such person: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of such vessel shall furnish to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at by such vessel en route to the United States a list containing the name and description of each alien so entitled to enter the United States under the provisions of this section, and the reason why such alien is entitled to such entry, which list shall be verified by the oath of such master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer.

SEC. 10. No alien seaman entering from adjacent into the United States under the immigration visa may be employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign port or place, except temporarily for emergency repairs or overhaul, or in case of the substitution of one seaman for another of the same nationality, or unless specifically authorized by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and then only for the period specified in the authorization. Any alien seaman who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), as amended by section 14 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166).

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER . . .

The list described below shall be prepared on plain white paper approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port to arrive at first; but shall on no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of the crew to be examined by the immigration officer at the port of first arrival (form I–418) shall not be declared on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman, including a native of the "Western Hemisphere," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel from foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or other officer in charge of the vessel in the United States from which such vessel departs, to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list of all persons on board such vessel, showing the full name, nationality, last permanent residence, calling, and destination of each person who may be in the United States or who may depart therefrom, and such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and such other information relative to the persons on board as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which list shall be prepared in such manner and form and contain such additional information as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. The master, purser, or other officer in charge of the vessel shall subscribe to the truth of said list before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall, at the time of so subscribing, deliver to said officer a certificate of the medical officer of the vessel as to the sanitary condition of the vessel and the health of the officers and crew, and shall furnish to said officer such other certificates as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by any person or persons designated by him to examine passengers, as provided in section 16 of this Act, before any such passengers are landed in the United States. Said list shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before any passengers are landed from the vessel, and shall be produced whenever required for inspection by any immigration officer, or person or persons designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration to examine passengers, until the inspection of passengers is completed. Said list shall be signed and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master, purser, or other officer in charge of the vessel, who shall certify at the footing of said list that the same is a true and correct list of all persons on board said vessel who have been inspected by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that any person whose name is not included in said list has not been so inspected. Such list shall be filed and preserved by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall be subject to the inspection of any person who is authorized to examine passengers who may be landed from said vessel. Any master, purser, or other officer in charge of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or to deliver a separate list for each immigration district in which passengers are landed, or who shall refuse or neglect to make oath to the same, or to certify to the correctness thereof, or to produce the list when required, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to any immigration officer any certificate required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, as to the sanitary condition of the vessel or the health of the officers and crew thereof, or any part thereof, or to furnish any information required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, relative to the persons on board, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and may be refused a clearance from the port by the collector of customs until he shall have complied with the requirements of this section to the satisfaction of the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Any master, purser, or other officer in charge of any vessel who shall land or permit to be landed any alien from such vessel at any port in the United States, except for the purpose of inspection by the immigration officers at the port, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board any alien whenever ordered so to do by the immigration officers at the port, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed or detained, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and may be refused a clearance from the port by the collector of customs until he shall have complied with the requirements of this section to the satisfaction of the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Any master, purser, or other officer in charge of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to report, list, detain on board, land, or deliver, or who shall report, list, land, or deliver contrary to the provisions of this section any alien, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any duty required of him by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, in connection with the departure of any alien, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the tax imposed by this section, or who shall violate any of the provisions of this section, for which a penalty is not otherwise prescribed, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and may be refused a clearance from the port by the collector of customs until he shall have complied with the requirements of this section to the satisfaction of the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor.

(b) Every alien who is liable to be deported from the United States under the immigration laws of the United States, and who shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States on board any vessel, shall be detained on board or at quarantine or at such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall not be allowed to land at any port in the United States, except temporarily when necessary for the purpose of such vessel, until a bond, with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000, as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall be given that such alien will not land in the United States. Such bond shall be in force for a period not exceeding one year, as may be fixed by the immigration officer at the time of the giving thereof, and may be renewed at the discretion of the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, for a further period not exceeding one year. Any such bond may be sued upon in the name of the United States in the event of a breach of the conditions thereof, and may be prosecuted in the district court of the United States for the district in which the principal office of the immigration officer who required the bond is located, or in which the vessel arrived in the United States, or in which the alien was found, or in which suit may be brought against the surety on the bond. The Attorney General shall have charge of the prosecution of all suits instituted hereunder.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of accident, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the sufficient detention of such alien seamen on board vessels or at Ellis Island, and shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory and adjacent islands (which territory and islands for the purposes of this section shall include Cuba, Mexico, Newfoundland, and the Canal Zone) any alien (other than an alien crewman) who has been refused admission to the United States, or who fails to remain in accordance with the conditions under which he was granted admission, shall pay the cost of his maintenance while he is detained at a station maintained by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and the cost of his transportation to the port from which he came to the United States, or to such other port as may be designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, unless such alien is admitted to the United States or is sooner removed therefrom. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to the payment of the charges imposed by this section, or while any such charges are unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such charges or of a bond with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000, as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, conditioned for the payment of such charges when determined.

(b) Every alien who is liable to be deported from the United States under the immigration laws of the United States, and who shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States on board any vessel, shall be detained on board or at quarantine or at such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall not be allowed to land at any port in the United States, except temporarily when necessary for the purpose of such vessel, until a bond, with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000, as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall be given that such alien will not land in the United States. Such bond shall be in force for a period not exceeding one year, as may be fixed by the immigration officer at the time of the giving thereof, and may be renewed at the discretion of the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, for a further period not exceeding one year. Any such bond may be sued upon in the name of the United States in the event of a breach of the conditions thereof, and may be prosecuted in the district court of the United States for the district in which the principal office of the immigration officer who required the bond is located, or in which the vessel arrived in the United States, or in which the alien was found, or in which suit may be brought against the surety on the bond. The Attorney General shall have charge of the prosecution of all suits instituted hereunder.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master (owner) to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port at which said vessel shall arrive a complete list of all persons on board said vessel, whether they be cabin passengers or steerage passengers, and whether they be citizens of the United States or aliens, and if aliens whether they have been lawfully admitted to the United States or not, and whether they are in possession of United States certificates of registry or not, and shall answer such questions touching the right of any of them to enter the United States as may be put to him by said immigration officer; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to detain on board or within the confines of the dock at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel any alien who has been refused a landing certificate by the immigration officer, and to prevent the departure of such alien from the port except upon the permission of the immigration officer in charge of the port or his assistants, and to report the name of such alien to the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival within twenty-four hours after such refusal, and to take such alien before the commissioner of immigration for his further examination if required by him, and to perform such duties and furnish such information in relation to the removal of such aliens from the United States as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of this section or with any lawful rule or regulation prescribed by the Secretary of Labor for the enforcement of the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $300 for each and every such refusal or failure, for which sum the vessel shall also be liable, and may be libeled therefor in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of the port at which such vessel may arrive. Clearance may be withheld or granted in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor under such regulations as he may prescribe.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States who shall refuse or fail to deliver on board such vessel, upon the demand of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a correct list of all the persons on board such vessel, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver on board such vessel, upon the demand of such immigration officer, a sufficient number of lists to enable him to forward one list as required, or who shall refuse or fail to answer truthfully and completely to the best of his knowledge and belief all questions touching the right of any person on board such vessel to enter the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to detain on board such vessel, when required so to do by such immigration officer, any person liable to be excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and conveyed on board such vessel destined to the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to such immigration officer any person on board such vessel concerning whom such immigration officer may demand information before the departure of such vessel from the port at which such demand is made, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with any lawful order or requirement of any such immigration officer relative to the detention on board or the removal from such vessel of any person liable to be excluded from admission into the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to report, list, detain on board, or deliver to the custody of the proper immigration officer any stowaway concealed on such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the determination of the liability to payment of such fine or any part thereof has been made, or a sum sufficient to cover the same has been deposited to abide such determination or to answer such judgment as may be rendered thereon, and such clearance may be withheld, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, or any part of the fine imposed may be remitted or refunded, upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not embark upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the immigration officer at the port of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or detain such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the determination of the liability to payment of such penalty has been made, or a sum sufficient to cover such penalty has been deposited to abide such determination or to answer such judgment as may be rendered thereon, and such clearance may be withheld, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, or any part of the penalty imposed may be remitted or refunded, upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because detained by quarantine officials, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because detained by quarantine officials, or because of the destruction of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall refuse or fail to detain on board such vessel, upon the demand of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a correct list of all the persons on board such vessel, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver on board such vessel, upon the demand of such immigration officer, a sufficient number of lists to enable him to forward one list as required, or who shall refuse or fail to answer truthfully and completely to the best of his knowledge and belief all questions touching the right of any person on board such vessel to enter the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to detain on board such vessel, when required so to do by such immigration officer, any person liable to be excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and conveyed on board such vessel destined to the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to such immigration officer any person on board such vessel concerning whom such immigration officer may demand information before the departure of such vessel from the port at which such demand is made, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with any lawful order or requirement of any such immigration officer relative to the detention on board or the removal from such vessel of any person liable to be excluded from admission into the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to report, list, detain on board, or deliver to the custody of the proper immigration officer any stowaway concealed on such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the determination of the liability to payment of such fine or any part thereof has been made, or a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not embark upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the immigration officer at the port of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the determination of the liability to payment of such penalty has been made, or a sum sufficient to cover the same has been deposited with the collector of customs in the customs district in which the port of arrival is located and the amount of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, which deposit may be remitted or refunded, upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the medical examiners of the Service (from one to three), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by the medical examiners), or who fails to obtain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by the medical examiners of the Service of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the determination of the liability to payment of such penalty has been made, or a sum sufficient to cover such penalty has been deposited with the collector of customs in the customs district in which the port of arrival is located and the amount of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, which deposit may be remitted or refunded, upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the medical examiners of the Service (from one to three

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

This form must be used in manifesting private aliens. All entries must be printed in ink or typewritten and must be in the English language.

A separate form, or as many as are needed, must be prepared for first cabin, second cabin, tourist third cabin, and third-class passengers, except that where the number of passengers in all classes does not exceed 30, all classes may be shown on one form with the names grouped according to class and the name of the class at the top noted. Separate manifests separate aliens from nonimmigrants as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924. The names of all aliens immigrants should be grouped on the manifest separate from nonimmigrants as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924. The names of the members of a family should be in the same sequence, so far as possible, as shown on the same manifest sheet when two or more consist from the same locality; and it is very strongly urged that all members of a family be shown on the same page.

Columns 1 to 17 are to be filled in by the alien himself or herself, or by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel, or by some one else for the alien, but in the English language. Answers must be written in ink or typewritten and must be in the English language.

Column 1 (Number on list).—Number persons consecutively, beginning with 1 in each class.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or to secure other seamen to replace him, or unless specifically certified by the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted him permission to land, or who fails to deport any alien seaman (which immediate a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), to or who fails to deport any seaman on board such vessel after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer to the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens unemployed to June 2, 1940.

(b) Fines shall be a lien against such vessel, which may be enforced by the issuance of such vessel as a process, shall be prior to any lien or encumbrance to which such vessel may become subject after the commencement of the proceedings in which such process is issued, and such vessel may be seized and detained by order of any court of competent jurisdiction until such fine is paid or until a bond or undertaking with sufficient surety in such amount as may be fixed by such court, conditioned upon the payment of such fine, shall be given by the owner, master, consignee, or agent of such vessel.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such assessment shall not be remitted, discharged, or in any way affected thereby, to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, whether they were respectively shipped to or engaged, and whether they have been supplied with certificates from a board of special inquiry and medical officer, and the names of all such aliens who have been discharged from such vessel since the departure from the last foreign port, and the cause of such discharge, and the names of all aliens who have been employed upon such vessel and who have died during such period, and the cause and circumstances of death, and the destination of each of such aliens who have been discharged, and the name of the vessel on which they sailed or intend to sail, and the final destination of each of such aliens, so far as known, and such information shall be kept and recorded by the master of such vessel, and produced on demand of any immigrant inspector, and shall be prima facie evidence in favor of the United States in any proceeding brought for the purpose of enforcing the penalties provided for in this section. Any master who refuses to deliver such lists, or who refuses to give the information contained therein, or who refuses to permit any immigrant inspector to board such vessel for the purpose of examining the same, or who refuses to detain any alien on board thereof when requested so to do by any immigrant inspector, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the illness, physical condition, or necessities of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except for such time as may be necessary to enable such vessel (which includes a person, human or mechanical, which may perform the duties of a vessel) to depart from a port or place in the United States, and any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel having on board any alien who has been refused a visa by the Secretary of State, or who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental defects which would be ground for exclusion of such alien from the United States under section 2 of this Act, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport, or other travel document, or such visa, if required under the regulations prescribed by the Secretary of State, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien, and also to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien who arrives in the United States on board such vessel and lands therefrom, or who lands from such vessel after arrival in the United States, whether destined to the United States or not, unless such alien shall have been specially inspected and admitted by an immigrant inspector, or unless such alien shall have been duly transferred to another vessel and specially inspected and admitted by an immigrant inspector, or unless such alien shall have been specially inspected and admitted by an immigrant inspector at a subsequent port of arrival in the United States. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of which has failed to pay any penalty imposed by this section, or any bond given for the payment of such penalty may be sued for and recovered by any collector or customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not embark from the foreign territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall be on the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and in the absence of such proof such alien seaman shall be presumed to have been landed in the United States, and a penalty shall be imposed as provided in subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that adequate provision and reasonable facilities have been made available in the foreign port for the detention of aliens seamen, including the names of arriving Canadian citizens as well as aliens.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector stationed at the port of arrival, and shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port." (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to a penalty or pending the payment thereof, or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not embark from the foreign territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel in accordance with the provisions of section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence for the purposes of this section that such alien seaman was not lawfully entitled to be admitted to the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that adequate provision and reasonable facilities have been made available in the foreign port for the detention of aliens seamen, and that a vessel has sailed from such port without having detained therein any alien seaman specified by the Attorney General, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien seaman.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Recording on separate manifests prescribed by the so-called contract class, whose rates begin the initials of technical warfare, and those whose rates do not bear such initials. The names of all members of a family should begin on the same manifest about when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate rows to a family should begin upon the same manifest about when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Name). Family name first, then given names. Titles, such as Mr., Mrs., Miss, Dr., Rev., etc., should be omitted. Initials may be used for middle names.

Column 2 (Age). The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 3 (Married or single). The entry should be either M (married), S (single), W (widowed), D (divorced).

Column 4 (Calling or occupation). The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien, as, for example: Clerk, engineer, mechanical engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, farmer, laborer, servant, cook, tailor, etc., but not vague terms, such as "laborer," "servant," "boy," "girl," etc. Do not use terms indicating nationality.

A distinction should be made between terms that mean laborers, terms that indicate the amount of money owned, as follows:

A farmer is one who operates a farm, either for himself or for others.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the man who operates it.

Agricultural laborers should make this distinction on the manifests, but correction of the entries should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of aliens.

Column 5 (Head-tax status).—Agricultural lines should make no entries in this column. The space is for use of Government officials only.

Column 6 (Age).—The terms in this column should be expressed in years or months, the latter applying only to those under 1 year of age.

Column 7 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 8 (Married or single).—The terms should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), D (divorced).

Column 9 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien, as for example: Clerk, engineer, mechanical engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, farmer, laborer, servant, cook, tailor, etc., but not vague terms, such as "laborer," "servant," "boy," "girl," etc. Do not use terms indicating nationality.

A distinction should be made between farming and farm laboring, terms which are frequently misunderstood, as follows:

A farmer is one who operates a farm, either for himself or for others.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the man who operates it.

Agricultural laborers should make this distinction on the manifests, but correction of the entries should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of aliens at the time of their arrival.

Column 10 (Nationality).—Write the country of which the alien is a citizen or subject. If a stateless person, write "Stateless."

Column 11 (Race or people).—The terms in this column should be expressed in terms of the following descriptions: "Anglo-Saxon," "English," "Irish," "Scotch," "Welsh," "German," "Hebrew (Semitic)," "Italian (Latin)," "Spanish," "French," "Portuguese," "Dutch," "Flemish," "Scandinavian," "Norwegian," "Swedish," "Danish," "Finnish," "Russian," "Polish," "Bohemian (Czech)," "Slovak," "Slovenian," "Croatian," "Servian," "Ruthenian," "Magyar," "Roumanian," "Greek," "Lithuanian," "Turkish," "Armenian," "Syrian," "Japanese," "Chinese," "Hindu," "Korean," "Indian (American)," "Mexican," "Negro," "Negro (African)," "Pacific Islander," "East Indian," "Black," "Brown," "Red," or "Mixed." Do not use terms "Celtic," "Latin," "Slavonic," "Teutonic," "Alpine," "Hamitic," "Semitic," "Mongolian," "Oriental," "Aryan," "Australian," "American," or "European," as the race of a people is usually a mixture of several races, and the immigration Act of 1924 involves the question of race to a large degree.

Column 12 (Last residence).—Write the country of which the alien is a subject, citizen, or denizen, as the case may be, and not the place of birth, unless the same as the country of residence.

Column 13 (Final destination).—Write the name of the city or town, and state, if possible, for which the alien intends to go.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the illness or injury of the master, or because of the inability of the vessel to depart from the port, or for the purpose of obtaining repairs necessary for the safety of such vessel while in port, or because the master has been required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart with such vessel on board which he arrived or on board some other vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been notified of such seaman's intended departure and has consented thereto, or who fails to report to the proper immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel, or who shall conceal himself on board such vessel or on the dock or pier at which such vessel is docked prior to the departure of such vessel from such port, or who fails to depart on some other vessel or by some other means within such time as the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival may direct, or who shall refuse to be examined by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, or who shall refuse to submit to the physical examination provided for by such immigration laws and regulations as may be applicable to him, or who shall refuse to be vaccinated when ordered so to be by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155).

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contrary to the provisions of section 13 of this Act, or who fails to deport any seaman who has been employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been notified of such seaman's intended departure and has consented thereto (after such medical examination of such seaman as may be required by the regulations of the Secretary of Labor), or who fails to deport any seaman as required by such immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel from the United States, or who fails to report the illness or injury of the master, or the inability of the vessel to depart from port, or the necessity of obtaining repairs necessary for the safety of such vessel while in port, or who fails to report the concealment on board such vessel of any seaman who has been employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been notified of such seaman's intended departure, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty in not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of date of entry.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the territory of the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall not be entered on the proper list of the master, shall be taken into custody and detained on board or at such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, pending the decision as to the cause of detention. The cost of such detention and of the maintenance of such alien seamen shall be paid by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, and such vessel shall be liable therefor and may be detained by the collector of customs until such cost is paid or a sufficient bond given to secure the payment thereof.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any foreign vessel has on board at any port in the United States any alien seaman who has been refused a landing permit by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and that the vessel has sailed or is about to sail from such port without the consent of such immigration officer, the Attorney General may request the Secretary of the Treasury to withhold clearance of such vessel, and upon receipt of such request the Secretary of the Treasury may refuse clearance of such vessel or may revoke any clearance already granted. Any vessel so refused clearance shall be subject to a penalty of $300 for each alien seaman with respect to whom such request is made, and such penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

I. [illegible] of the [illegible] do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during the term of service of the said vessel, and that the following is a correct statement from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The line described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the time the vessel at the port of arrival (Form I-419 shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate destination (Form I-426) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of departure. Such list shall contain the names of all aliens embarking at such port, together with such information as may be required by the immigration officer, in the discretion of the Attorney General, and shall be prepared in the order of the following columns, the headings of which may be printed on the list:

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens embarking at such foreign port or place, the last permanent residence of each such alien, whether a citizen or subject of any country or place, his calling or occupation, whether he can read or write, his sex, his age, his marital condition, whether single, married, widowed, or divorced, the name and birthplace of each such alien, the name and last permanent residence of the nearest relative or friend who such alien was joining in the country whence he came, the name and address of the person who paid for his passage, the amount of money in his possession, whether he has been in the United States before, whether he has been in prison or in a almshouse or an institution for the insane or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previous promise or agreement to furnish him employment, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether he has been deported or excluded from the United States and if so when and why, whether he is coming for a temporary visit only, whether he intends to return to the country whence he came after a visit to the United States, whether he is under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, his height, complexion, the color of his hair and eyes, any distinctive mark or scar, and whether he is married or single, and such other facts as may be required by the Attorney General for the proper administration of the immigration laws and the enforcement of the duties of the officers in connection therewith. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States shall not permit any such alien to land from such vessel at any port in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, unless a list has been delivered as required by this section, and then only to such extent as the Attorney General may prescribe, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been furnished with such information as he may require for the purpose of enabling him to determine whether any such alien is subject to exclusion under the immigration laws, and has issued to such alien a permit to land, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer authorized to grant clearance papers until the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel has delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a certificate that he has complied with the provisions of this section to the best of his knowledge and belief. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or deliver a false list, or refuse to allow the immigration officer to go on board such vessel for the purpose of examining the persons on board, or refuse to detain on board any alien immigrant specified in such list for examination, or refuse to deliver to the immigration officer any such alien immigrant detained on board, or refuse to detain such alien on board or to deliver such alien to the immigration officer at the time of departure of such vessel from a subsequent port, or refuse to pay the tax imposed by section 2 of this Act in the case of such alien immigrant, or refuse to comply with the regulations prescribed by the Attorney General governing the admission of aliens to the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel shall arrive at any port in the United States the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such violation occurs, which sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which she may arrive; but such vessel shall have clearance granted her before the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, exceptional circumstances may be shown after such deposit, in which case the Secretary of the Treasury may direct the refunding of such deposit, or any part thereof, to the person entitled thereto. Such vessel may also be libeled for any penalty incurred on account of any alien who may come in contrary to law, and clearance may be refused to any vessel against which such libel is filed until the final determination of the matter, but such vessel may be released upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty. Such penalty shall constitute a lien upon such vessel which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may arrive. The Attorney General may, upon application, in his discretion, remit fines and penalties which may accrue under the provisions of this section in such manner and to such extent as he may deem just and proper. Such remission, however, shall have no effect upon any action or proceeding commenced before the application is granted nor upon any seizure subsequently made. All such fines and penalties shall be paid to the collector of customs, and by him deposited in the Treasury of the United States. Any such fine or penalty not paid upon the final adjudication of the case shall be collected by the proper district attorney upon the certification of the facts by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application, in his discretion, remit fines and penalties which may accrue under the provisions of this section in such manner and to such extent as he may deem just and proper. Such remission, however, shall have no effect upon any action or proceeding commenced before the application is granted nor upon any seizure subsequently made. All such fines and penalties shall be paid to the collector of customs, and by him deposited in the Treasury of the United States. Any such fine or penalty not paid upon the final adjudication of the case shall be collected by the proper district attorney upon the certification of the facts by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes to alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a nonalien to limit effort should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate aliens seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and respectively from what ports they were last transferred, as far as the information can be ascertained, and the nationality of each alien. Such lists shall be prepared in the form and manner and contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be delivered to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master who refuses or fails to deliver such lists, or who refuses to permit any immigrant inspector to board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or who refuses or fails to deliver to any such inspector any such information in his possession concerning any such alien, shall pay a penalty of $300 for each such offense: Provided, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to any sum not less than $100 for each such offense. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty or any part thereof upon the payment of costs and such portion of any penalty as he may deem reasonable, after full consideration of the circumstances connected with the violation in respect of which any penalty is incurred. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine or penalty, and such vessel shall be granted clearance papers upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or penalty or the execution of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall have been employed on board any vessel while in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall refuse to depart on board any vessel manifesting such vessel as a seaman, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain an order of the Attorney General under this act, and may be arrested by the warrant of such Attorney General, and shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration officer at the Attorney General's discretion. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States for a longer period than thirty days after the vessel on which he arrived shall have departed without the permission of the Attorney General

In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival by vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, what nations they were respectively published or expected, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival; to list separately the names of aliens destined to depart from the United States after touching at such port; to report the sickness or death of any such alien during the voyage; and to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of any such vessel at such port a correct list of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent residence, and intended destination of each alien, together with such information likely to lead to the identification of such alien as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been employed thereon at any time during the period intervening between the arrival and departure, respectively, or so to report such changes, or masters so to deliver lists of the aliens last employed on board such vessel, and to report the sickness or death of any such alien during the voyage, and to deliver to the proper immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel who have been discharged, and the cause of the discharge, and the destination of each such alien, together with such information likely to lead to the identification of such alien as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe. Any master, agent, consignee, or master who refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section, or who refuses to answer questions concerning the persons employed on board such vessel, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may remit, upon such terms as the Attorney General may prescribe, fines in part or in whole incurred under this section, and shall report to Congress at the beginning of each regular session all cases in which fines have been remitted, stating the name of each person in respect of whom such fine was incurred, the amount of such fine, and the reasons for remission. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which may be incurred under any immigration law.

(d) Every alien seaman who does not depart from the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

Every alien passenger and seaman (while inspection is in progress) and every alien member of the crew, coming to the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be examined by one or more medical officers of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival, or at such other place as may be designated by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival, and shall not be admitted unless found not to be afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease: Provided, That any such alien who is certified by the medical officer at the port of arrival as afflicted with such disease may be admitted provisionally for treatment at a hospital designated by the Attorney General, but only if the Attorney General has first given his permission and has made suitable arrangements for such treatment. Any such alien not admitted shall be deported in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who is not certified to be free from such disease and who is not otherwise inadmissible shall be granted a period of not more than seventeen days in which to obtain treatment and be certified to be free from such disease, before he shall be deported. Any such alien seaman who is not certified to be free from such disease after seventeen days shall be deported in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or by reason of the necessities of the vessel, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the shipping or discharging of such alien seamen from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to deport on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel upon the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (which deportation shall be in addition to any other penalty provided by law), or who fails to deport any alien seaman (other than an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence) when ordered to do so by the Attorney General, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located such sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, as the Attorney General may prescribe, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer of the customs authorized to perform the functions of such officer, or, after the expiration of ten days from the granting of such clearance papers, by any other officer of the customs, while such vessel remains within the jurisdiction of the United States, unless such sum is paid or unless a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or in a sum sufficient to cover such sum and the probable costs of the detention of such vessel, is deposited with the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same upon such terms and conditions as he shall deem proper.

(b) Proof shall be taken on behalf of the United States before the collector of customs, or such other officer as may be designated by the Attorney General in the discretion of such officer to determine the case, and the certificate of such officer shall be conclusive as to the facts therein stated. Any such vessel may be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs, or such other officer, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient in the opinion of such officer to cover the penalty which may be incurred under this section, or upon the production of a bond to the United States with sufficient surety, conditioned for the payment of such penalty as may be incurred under this section, approved by the Attorney General or by such person as he may designate for the purpose.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien ordered deported under any provision of the immigration laws is impracticable or inadvisable because such alien is a seaman, he may permit such alien to depart temporarily from the United States upon such conditions as he may prescribe, and such alien shall be deemed to be within the custody of the Attorney General for the purpose of arrest and deportation at any time and under any circumstances. Any such alien who shall fail to depart from the United States upon the expiration of the time specified by the Attorney General or who shall depart from the United States without the permission of the Attorney General shall be deemed to have violated the provisions of section 251 of this title. (43 Stat. 161–162; 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members, Form I-418, is to be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 26. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are destined to the United States, and such other information as to the nationality, last permanent residence, and intended final destination of such aliens as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and visits the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of aliens shall be required as to vessels arriving from foreign ports at such ports as the Attorney General may designate. Such lists shall be subject to the inspection of any immigrant inspector, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall furnish such additional information relative to such aliens as may be required by the Attorney General. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses to furnish such information, or to permit the inspection of such lists, or who knowingly lists falsely or fails to list in the manifest any alien required to be listed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to enter such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the lists required by this section, or who refuses to allow the physical examination of any alien by the medical officer, or who refuses to detain any alien when required so to do, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the certificate of inspection issued by the consular officer at the port of foreign departure, or who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the crew thereof

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of them, if any, who have been discharged in the port or during the voyage; to answer all questions which may be put to them by such immigration officer touching the persons on board such vessel, their nationality, last residence, and intended final destination, and the purpose and length of their intended stay in the United States; and to produce for the inspection of such officer any and all documents in their possession relating thereto. The master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who is ordered excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board the vessel in any capacity whatsoever, or who is certified by the examining surgeon as afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be detained on board or at quarantine as the immigration officer in charge may direct, and it shall be the duty of the master to report the illness or death of any such alien, and to deliver to such officer a full and correct list of the names of all aliens who may have been taken from such vessel while in port, and of the destination of each. Any master who refuses to comply with the requirements of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 36. That the immigration officers and their assistants shall have power to go on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port for the purpose of inspecting the same and the manifests of aliens employed thereon, and to detain such vessel at the port of arrival until the provisions of this section have been complied with. Any master who refuses to allow such officers to go on board his vessel for the purpose aforesaid, or who refuses to detain such vessel at the port of arrival until such officers shall have had sufficient time to complete the inspection of the manifests of aliens employed thereon, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense. Any master who knowingly brings to the United States any alien employed on board his vessel who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who is a person who has been deported or excluded from admission into the United States and who has not received a new permit for admission, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the limit required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171) have been complied with and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 183) against each alien employed, the deposit specified in §§ 150.21–150.71, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness of such alien seaman, or for the necessary repairs of such vessel, or pending the departure of such vessel, or for such other reasonable cause as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor or by such person or persons as he may designate or appoint, or the transportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 20. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory who fails to deport on board thereof any alien seaman employed on such vessel liable to be refused admission to the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such alien seaman on board such vessel being found by such immigration officer or the medical examiners), shall pay a tax of $10 for each such alien seaman so deported, which shall be a lien upon such vessel, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for any district into which such vessel may enter or in which she may be found. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such tax, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond fully sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall have been duly entered and admitted to the United States on board any vessel and who shall desert or attempt to desert while in the United States shall be deported to the country to which the master of such vessel may elect to return him, at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that such desertion did not arise from the cruelty or bad treatment of such seaman, or from the failure of the master to provide adequate and sufficient food during the voyage, or that the vessel on which such seaman arrived in the United States has been sold while in the United States to a bona fide purchaser, or that such seaman has been engaged in the United States on board another vessel which is about to depart from the United States, and such vessel is certified by the immigration officer at the port of departure to be in need of such seaman, and such seaman is certified by such immigration officer to be desirable as a member of the crew of such vessel, and such vessel departs from the United States within five days after such desertion. Such deportation shall be at the cost of the vessel on which such seaman arrived in the United States, and the master of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each such seaman who is not so deported, which shall be a lien upon such vessel, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for any district into which such vessel may enter or in which she may be found.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen or the vessel on which they arrived in the United States will result in undue hardship, such alien seaman may be permitted to remain in the United States for such time as he may deem necessary, not to exceed five years from the date of such finding, under such conditions as he may prescribe, and shall not be required to pay the tax imposed by this section.

(d) Proof shall be made in such manner and form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and produced to the collector of customs before clearance shall be granted any vessel required to pay the tax imposed by this section, or to deport any alien seaman, and such proof shall be preserved by the collector of customs.

(e) It shall be the duty of the master of any vessel on which any alien seaman arrives in the United States to report the illness or death of such seaman, and to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a full statement in writing concerning the sickness or death of such seaman, and the medical treatment administered therefor, and

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from a foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port or place at which the vessel shall first arrive, or to such officer as may be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization for the purpose, a complete list of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last known residence, and calling of each such alien, and specifying the foreign port at which such alien embarked and the port in the United States at which he intends to land. Such list shall be delivered before the vessel is granted entry, except that in the case of vessels arriving from foreign contiguous territory the list may be delivered within such time after entry as may be prescribed by regulations to be made by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Upon the arrival of such vessel at each subsequent port at which it may touch before discharging all alien passengers previously inspected at a port of first arrival, a supplemental list shall be delivered containing the names of all such alien passengers who have been taken on board since the previous list was delivered. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or supplemental list, or who shall refuse or neglect to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases of aliens employed after the vessel has left the last port at which such list was delivered, stating the reasons for the employment of such alien, together with such other information relative to each such alien as the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may require, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port is located a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be refunded if it is proved that such alien was duly admitted to the United States by the Attorney General, or to have been lawfully in the United States prior to the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which it sailed: Provided, That clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall have made oath before a duly authorized officer that the matters and things set forth in the lists or manifests of such vessel with respect to aliens are true to the best of his knowledge and belief, and that he has complied with the provisions of this section relative to the delivery of such lists or manifests.

SEC. 150.18. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 141), as amended, and not then unless notice of compliance therewith has been served upon the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel by an immigrant inspector. Such notice shall be served only after the vessel has been inspected and the lists or manifests of aliens examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure or by a consular officer at the last foreign port at which the vessel touched, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer has been informed that the vessel is admitted to pratique. Clearance may be withheld by the collector of customs for any of the following reasons:

(a) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel refuses to furnish the information called for by the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure with respect to any alien employed on such vessel.

(b) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel refuses to furnish the information called for by the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure with respect to any alien employed on such vessel who has been ordered excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, or who has been certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to be afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease.

(c) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel refuses to furnish the information called for by the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure with respect to any alien employed on such vessel who has been ordered excluded from admission into the United States upon the completion of the physical examination by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service.

SEC. 20. (a) The master, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel writing in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory who refuses to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a complete list of all passengers, or members of the crew, who are to be landed at such port, showing the full name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether married or single, whether in possession of a ticket, whether in possession of money, and the amount thereof, whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, whether ever before in the United States, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or prepaid ticket or otherwise, and whether in the possession of a through ticket to destination, and if not, what amount he has paid for such ticket, and by whom paid, and whether any part of such ticket is to be refunded, and if so, by whom, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be refunded if it is proved that such alien was duly admitted to the United States by the Attorney General, or to have been lawfully in the United States prior to the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which it sailed, and then only if the owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place from which such alien sailed had no reason to believe that such alien was not lawfully entitled to enter the United States, and had taken from such alien a sworn statement before the consular officer at the last foreign port or place from which such alien sailed setting forth the matters and things required to be stated in the lists or manifests of such alien with respect to which the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel is required to report, and had delivered such statement to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, but shall be relieved by the Secretary of Labor from the payment of such penalty or any part thereof when it appears to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the vessel was unable to depart from a foreign port or place within the period limited by the agents thereof, or that such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has taken due care to ascertain the facts concerning the matters and things required to be reported, and has reported the same to the best of his knowledge and belief: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof imposed under the provisions of this section when it shall appear that the vessel arrived at the port of departure in distress, or was forced into port by stress of weather, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel had no reason to believe that any person on board was an alien, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has since the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which such alien sailed reported the name of such alien, and all the facts in connection with his coming on board the vessel, to the proper officer of the United States at the port of arrival, and has detained such alien on board the vessel or delivered him to the custody of such officer, or has given a bond to the United States, with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien, as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, conditioned for the production of such alien to a medical officer for examination, and for the delivery of such alien to the proper immigration officer when required to do so, or for the payment of the penalty in case such alien is found in the United States in violation of the immigration laws. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of remission of any penalty incurred under the provisions of this section, but the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be rendered within ten days from the date of application therefor, unless the vessel shall sooner depart.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, and every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, shall be reported by the master of such vessel to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and such master shall deliver to such officer a list containing the name, age, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each such alien seaman, and the vessel on which he arrived. Such list shall be delivered before the vessel is granted clearance, and such master shall not be granted clearance until each such alien seaman has been duly reported. Any master who fails to report the departure of any alien seaman as herein required shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port is located a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question relating to the payment of such penalty, but the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be rendered within ten days from the date of application therefor, unless the vessel shall sooner depart.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that determination of the alien seamen on the vessel on which they arrived would cause undue delay in the departure of such vessel, or that for any other reason it is not practicable to detain such alien seamen on board such vessel, he may require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel on which they arrived to deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the maintenance of such alien seamen pending the completion of the determination of their cases, and such sum shall not be refunded until the cases of such alien seamen have been finally determined. Such sum may be remitted in whole or in part by the Secretary of Labor if he finds that the vessel was unable to depart from a foreign port or place within the period limited by the agents thereof, or that such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has taken due care to ascertain the facts concerning the matters and things required to be reported, and has reported the same to the best of his knowledge and belief, and that such vessel was forced into port by stress of weather, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel had no reason to believe that any person on board was an alien, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has since the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which such alien sailed reported the name of such alien, and all the facts in connection with his coming on board the vessel, to the proper officer of the United States at the port of arrival, and has detained such alien on board the vessel or delivered him to the custody of such officer, or has given a bond to the United States, with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question relating to the payment of such penalty, but the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be rendered within ten days from the date of application therefor, unless the vessel shall sooner depart.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, and every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, shall be reported by the master of such vessel to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and such master shall deliver to such officer a list containing the name, age, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each such alien seaman, and the vessel on which he arrived. Such list shall be delivered before the vessel is granted clearance, and such master shall not be granted clearance until each such alien seaman has been duly reported. Any master who fails to report the departure of any alien seaman as herein required shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port is located a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question relating to the payment of such penalty, but the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be rendered within ten days from the date of application therefor, unless the vessel shall sooner depart.

(g) If the Attorney General finds that determination of the alien seamen on the vessel on which they arrived would cause undue delay in the departure of such vessel, or that for any other reason it is not practicable to detain such alien seamen on board such vessel, he may require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel on which they arrived to deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the maintenance of such alien seamen pending the completion of the determination of their cases, and such sum shall not be refunded until the cases of such alien seamen have been finally determined. Such sum may be remitted in whole or in part by the Secretary of Labor if he finds that the vessel was unable to depart from a foreign port or place within the period limited by the agents thereof, or that such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has taken due care to ascertain the facts concerning the matters and things required to be reported, and has reported the same to the best of his knowledge and belief, and that such vessel was forced into port by stress of weather, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel had no reason to believe that any person on board was an alien, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has since the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which such alien sailed reported the name of such alien, and all the facts in connection with his coming on board the vessel, to the proper officer of the United States at the port of arrival, and has detained such alien on board the vessel or delivered him to the custody of such officer, or has given a bond to the United States, with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question relating to the payment of such penalty, but the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be rendered within ten days from the date of application therefor, unless the vessel shall sooner depart.

(h) If the Attorney General finds that determination of the alien seamen on the vessel on which they arrived would cause undue delay in the departure of such vessel, or that for any other reason it is not practicable to detain such alien seamen on board such vessel, he may require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel on which they arrived to deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the maintenance of such alien seamen pending the completion of the determination of their cases, and such sum shall not be refunded until the cases of such alien seamen have been finally determined. Such sum may be remitted in whole or in part by the Secretary of Labor if he finds that the vessel was unable to depart from a foreign port or place within the period limited by the agents thereof, or that such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has taken due care to ascertain the facts concerning the matters and things required to be reported, and has reported the same to the best of his knowledge and belief, and that such vessel was forced into port by stress of weather, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel had no reason to believe that any person on board was an alien, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has since the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which such alien sailed reported the name of such alien, and all the facts in connection with his coming on board the vessel, to the proper officer of the United States at the port of arrival, and has detained such alien on board the vessel or delivered him to the custody of such officer, or has given a bond to the United States, with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question relating to the payment of such penalty, but the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be rendered within ten days from the date of application therefor, unless the vessel shall sooner depart.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel until such alien seaman shall have been granted a landing permit by the Secretary of Labor, or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for the purpose, and such permit shall not be granted to such alien seaman if he is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities for the exclusion of which provision is made by section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1917, or if it appears that he belongs to any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States by the immigration laws, or if he is destined to any country other than the country to which he belongs or in which he resides, or if he intends to enter the United States for any purpose other than to land temporarily in the course of his employment, or if he has been refused a visa by the consular officer to whom he has made application therefor. Such permit may be granted to such alien seaman for the period of his employment on board the vessel on which he arrives, or for a definite period of not to exceed four months, and may be revoked by the Secretary of Labor at any time and the alien seaman required to depart from the United States on any vessel writing in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory, shall be required by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel to report and deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of all such alien seamen employed on such vessel, stating their full names, ages, last permanent residence, calling, nationality, and final destination, and specifying the foreign port at which each such alien seaman embarked and the port in the United States at which he intends to land. Such list shall be delivered before the vessel is granted entry, except that in the case of vessels arriving from foreign contiguous territory the list may be delivered within such time after entry as may be prescribed by regulations to be made by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Upon the arrival of such vessel at each subsequent port at which it may touch before discharging all alien passengers previously inspected at a port of first arrival, a supplemental list shall be delivered containing the names of all such alien passengers who have been taken on board since the previous list was delivered. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or supplemental list, or who shall refuse or neglect to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases of aliens employed after the vessel has left the last port at which such list was delivered, stating the reasons for the employment of such alien, together with such other information relative to each such alien as the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may require, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port is located a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be refunded if it is proved that such alien was duly admitted to the United States by the Attorney General, or to have been lawfully in the United States prior to the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which it sailed, and then only if the owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place from which such alien sailed had no reason to believe that such alien was not lawfully entitled to enter the United States, and had taken from such alien a sworn statement before the consular officer at the last foreign port or place from which such alien sailed setting forth the matters and things required to be stated in the lists or manifests of such alien with respect to which the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel is required to report, and had delivered such statement to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, but shall be relieved by the Secretary of Labor from the payment of such penalty or any part thereof when it appears to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the vessel was unable to depart from a foreign port or place within the period limited by the agents thereof, or that such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has taken due care to ascertain the facts concerning the matters and things required to be reported, and has reported the same to the best of his knowledge and belief, and that such vessel was forced into port by stress of weather, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel had no reason to believe that any person on board was an alien, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has since the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which such alien sailed reported the name of such alien, and all the facts in connection with his coming on board the vessel, to the proper officer of the United States at the port of arrival, and has detained such alien on board the vessel or delivered him to the custody of such officer, or has given a bond to the United States, with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question relating to the payment of such penalty, but the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be rendered within ten days from the date of application therefor, unless the vessel shall sooner depart.

(i) If the Attorney General finds that determination of the alien seamen on the vessel on which they arrived would cause undue delay in the departure of such vessel, or that for any other reason it is not practicable to detain such alien seamen on board such vessel, he may require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel on which they arrived to deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the maintenance of such alien seamen pending the completion of the determination of their cases, and such sum shall not be refunded until the cases of such alien seamen have been finally determined. Such sum may be remitted in whole or in part by the Secretary of Labor if he finds that the vessel was unable to depart from a foreign port or place within the period limited by the agents thereof, or that such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has taken due care to ascertain the facts concerning the matters and things required to be reported, and has reported the same to the best of his knowledge and belief, and that such vessel was forced into port by stress of weather, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel had no reason to believe that any person on board was an alien, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer in charge of the vessel has since the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which such alien sailed reported the name of such alien, and all the facts in connection with his coming on board the vessel, to the proper officer of the United States at the port of arrival, and has detained such alien on board the vessel or delivered him to the custody of such officer, or has given a bond to the United States, with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question relating to the payment of such penalty, but the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be rendered within ten days from the date of application therefor, unless the vessel shall sooner depart.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector stationed the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of mind memorandum made on the list of crews (Form 598) shall not be destroyed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When no arrival manifest is required by the "monthly" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry list containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively naturalized or admitted to citizenship, and the names of the ports at which they severally declared their intention to become citizens, and the names of the ports from which they severally came to the United States, and the length of time they have been employed on board such vessel; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, at the port of arrival, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has deserted or illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, at the port of arrival, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of any such alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel but who have been employed on board thereof at the time of the departure of the vessel, and also the names of those, if any, who have been added to and discharged, and the cause or reason why each was discharged, so far as known; and it shall be the duty of the master of such vessel to report the illness or injury of any alien passenger or crew member occurring on the vessel during the journey, specifying the name, nature, and probable cause of such illness or injury, and the steps taken in connection therewith, and the name of any such person who died during the journey, and the cause and circumstances of each such death, and the final disposition of the body of each such person. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section, or who knowingly or willfully reports or causes or procures to be reported falsely or fraudulently any matter or thing concerning any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any fine collected under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, shall have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, casualty, or emergency, or for the sole purpose of repatriation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel shall furnish to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and before inspection of any alien seaman employed on such vessel full information as to the nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each such alien seaman (which information in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), together with such additional information relative to the identity of any such seaman as may be required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, as shall be set forth in the manifest of the vessel in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or in a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(b) Every such alien seaman shall not appear upon the contract articles of the vessel on which he arrives in the United States or upon the articles of any vessel on which he departs therefrom until he has been duly registered and has received a certificate of identification from the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such certificate shall be surrendered by such seaman upon his departure from the United States. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States without having been registered and obtained such certificate of identification, or who shall fail to produce such certificate upon his departure from the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any fine collected under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is ready to depart from the United States, cannot be effected without undue delay, he may, in his discretion, permit the alien seaman to depart upon the vessel on which he arrived or upon any other vessel which may be ready to depart, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or changes or additions thereto, or failure to prepare and deliver the same when and where they were respectively required, or failure to report to such immigration officer in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; the refusal of the master of a vessel to detain any alien employed on such vessel, failure the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and discharged in the port of arrival; or this list completed as to such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and failure of the master of a vessel to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has deserted, counseled, or attempted to induce any seaman employed on such vessel, or to desert or to neglect to join his vessel or other vessel at any port or place in the United States from which such vessel sails for a foreign port, or any attempt by any such seaman to secure his discharge in order to remain in the United States, or any violation of the immigration laws by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel, or by any officer or employee thereof, in respect to any such seaman, shall be unlawful and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Clearance may be withheld by the collector of customs from any vessel which has been granted clearance papers if the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge thereof has been convicted of violating the immigration laws, or if the vessel has departed without the payment of any fine or penalty imposed upon the master or owner thereof for violation of the immigration laws, or without the deposit of sufficient security therefor, until such fine or penalty has been paid or such security approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be examined by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or at such other place as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, whether or not such alien has been in actual contact with any carrier, vessel, or vehicle while en route. Such examination shall be conducted in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and shall have precedence over the examination of aliens seeking admission at such port or place. Such examination shall be conducted by immigration officers specially detailed for such purpose by the Secretary of Labor. Every alien who is found upon such examination to be clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to enter the United States shall be so admitted. Every alien who is not found upon such examination to be so entitled to enter the United States shall be detained for further inquiry in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Every alien who is not clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to enter the United States shall be detained for further inquiry in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Every alien who is not clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to enter the United States shall be detained for further inquiry in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall deem any alien dangerous to the welfare of the United States because of his connection with any organization or group which advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or which disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or which advocates the assassination of public officials, or which advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property, he may cause such alien to be taken into custody and shall cause a warrant for his deportation to be issued. Such warrant shall specify the charges against such alien and shall direct that such alien be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing upon such charges. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, admit such alien to the United States under such conditions as he may prescribe, but only upon the giving of a bond or undertaking approved by the Secretary of Labor, in such form and amount as he may prescribe, and with sufficient sureties, conditioned upon the production of such alien to the Secretary of Labor when required for a hearing or examination or for deportation. Such bond or undertaking shall not be required in the case of any alien who is a member of a class which has been or may thereafter be specifically exempted by the Secretary of Labor. Such bond or undertaking may be cancelled, and the surety released from further liability thereon, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor. Upon the giving of such bond or undertaking the Secretary of Labor may grant such alien a reasonable parole from custody under the warrant, and may at any time revoke such parole and rearrest such alien under the warrant. Unless so released on bond or parole, such alien shall be detained in custody pending the final determination of his case. Pending such final determination, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, make such provision as he deems necessary for the support of such alien during detention or parole. Any alien who shall willfully fail or refuse to appear or remain in accordance with the terms of such bond or undertaking shall be deemed to have violated the provisions of this section relating to such bond or undertaking, and such bond or undertaking may be sued for the amount thereof by the United States in any court of competent jurisdiction, and shall be forfeited to the United States unless such condition be remitted by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien who shall be released on parole under the provisions of this section shall be subject at any time to rearrest upon the warrant under which he was originally arrested and detained, and shall be liable to deportation notwithstanding the pendency of any suit instituted by him or on his behalf to recover any such bond or undertaking or any part thereof.

VERIFICATION OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly on said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the cause of each death and the date and place thereof, and the name and last place of residence of each person who has left the vessel during the voyage, and the cause for which he left her, and have entered in the log-book the name of each person who joined the vessel during the voyage, and the place where he joined, and the time he has served. I have delivered to the proper officer of customs at the first port of arrival in the United States to which the vessel comes directly from a foreign port a correct list containing the name of every seaman who has been discharged from the vessel during the voyage, and the place where and the time when he was discharged, and have indorsed the fact of such delivery on the agreement with the crew. I have also made a declaration before the proper officer of customs at the first port of arrival in the United States to which the vessel comes directly from a foreign port that the list of seamen by me delivered is in all respects true and complete to the best of my knowledge and belief, and that I have not, nor has any person to my knowledge or belief, secreted, detained, or concealed any seaman or any part of the wearing apparel or property of any seaman who has died during the voyage, or any person who has left the vessel during the voyage, except as appears from the list of seamen delivered by me to the proper officer of customs.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, steamer line operating such vessel, or the captain or commanding officer in charge of the port or vessel listed last outbound as much of such information as may be required by regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor in the form or forms in which such information shall be supplied, and such additional information relative to such persons as the Secretary may from time to time require, and to make oath to the correctness of such information before any officer authorized to administer oaths for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this section. Such information shall be delivered by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamer line operating such vessel to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's entry at the port of arrival, but no such information shall be required from any person who has been duly admitted to the United States on a previous entry and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamer line operating such vessel who shall refuse to furnish in whole or in part the information required by this section, or who shall furnish information in response thereto which shall be false in whole or in part, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamer line operating such vessel who shall refuse to deliver to the proper officer of customs the list required by this section shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above specified: Provided, That clearance shall not be withheld by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above specified: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such disputed question upon deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, suits if commenced therefor, and the sum deposited as security for the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, suits if commenced therefor, and the sum deposited as security for the payment of such fine shall be returned to the depositor or his legal representative: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such disputed question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or for the sole purpose of obtaining clothing or supplies, or making repairs, or awaiting transportation, or pending the sailing of the vessel upon which he is employed or the departure of another vessel within a reasonable time upon which he is entitled to be employed, and such seaman may be required to furnish a bond in such amount and with such sureties as may be deemed necessary to insure that he will depart from the United States within the period for which he is granted the privilege of landing. Upon the failure of any such seaman to depart from the United States in accordance with the terms of the bond, or any extension thereof, the bond shall be forfeited and recovered by and in the name of the United States in like manner as other bonds are forfeited and recovered. Any such seaman who departs from the United States shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens. The cost of maintenance and treatment of any such seaman pending his departure from the United States, if he is unable or has neglected to defray such cost, shall be a lien against any vessel on which he arrived, which lien may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel upon which a seaman who has been ordered deported is employed until the cost of maintenance and treatment of such seaman has been paid or sufficient funds for such purpose deposited with the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who has been granted the privilege of landing temporarily in the United States as provided in this section, and who remains therein for a period in excess of that granted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who departs from the United States on a vessel other than that on which he arrived, unless specifically permitted by the Commissioner General of Immigration to depart on another vessel, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens. The cost of maintenance and treatment of any such seaman pending his departure from the United States, if he is unable or has neglected to defray such cost, shall be a lien against any vessel on which he arrived, which lien may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel upon which a seaman who has been ordered deported is employed until the cost of maintenance and treatment of such seaman has been paid or sufficient funds for such purpose deposited with the collector of customs.

(c) It shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamer line operating any vessel on which any alien seaman arrives in the United States, upon the departure of such vessel, to report to the Commissioner General of Immigration the name of each alien seaman who has been granted the privilege of landing temporarily in the United States, the length of time for which such privilege was granted, and the date of the departure of such seaman from the United States. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamer line operating any vessel on which any alien seaman arrives in the United States who shall fail to report the departure of such seaman from the United States shall pay a penalty of $100 for each such failure, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamer line to the payment of such penalty or any part thereof, and such penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, whose decision shall be final.

(d) Every alien seaman who has been granted the privilege of landing temporarily in the United States as provided in this section, and who remains therein for a period in excess of that granted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who departs from the United States on a vessel other than that on which he arrived, unless specifically permitted by the Commissioner General of Immigration to depart on another vessel, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens. The cost of maintenance and treatment of any such seaman pending his departure from the United States, if he is unable or has neglected to defray such cost, shall be a lien against any vessel on which he arrived, which lien may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel upon which a seaman who has been ordered deported is employed until the cost of maintenance and treatment of such seaman has been paid or sufficient funds for such purpose deposited with the collector of customs.

(e) It shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamer line operating any vessel on which any alien seaman arrives in the United States, upon the departure of such vessel, to report to the Commissioner General of Immigration the name of each alien seaman who has been granted the privilege of landing temporarily in the United States, the length of time for which such privilege was granted, and the date of the departure of such seaman from the United States. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamer line operating any vessel on which any alien seaman arrives in the United States who shall fail to report the departure of such seaman from the United States shall pay a penalty of $100 for each such failure, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamer line to the payment of such penalty or any part thereof, and such penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, whose decision shall be final.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, E. L. Scott, of the U. S. S. INDIA MAIL, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 8, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 35, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

E. L. Scott
Master [illegible]

Sworn to before me this Twenty-first day of March, 1924.

[illegible]
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel by the principal immigration officer at the port, Where an alien seaman is a native American citizen seaman as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 28. That upon arrival at the United States from the foreign port of place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on the vessel, whether they are to be landed or not, and where they were respectively born, and the last permanent foreign residence of each, together with such additional information concerning them as may be required by the Commissioner General, which lists shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department, and specify: the name of the vessel; the name, nationality, and calling of the master; the names of the ports from which and to which the vessel sailed; the number of cabin passengers; the number of steerage passengers; the number of the crew; and the names, ages, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of all aliens employed or who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon for debarkation in the United States, and the name of the vessel by which they will depart; and shall be signed by the master of the vessel. Prior to the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed or who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who have left the vessel since the previous list was delivered, stating the cause for such departure: and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill such vacancies, and the names of those, if any, who have deserted as far as the master can ascertain. Prior to the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed or who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will not depart therein, stating the cause for such failure, and the name of the vessel by which they intend to depart. Any violation of the provisions of this section by any such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such violation occurs.

SEC. 29. That upon the arrival of any vessel from a foreign port at any port of the United States the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge thereof shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection a list or manifest of all aliens on board such vessel, which list or manifest shall be prepared in such form and contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof. Failure to deliver such list or manifest at the time of inspection shall be unlawful, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall be severally liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien not listed therein, which penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Commissioner General, whose decision shall be final as to the amount to be exacted. Any such penalty may be sued for and recovered by the United States, or may be deducted from the head tax required to be paid by such vessel to the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall refuse to permit any immigrant inspector to go and remain aboard such vessel while she remains in port for the purpose of inspecting the passengers and crew thereof, or who shall refuse to detain any alien on board such vessel when required so to do by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver lists or manifests required by section 28 hereof, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver lists or manifests required by section 29 hereof, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of the immigration laws or any rules, regulations, or orders made pursuant thereto, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien on board such vessel when required so to do by any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse or fail to report, detain, or deport any alien on board such vessel when required so to do by the Commissioner General of Immigration or any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the head tax provided for by section 2 hereof, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the cost of maintenance and treatment of any sick alien as provided by section 17 hereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. The master of any vessel bringing an alien who becomes a public charge within two years after his arrival in the United States from causes existing prior to his landing, shall pay the cost of his maintenance and support while a public charge, if the inability to pay for the same by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel could have been ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence before the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port, and such cost may be recovered from him in the same manner as penalties under this section may be recovered.

(b) Front and rear alien seamen did not appear upon the articles of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States from a foreign port, or were not reported by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or were not produced for examination, or who shall have been allowed to land temporarily and have failed to return to the vessel within the period for which granted, or who have been reported as having deserted the vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. The master of any vessel bringing an alien who becomes a public charge within two years after his arrival in the United States from causes existing prior to his landing, shall pay the cost of his maintenance and support while a public charge, if the inability to pay for the same by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel could have been ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence before the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port, and such cost may be recovered from him in the same manner as penalties under this section may be recovered.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien cannot be effected by reason of failure of the country to which such alien is destined to accept him, or by reason of the refusal of the consular officer to issue the necessary passport, or for other cause, the alien may be required to remain in the United States for such period as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, and shall be subject to such limitations as to residence, travel, employment, and reporting to the immigration officers of the United States as the Attorney General may prescribe.

SEC. 31. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration law but employed on board the vessel arriving in the United States from a place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital, or until the vessel is ready to depart from the United States, or be detained in the United States after the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, except in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, pending examination of the medical certificate, removal, or deportation of such alien seaman.

SEC. 32. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall refuse to detain any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or to detain such seaman on board such vessel after such inspection and to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, or who shall refuse or fail to collect or cause to be collected from any such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs the cost of maintenance and treatment of such alien seaman in the hospital, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the cost of such maintenance and treatment, or who shall refuse or fail to deposit with the Secretary of Labor a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or to give a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, stipulate such bonds to not less than $500 for each seaman in lieu of the deposit of such sum, and cancel such bonds when the purpose thereof has been accomplished.

(b) Front and rear alien seamen did not appear upon the articles of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States from a foreign port, or were not reported by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or have failed to return to the vessel within the period for which granted, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. The master of any vessel bringing an alien who becomes a public charge within two years after his arrival in the United States from causes existing prior to his landing, shall pay the cost of his maintenance and support while a public charge, if the inability to pay for the same by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel could have been ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence before the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port, and such cost may be recovered from him in the same manner as penalties under this section may be recovered.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien cannot be effected by reason of failure of the country to which such alien is destined to accept him, or by reason of the refusal of the consular officer to issue the necessary passport, or for other cause, the alien may be required to remain in the United States for such period as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, and shall be subject to such limitations as to residence, travel, employment, and reporting to the immigration officers of the United States as the Attorney General may prescribe.

SEC. 33. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration law but employed on board the vessel arriving in the United States from a place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital, or until the vessel is ready to depart from the United States, or be detained in the United States after the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, except in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, pending examination of the medical certificate, removal, or deportation of such alien seaman.

The master of any vessel bringing an alien who becomes a public charge within two years after his arrival in the United States from causes existing prior to his landing, shall pay the cost of his maintenance and support while a public charge, if the inability to pay for the same by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel could have been ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence before the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port, and such cost may be recovered from him in the same manner as penalties under this section may be recovered. (42 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien cannot be effected by reason of failure of the country to which such alien is destined to accept him, or by reason of the refusal of the consular officer to issue the necessary passport, or for other cause, the alien may be required to remain in the United States for such period as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, and shall be subject to such limitations as to residence, travel, employment, and reporting to the immigration officers of the United States as the Attorney General may prescribe. (42 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 33. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration law but employed on board the vessel arriving in the United States from a place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital, or until the vessel is ready to depart from the United States, or be detained in the United States after the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, except in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, pending examination of the medical certificate, removal, or deportation of such alien seaman.

SEC. 150.13 Illness of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be delayed when a vessel shall have complied with the laws relative to the administrative duties prescribed by section 30 of the act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 131) unless notice of illness to the master of such vessel has been received by the collector of customs at least four hours before the vessel is scheduled to depart. Such notice shall be in writing and shall state the name, nationality, and calling of the alien, the nature of his illness, and the name and address of the physician in charge. Upon receipt of such notice the collector shall refer the matter to the medical officer of the port, if there be one, or to a physician designated by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, for examination of the alien. If the medical officer or physician finds that the alien is suffering from a quarantinable disease, he shall issue a certificate to that effect, stating the name, nationality, and calling of the alien, the nature of his illness, and the name and address of the physician in charge. Upon receipt of such certificate the collector shall withhold clearance of the vessel and shall notify the master thereof in writing. The vessel shall not be granted clearance until such certificate is withdrawn by the medical officer or physician who issued it, or by the medical officer of the port, if there be one, or by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service. (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 131) penalty been waived, the deposit specified in §§ 150.11—150.17, has been made.

SEC. 28. That upon arrival at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on the vessel, whether they are to be landed or not, and where they were respectively born, and the last permanent foreign residence of each, together with such additional information concerning them as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, which lists shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department, and specify: the name of the vessel; the name, nationality, and calling of the master; the names of the ports from which and to which the vessel sailed; the number of cabin passengers; the number of steerage passengers; the number of the crew; and the names, ages, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of all aliens employed or who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon for debarkation in the United States, and the name of the vessel by which they will depart; and shall be signed by the master of the vessel. Prior to the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed or who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who have left the vessel since the previous list was delivered, stating the cause for such departure: and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill such vacancies, and the names of those, if any, who have deserted as far as the master can ascertain. Prior to the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed or who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will not depart therein, stating the cause for such failure, and the name of the vessel by which they intend to depart. Any violation of the provisions of this section by any such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, same or any part thereof, not in excess of the amount of the fine imposed, shall be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 886-888; 8 U. S. C. 141.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital, or until the vessel is ready to depart from the United States, or be detained in the United States after the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, except in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, pending examination of the medical certificate, removal, or deportation of such alien seaman. (42 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall refuse to permit any immigrant inspector to go and remain aboard such vessel while she remains in port for the purpose of inspecting the passengers and crew thereof, or who shall refuse to detain any alien on board such vessel when required so to do by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver lists or manifests required by section 28 hereof, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of the immigration laws or any rules, regulations, or orders made pursuant thereto, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien on board such vessel when required so to do by any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse or fail to report, detain, or deport any alien on board such vessel when required so to do by the Commissioner General of Immigration or any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the head tax provided for by section 2 hereof, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the cost of maintenance and treatment of any sick alien as provided by section 17 hereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court, and upon conviction thereof by any district court of the United States shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court, and shall be deported upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, pursuant to law. The master of any vessel bringing an alien who becomes a public charge within two years after his arrival in the United States from causes existing prior to his landing, shall pay the cost of his maintenance and support while a public charge, if the inability to pay for the same by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel could have been ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence before the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port, and such cost may be recovered from him in the same manner as penalties under this section may be recovered. (42 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Front and rear alien seamen did not appear upon the articles of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States from a foreign port, or were not reported by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or have failed to return to the vessel within the period for which granted, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. The master of any vessel bringing an alien who becomes a public charge within two years after his arrival in the United States from causes existing prior to his landing, shall pay the cost of his maintenance and support while a public charge, if the inability to pay for the same by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel could have been ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence before the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port, and such cost may be recovered from him in the same manner as penalties under this section may be recovered. (42 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien cannot be effected by reason of failure of the country to which such alien is destined to accept him, or by reason of the refusal of the consular officer to issue the necessary passport, or for other cause, the alien may be required to remain in the United States for such period as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, and shall be subject to such limitations as to residence, travel, employment, and reporting to the immigration officers of the United States as the Attorney General may prescribe. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members or crews (Form I 418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That from arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or other officer in charge of the port of arrival, to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are not citizens of the country whose flag the vessel flies, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or so much later as delays in the discharge of cargo or other circumstances may render necessary, and no such seaman shall be employed on board any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seaman on board such vessel or at the office of the United States immigration officer at the port, or such other place as the Attorney General may designate, and certified in writing on the list delivered as aforesaid that in his opinion such seaman is not affected with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient to debar him from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and has complied with the requirements of the immigration laws in all cases which have come to his knowledge or could have been ascertained by reasonable inquiry and examination: Provided, That the Attorney General may prescribe the manner in which the duties required of masters by this section shall be performed: Provided further, That the Attorney General may prescribe rules and regulations governing the inspection of seamen on board vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign contiguous territory.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical examination, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (8 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or so much later as delays in the discharge of cargo or other circumstances may render necessary, and no such seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, or in case of the subsequent deportation of such alien from the United States. (8 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

(b) Any such alien seaman who (1) at any time after inspection or to deport such seaman on board which such inspection or to deport such seaman on board which such inspection officer or the Attorney General is to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond sufficient therefor with sureties approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or cause to be delivered on board prior to the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival such alien seaman.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived at the expense of the vessel or which he master, such vessel may be libeled to such seaman be may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or it be proved to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master of the vessel has certified to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure that the number of aliens employed on board the vessel does not exceed the number allowed by the certificate issued by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and that no alien has been employed in violation of section 18 of the Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 166; 8 U. S. C. 171), nor has any alien been employed in violation of section 3 of the Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 874; 8 U. S. C. 173), nor has any alien been employed whose entry has been refused by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, unless such refusal has been reversed by the Secretary of Labor or by the Board of Review, Immigration and Naturalization Service, or unless such alien has been admitted upon appeal, or has been granted a visa by a consular officer, or has been admitted upon the certificate of a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service that he is suffering from a contagious disease which endangers the public health, or unless such alien has been admitted by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and such fact has been reported by the master of such vessel to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and such alien has been granted a landing permit by such immigration officer, or unless such alien has been admitted by the Secretary of Labor, or by the Board of Review, Immigration and Naturalization Service,

LIST OR MANIFEST OF ALIENS EMPLOYED ON THE VESSEL AS MEMBERS OF CREW

Required under Act of Congress of February 3, 1917, to be delivered to the United States immigration officer by the representative of the vessel before such alien shall be granted shore leave, or in case of the departure of the vessel from a foreign port for a port in the United States.

(Include aliens employed in any capacity on board vessel, such as surgeons, pursers, cooks, stewards, firemen, etc.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of the necessity for such relaxation as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer in accordance with the regulations of the Attorney General so to do, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of which a bond sufficient to secure the payment thereof, has been deposited by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel with the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable alien seamen irrespective of the date of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign country, or of the date of the vessel on which he shall depart therefrom.

(b) Every alien seaman shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign country, or of the vessel on which he shall depart therefrom, until he has been certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival to the master of such vessel as a seaman lawfully entitled to be admitted temporarily to the United States, or has been granted a landing permit, or has been certified by the Attorney General.

(c) It shall be unlawful for any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave temporarily to remain beyond the period of such leave or to accept employment in any capacity on board any vessel other than that on which he arrived in the United States, unless he has been granted permission so to do by the Attorney General. Any alien seaman who violates any of the provisions of this subsection shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States. (43 Stat. 164–167, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 168 (a), 168 (c).)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who sign articles in the port of arrival; to list separately all aliens who are not in possession of such immigration visé as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor; to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; to report before the departure of any such vessel if such be the fact that no such alien has been employed; and to report at the time of the arrival and departure of such vessel the name of every alien employed thereon at the time of such arrival or departure who is not a citizen of the United States, and such information as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor concerning the same. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, and to a like penalty in the case of each alien not reported before departure, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs until the amount of such penalties has been determined and paid or a sufficient bond given to insure payment thereof: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit with the collector of customs of such sum as he may require not exceeding the amount of the penalties which may be incurred by reason of the departure of such vessel: Provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the payment of such penalties upon the deposit of the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered as above provided, or the execution of a bond with sufficient surety in double the amount of such penalties conditioned for the payment of such penalties as may be incurred under the provisions of this section, which bond shall not be void upon the payment of such penalties or any part thereof that may be incurred, but shall be void upon the production of a certificate from the Secretary of Labor showing that no such penalties have been incurred or that the same have been paid in full, or that a part thereof only has been incurred or paid, stating the amount so incurred or paid. (39 Stat. 886–890; 8 U. S. C. 171 (a), 171 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival and cause to be delivered to the Immigration Inspector boarding the vessel for the purpose of inspecting the seamen on board, but alien seamen employed on such vessel, examine the boarding certificates and other documents of each alien seaman, and ascertain the number of aliens employed on board each vessel when such vessel shall depart from each port of the United States, and report the same to the Commissioner-General of Immigration at the time of the departure of such vessel from each port. Any master who shall refuse or fail to deliver the list required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to ascertain the facts stated therein, or who shall refuse or fail to report the number of aliens employed on board his vessel when required so to do by the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival or the Commissioner-General of Immigration, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a like penalty for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished: but no such penalty shall be imposed, while it remains unpaid, upon any vessel from which any alien has been allowed to land, or has been taken off for medical treatment, until the case of such alien has been finally decided by the Secretary of Labor. Clearance shall not be granted by the collector of customs to any vessel having on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel whose name does not appear on the list of alien seamen delivered to the immigration officer at the port of departure, unless the master produces to the collector of customs the certificate of the immigration officer that all alien seamen on board at the time of departure have been reported, and that the master has complied fully with the provisions of this section relative to alien seamen. Any master who shall refuse to pay any fine imposed upon him under the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of any question relative to the payment of any fine, or after any such question has been decided, until the fine imposed, if any, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, shall have been deposited with the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman, unless a member of the crew in possession of a valid certificate of identity issued to him as provided in subdivision (c) of this section, who shall land from any vessel at any port in the United States, except temporarily in case of accident, distress, or sickness, shall be required before being permitted to land to secure from the immigration officer in charge at the port a certificate stating the right of such alien seaman to land in the United States, except temporarily in case of accident, distress, or sickness, and specifying the length of time and the localities within which he may remain, and the purpose for which he is going, and shall be required to deposit with the collector of customs the sum of $10 to insure the departure of such alien seaman from the United States within the time specified. Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel without obtaining such certificate, or who shall remain longer than the time specified therein, or who shall go to any place in the United States other than those specified therein, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that such alien seaman did not desert with intent to remain permanently in the United States, and may extend the time for the departure of such alien seaman whenever in his judgment such extension is advisable. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States the certificate shall be delivered by the master of the vessel on which he departs to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and the deposit shall be refunded to the master of the vessel by the collector of customs. Any master who shall fail to deliver the certificate of identity of any alien seaman as herein provided shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each such alien seaman, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or after any such question has been decided, until the penalty, if imposed, shall have been paid or a sufficient bond to cover such penalty shall have been deposited with the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that reciprocal privileges will be accorded seamen of the United States by the foreign country of which an alien seaman is a subject, he may issue to such alien seaman a certificate identity in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and such certificate shall entitle such alien seaman to the rights and privileges granted by this section to seamen entitled to demand certificates of identity hereunder.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in port in the United States shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that such alien seaman did not desert with intent to remain permanently in the United States, and may extend the time for the departure of such alien seaman whenever in his judgment such extension is advisable. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States the certificate shall be delivered by the master of the vessel on which he departs to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and the deposit shall be refunded to the master of the vessel by the collector of customs.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for the purpose of participating in a public ceremonial authorized by the Secretary of Labor, unless a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 with sufficient surety, or the deposit of cash in such amount, shall be given to the collector of customs sufficient to guarantee the return of such alien seaman to the country in which he shall have been granted a visa, or to the country from which he came to the United States, at the option of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived, or unless such alien seaman is in possession of a certificate of identity issued to him as provided in subdivision (c) of section 13 of the Immigration Act of 1917. Such bond or deposit shall be given by the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, or by the owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel on board of which such alien seaman shall thereafter be found in the United States. Such bond or deposit shall be given in a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of any question relative to the payment of any fine, or after any such question has been decided, until the fine imposed, if any, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, shall have been deposited with the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman, unless a member of the crew in possession of a valid certificate of identity issued to him as provided in subdivision (c) of section 13 of the Immigration Act of 1917, who shall land from any vessel at any port in the United States, except temporarily in case of accident, distress, or sickness, shall be required before being permitted to land to secure from the immigration officer in charge at the port a certificate stating the right of such alien seaman to land in the United States, except temporarily in case of accident, distress, or sickness, and specifying the length of time and the localities within which he may remain, and the purpose for which he is going, and shall be required to deposit with the collector of customs the sum of $10 to insure the departure of such alien seaman from the United States within the time specified. Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel without obtaining such certificate, or who shall remain longer than the time specified therein, or who shall go to any place in the United States other than those specified therein, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that such alien seaman did not desert with intent to remain permanently in the United States, and may extend the time for the departure of such alien seaman whenever in his judgment such extension is advisable. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States the certificate shall be delivered by the master of the vessel on which he departs to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and the deposit shall be refunded to the master of the vessel by the collector of customs. Any master who shall fail to deliver the certificate of identity of any alien seaman as herein provided shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each such alien seaman, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or after any such question has been decided, until the penalty, if imposed, shall have been paid or a sufficient bond to cover such penalty shall have been deposited with the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that reciprocal privileges will be accorded seamen of the United States by the foreign country of which an alien seaman is a subject, he may issue to such alien seaman a certificate of identity in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and such certificate shall entitle such alien seaman to the rights and privileges granted by this section to seamen entitled to demand certificates of identity hereunder.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in port in the United States shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that such alien seaman did not desert with intent to remain permanently in the United States, and may extend the time for the departure of such alien seaman whenever in his judgment such extension is advisable. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States the certificate shall be delivered by the master of the vessel on which he departs to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and the deposit shall be refunded to the master of the vessel by the collector of customs.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1824, AS AMENDED

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port, or any vessel bringing to the United States any merchandise, except such merchandise, or passengers, as may be landed at the port of arrival, and there detained for the inspection of the immigrant inspector, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty requiring the temporary use of the shore for the purpose of repairing the vessel, or for such other cause as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the alien's detention on board or within the limits of the port, and his return on board or to the country from which he came, when required by the Attorney General or by the master of the vessel. Any alien seaman who lands in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, or who lands in the United States from any vessel at any time after arrival and inspection of such vessel, without the permission of the immigrant inspector, or who fails to depart from the United States on board the vessel on which he arrived, or some other vessel, when required so to do by the Attorney General or by the master of such vessel, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States, and shall be arrested and deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any master who fails to detain any alien seaman as required by this section, or who lands any alien seaman in violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared prior to the payment of such penalty. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion may prescribe. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof incurred under this section. (8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof with any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by such immigration officer of the master of the vessel), or until such seaman shall have been removed from such vessel by the immigration officer, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared prior to the payment of such sum, and, in the event such sum is unpaid, suit for the recovery thereof may be instituted. Payment of such sum shall not relieve any person from any criminal liability incurred in connection with the illegal landing of any alien seaman. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion may prescribe. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof incurred under this section. (8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Every alien seaman, on arriving at a port of the United States, shall be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and shall be detained on board or at such port until admitted or permitted to land temporarily under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance of temporary landing of alien seamen. Such regulations may provide for the granting of such landing privilege to any class of alien seamen and may limit such privilege to certain ports or districts. Any alien seaman who lands in the United States from any vessel at any port or place in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty requiring the temporary use of the shore for the purpose of repairing the vessel, or for such other cause as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the alien's detention on board or within the limits of the port, and his return on board or to the country from which he came, when required by the master of the vessel or by the Attorney General or by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States, and shall be arrested and deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any master who fails to detain any alien seaman as required by this section, or who lands any alien seaman in violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared prior to the payment of such penalty. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion may prescribe. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof incurred under this section. (8 U. S. C. 166.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would serve undue hardship on account of the health of such alien seamen, he may permit the temporary landing of such alien seamen for such period of time as he may deem necessary for such purpose, upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety in such amount and upon such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe to guarantee the return of such alien seamen to the vessel on which they arrived in the United States or to the vessel which relieves such vessel of such alien seamen, and upon the payment of the tax required by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, in the case of each such alien seaman. Such bond shall be in lieu of the penalty prescribed by subsection (a) of this section. Such alien seamen shall be subject to such inspection as the immigration officers may deem necessary. (43 Stat. 154, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 18. Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman excepting temporary landing permitted by the Attorney General under section 30 (b) hereof, who fails to deport such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel, when required so to do by the Attorney General or by the master of such vessel, or by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 19. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty requiring the temporary use of the shore for the purpose of repairing the vessel, or for such other cause as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General, any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, unless and until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by such immigration officer of the master of the vessel), or until such seaman shall have been removed from such vessel by the immigration officer, and then only under such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance of temporary landing of alien seamen. Such regulations may provide for the granting of such landing privilege to any class of alien seamen and may limit such privilege to certain ports or districts. Any alien seaman who lands in the United States from any vessel at any port or place in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty requiring the temporary use of the shore for the purpose of repairing the vessel, or for such other cause as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the alien's detention on board or within the limits of the port, and his return on board or to the country from which he came, when required by the master of the vessel or by the Attorney General or by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States, and shall be arrested and deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any master who fails to detain any alien seaman as required by this section, or who lands any alien seaman in violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be cleared prior to the payment of such penalty. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion may prescribe. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof incurred under this section. (8 U. S. C. 166.)

(d) Every alien seaman, on arriving at a port of the United States, shall be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and shall be detained on board or at such port until admitted or permitted to land temporarily under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance of temporary landing of alien seamen. Such regulations may provide for the granting of such landing privilege to any class of alien seamen and may limit such privilege to certain ports or districts. Any alien seaman who lands in the United States from any vessel at any port or place in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty requiring the temporary use of the shore for the purpose of repairing the vessel, or for such other cause as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the alien's detention on board or within the limits of the port, and his return on board or to the country from which he came, when required by the master of the vessel or by the Attorney General or by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States, and shall be arrested and deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any master who fails to detain any alien seaman as required by this section, or who lands any alien seaman in violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be cleared prior to the payment of such penalty. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion may prescribe. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof incurred under this section. (8 U. S. C. 166.)

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would serve undue hardship on account of the health of such alien seamen, he may permit the temporary landing of such alien seamen for such period of time as he may deem necessary for such purpose, upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety in such amount and upon such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe to guarantee the return of such alien seamen to the vessel on which they arrived in the United States or to the vessel which relieves such vessel of such alien seamen, and upon the payment of the tax required by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, in the case of each such alien seaman. Such bond shall be in lieu of the penalty prescribed by subsection (a) of this section. Such alien seamen shall be subject to such inspection as the immigration officers may deem necessary. (43 Stat. 154, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(f) Every alien seaman, on arriving at a port of the United States, shall be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and shall be detained on board or at such port until admitted or permitted to land temporarily under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance of temporary landing of alien seamen. Such regulations may provide for the granting of such landing privilege to any class of alien seamen and may limit such privilege to certain ports or districts. Any alien seaman who lands in the United States from any vessel at any port or place in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty requiring the temporary use of the shore for the purpose of repairing the vessel, or for such other cause as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the alien's detention on board or within the limits of the port, and his return on board or to the country from which he came, when required by the master of the vessel or by the Attorney General or by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States, and shall be arrested and deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any master who fails to detain any alien seaman as required by this section, or who lands any alien seaman in violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be cleared prior to the payment of such penalty. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion may prescribe. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof incurred under this section. (8 U. S. C. 166.)

(g) Every alien seaman, on arriving at a port of the United States, shall be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and shall be detained on board or at such port until admitted or permitted to land temporarily under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance of temporary landing of alien seamen. Such regulations may provide for the granting of such landing privilege to any class of alien seamen and may limit such privilege to certain ports or districts. Any alien seaman who lands in the United States from any vessel at any port or place in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty requiring the temporary use of the shore for the purpose of repairing the vessel, or for such other cause as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the alien's detention on board or within the limits of the port, and his return on board or to the country from which he came, when required by the master of the vessel or by the Attorney General or by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States, and shall be arrested and deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any master who fails to detain any alien seaman as required by this section, or who lands any alien seaman in violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be cleared prior to the payment of such penalty. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion may prescribe. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof incurred under this section. (8 U. S. C. 166.)

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

A MANIFEST FORM must be used in manifesting ALL ALIENS. All entries must be printed in ink or typewritten and must be in the English language. Where the number of passengers in all classes does not exceed 30, all classes may be shown on one form with the names grouped according to class and the name of the class at the top of the group noted. Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Immigrants should be grouped on the manifest separately from nonimmigrants as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924. The names of all aliens coming from the same locality and to all members of a family should be entered on the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross-references should be made on the sheet on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Head-tax status).—Spell out "Immigrant" or "Nonimmigrant" as the case may be.

Column 2 (Age).—Enter the years at last birthday of all persons over 1 year of age.

Column 3 (Married or single).—Enter the word "M" (married), "S" (single), "W" (widowed), or "D" (divorced).

Column 4 (Calling or occupation).—Enter every calling described or implied in the declarations of visa applicants, such as: Actor, actress, aeronaut, agriculturist, architect, artist, author, aviator, baker, barber, blacksmith, bookkeeper, brewer, broker, butcher, cabinetmaker, canner, carpenter, chauffeur, chemist, civil engineer, clergyman, clerk, coachman, compositor, confectioner, cook, cooper, dancer, dentist, designer, dressmaker, electrician, engineer, engraver, farmer, fireman, fisherman, florist, furrier, gardener, glassblower, goldsmith, governess, hairdresser, housekeeper, housewife, illustrator, interpreter, jeweler, journalist, laborer, lawyer, lecturer, librarian, locksmith, machinist, manufacturer, merchant, metallurgist, midwife, miller, miner, missionary, moulder, musician, nurse, optician, painter, pattern maker, photographer, physician, plumber, porter, potter, preacher, printer, professor, rancher, salesman, sculptor, seamstress, secretary, servant, shepherd, shoemaker, silversmith, singer, soldier, stenographer, stonecutter, student, surgeon, tailor, teacher, tinsmith, trapper, typesetter, upholsterer, valet, waiter, weaver, wheelwright, wife, woodworker, or any other occupation. A statement that a person has been a "laborer" or a "farmer" for many years is not sufficient. If at present unemployed, the last occupation should be entered.

Column 5 (Can read?).—Answer "Yes" or "No."

Column 6 (Can write?).—Answer "Yes" or "No."

Column 7 (Country or people).—Enter the country of which the alien is a citizen or subject, as the case may be. If stateless, enter the country to which he last belonged. If a citizen of the Free State of Ireland, write "Irish Free State." If a citizen of Northern Ireland, write "Northern Ireland." If a citizen of Palestine, write "Palestine." If a citizen of Syria, write "Syria." If a citizen of Czechoslovakia, write "Czechoslovakia." If a citizen of Yugoslavia, write "Yugoslavia." If a citizen of Austria, write "Austria." IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of crewmen of ships investigated by Chiefs (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port at which the vessel shall first arrive a complete list or manifest of all persons employed on such vessel, showing the position then respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped to engage in the service of the vessel, showing the full name, age, sex, and calling of each person, the country of which he is a citizen, the last foreign port from which he came, the intended future destination of each alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and the name and last permanent residence of each alien employed on such vessel, whether as a member of the crew or otherwise, who is not in possession of a valid immigrant visa, or who is not regularly admissible as a returning resident alien, or who is not in possession of a visa granted by a consular officer under the provisions of section 3 of this Act, or who is not in possession of a passport in his own right and who is not specifically mentioned therein, or who is not regularly admissible under section 4 of this Act, or who is not in possession of a certificate of identity and nationality when such certificate is required by section 6 of this Act, and the name of the vessel on which he arrived, the date of arrival, and the number of the stateroom occupied by each alien. Any person who shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section, or who shall willfully and knowingly make any false statement in relation to the information required hereunder, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the alien required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), when such has been furnished, has not been furnished, or is found to be incorrect, the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel shall be notified in writing by the United States customs officer that clearance will not be granted until the alien has been detained by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a report of the case has been made to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C., and the decision of the Commissioner received thereon. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the alien has been examined by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a report of the case has been made to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C., and the decision of the Commissioner received thereon.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for the purpose of obeying a summons of a court of the United States or of any State or political subdivision thereof, or because the Secretary of Labor shall consider a personal privacy examination by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a report of the case has been made to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C., and the decision of the Commissioner received thereon. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall be found on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, in violation of this section, or who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any time and fail to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival when required so to do, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156).

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to which alien seamen are employed on board such vessel shall, before any such alien seaman is granted shore leave, deposit with the immigration officer at the port of arrival a sum sufficient in the opinion of the Commissioner General of Immigration to pay the cost of maintenance and transportation to the country to which such alien seaman belongs, and a sum sufficient to pay the head tax and the cost of the return journey in the case of each alien seaman, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration is satisfied that adequate provision has been made for the return journey of such alien seaman. Such deposit shall be refunded by the immigration officer to the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States, or upon the granting to such alien seaman of the privilege to come ashore temporarily pending the departure of the vessel from the port, or upon the certification by the master of the vessel that such alien seaman has been left in a hospital in a foreign country, or has died, or has been detained in a foreign country, and the payment to the master of the vessel of the sum deposited for the maintenance of such alien seaman.

(b) The head tax imposed by section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1917 shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located by every alien seaman on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, unless such alien seaman is a member of a crew who intends to depart with the vessel on which he arrived and is in possession of a valid passport issued by the country to which he belongs, or is in possession of a certificate of identity and nationality issued by the Secretary of Labor, or is in possession of a valid immigrant visa, or is regularly admissible as a returning resident alien, or is in possession of a visa granted by a consular officer under the provisions of section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, or is regularly admissible under section 4 of such Act, or is in possession of a certificate of identity and nationality when such certificate is required by section 6 of such Act. The head tax shall be refunded by the collector of customs to the master of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States, or upon the granting to such alien seaman of the privilege to come ashore temporarily pending the departure of the vessel from the port, or upon the certification by the master of the vessel that such alien seaman has been left in a hospital in a foreign country, or has died, or has been detained in a foreign country, and the payment to the master of the vessel of the sum deposited for the maintenance of such alien seaman.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be required to carry to such country more than the number of passengers it is certificated to carry. The cost of maintenance of such alien seaman pending deportation, and the head tax, shall be paid by the master of the vessel on which he arrived. Deportation of such alien seamen shall be effected by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of crewmen of ships investigated by Chiefs (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for such legitimate cause as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for such legitimate cause as the Attorney General may prescribe, removable or deportable under the immigration laws of the United States, and no such alien shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for such legitimate cause as the Attorney General may prescribe, removable or deportable under the immigration laws of the United States, and no such alien shall be permitted to land in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be required to deposit with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (which deposit shall not be refunded or returned until the alien has departed from the United States or has been granted permission to land permanently) a sum sufficient in the opinion of the Attorney General to pay the cost of the return of such alien, including maintenance and incidental expenses, to the place whence he came to the United States, or to such other place as may be designated by the Attorney General, not exceeding the amount prescribed in section 19 hereof, but if such deposit shall prove insufficient to defray the expenses of such return, or if for any reason it becomes impracticable to return such alien within a reasonable time, then such additional sum as may be necessary for the purpose shall be collected from the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel in which such alien arrived in the United States before such vessel shall be granted clearance. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or any part thereof to the person who made the same, or his executive representative, if such alien shall depart from the United States or be found by the Attorney General to have become a citizen thereof prior to the expiration of such time. The Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe the manner in which the deposits required by this section shall be made, and the refunds authorized. Any person who shall violate any provision of this section shall be fined not more than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon suit instituted by the Attorney General in the district court of the United States, as forfeiture to the United States, which suit shall take precedence of all cases of a different nature, except criminal cases, and which shall be tried and determined by the court without a jury, unless a jury trial is demanded by the claimant of the vessel or his agent. Such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States in which it may arrive or depart, and clearance may be withheld or granted by the collector of customs, subject to the order of the court in such proceeding. Such deposit shall not relieve the master of any vessel from any other penalty or liability imposed by law.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel within the period of time fixed by the immigration officer at the time of the deposit required by subsection (a) of this section, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General, shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, and the cost of his maintenance while in the United States, pending his deportation, shall be paid from the deposit required by subsection (a) of this section.

(c) If the Attorney General shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, or that the cost of maintenance while in the United States pending deportation will be unreasonably great, or that for any other reason deportation should be undesirable, he may cause such alien seaman to be sent to any country willing to receive him, and the cost of maintenance while in the United States pending deportation and of transportation to such country shall be paid from the deposit required by subsection (a) of this section. Any balance remaining of such deposit after the payment of such cost shall be returned to the person who made the deposit, or his executive representative, if such alien seaman departs from the United States or is found by the Attorney General to have become a citizen thereof prior to the expiration of such time. Any such deposit, or any part thereof, not returned to the person who made the deposit, or his executive representative, within one year after the date of the expiration of the period of time fixed by the immigration officer at the time of the deposit required by subsection (a) of this section, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General, shall be covered into the Treasury as a head tax. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessels in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the persons mentioned in said lists who are citizens of the United States, and the nationality of each alien mentioned in said lists, as far as can be ascertained by reasonable diligence on the part of the master, agent, consignee, or owner, and the refusal or neglect of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer a complete list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, including those employed in any capacity on board such vessel, before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or owner, or other person in charge of such vessel, to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel who have not been entered on the list first delivered, and the cause or reason why they were not entered on the list first delivered, and the time and place of their subsequent employment, and all such information as may be required by such immigration officer in relation to such aliens. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as aforesaid: Provided, That clearance papers shall not be withheld by the collector (central) by reason of the failure of the master to report the name of any alien who shall have been discharged from the vessel in a foreign port or place, if the master shall have reported such discharge to the proper United States consular officer at the port or place where such discharge was made, and obtained his certificate thereof, and produced such certificate to the collector at the time of making the report required by this section as to the other aliens employed on board such vessel: And provided further, That the master may be granted prior to the determination of such disposition upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888-890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 168) pertain been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except upon such conditions as may be prescribed by the Attorney General as the circumstances of each case may require, and pending the departure of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board thereof any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer of the Public Health Service), or who fails to deport such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof.

The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportations which are independent of the year 2, 1940.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was deported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar effect.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived has caused undue delay in the departure of such vessel, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the owner of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms approved by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization and delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival. Data should be entered in the order indicated by the headings of the columns. Each person must be listed. Write plainly in ink. Do not use pencil. Where no answer is required, a dash (—) should be entered. Where the answer is "none," "unknown," or "not applicable," write the word. Any additional information desired in connection with any person listed may be entered in the last column. Attention is called to the fact that the law requires the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel to report to the immigrant inspector any member of the crew who fails to report for departure with the vessel. Penalties are provided for violation of this requirement.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 28. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States shall be permitted to land temporarily in the United States unless upon the certification by the proper immigration officer that the seaman is not excluded from admission into the United States under this Act or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force regulating the admission of aliens into the United States. Upon such certification the immigration officer may permit the seaman to land temporarily for a period not to exceed five days, solely in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor and under such conditions as he may prescribe, for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or for the purpose of performing temporary service or labor essential to the proper loading or unloading of the vessel or the vessel's further scheduled navigation, or for the purpose of removing sick or injured members of the crew to a hospital for treatment, or for the purpose of joining the vessel at a later port of call, or for such other purpose as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor. Such conditions may include the filing of a bond in such amount as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, not to exceed $500 for each alien seaman, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman within the period specified. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this subdivision in the case of any alien seaman who establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is unable to comply therewith due to illness or other cause beyond his control, including cases where the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived is unable to depart from the port within the period specified because of weather conditions.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 hereof to the country specified in his seaman's certificate or to the country in which he shall have shipped to return to the United States, at the option of the master of the vessel on which he arrived. Any alien seaman who fails to report for departure with the vessel or at the time required by the immigration officer for his deportation shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 hereof, irrespective of the time limitations specified in section 19 hereof. Any alien seaman who fails to report for departure with the vessel or at the time required by the immigration officer for his deportation shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 hereof, irrespective of the time limitations specified in section 19 hereof. Any alien seaman who fails to report for departure with the vessel or at the time required by the immigration officer for his deportation shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 hereof, irrespective of the time limitations specified in section 19 hereof.

SEC. 13.(a) Upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any place outside thereof, it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a manifest and such additional lists or manifests as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, containing such information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization with respect to the persons on board such vessel, arriving at such port, and such other persons as may thereafter be transported on board such vessel, prior to the departure of such vessel from such port. Such manifest and such additional lists or manifests shall be in such form and contain such information as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such manifest and such additional lists or manifests shall be verified by the master or commanding officer or the first or second officer of such vessel, and shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival before the vessel is admitted to entry or to clearance papers. The master or commanding officer or the first or second officer of such vessel shall, before any such vessel departs from the port of arrival, report to the immigrant inspector at such port the names of all persons who have arrived on such vessel at such port and who have not been previously reported, and shall deliver to such immigrant inspector such additional lists or manifests with respect to such persons as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Such master or commanding officer or first or second officer shall also report to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the name of any person who shall have been brought to the United States on such vessel and who shall have been left behind at any foreign port or place, and the cause for leaving such person behind, and shall deliver to such immigrant inspector such information in his possession concerning such person as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

(b) Any master or commanding officer or first or second officer of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver any list or manifest required of him by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to answer truthfully and fully to the best of his knowledge and belief any question concerning any person who is on board such vessel or who has been on board such vessel and has departed therefrom, which is asked by any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse or fail to report any person who has been left behind as required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to such immigrant inspector any such person in his possession, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense.

(c) If the Attorney General shall be satisfied that any master or commanding officer or first or second officer of any such vessel has failed to report or deliver any person as required by this section, or has refused or failed to answer truthfully and fully any question concerning any such person which is asked by any immigrant inspector, or has knowingly and willfully made any false statement in relation thereto, the Attorney General may, in addition to any other penalty provided by this section, refuse the granting of clearance papers to such vessel while it remains in the United States, or may grant clearance papers for such vessel upon the payment or the giving of a bond to the United States in such sum not exceeding $2,000 for each person in relation to whom any such failure or refusal occurs, as the Attorney General may determine.

(d) Every alien who arrives in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who departs from the United States for any place outside thereof, and every alien who is in transit through the United States, shall be subject to such regulations governing the admission, exclusion, and removal of aliens as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization with the approval of the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien will be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, he may, in his discretion, suspend deportation of such alien for such period or periods and upon such conditions as he may prescribe. Upon the cancelation of deportation in any case in which a bond has been required, the bond shall be released immediately.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 28. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States shall be permitted to land temporarily in the United States unless upon the certification by the proper immigration officer that the seaman is not excluded from admission into the United States under this Act or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force regulating the admission of aliens into the United States. Upon such certification the immigration officer may permit the seaman to land temporarily for a period not to exceed five days, solely in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor and under such conditions as he may prescribe, for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or for the purpose of performing temporary service or labor essential to the proper loading or unloading of the vessel or the vessel's further scheduled navigation, or for the purpose of removing sick or injured members of the crew to a hospital for treatment, or for the purpose of joining the vessel at a later port of call, or for such other purpose as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor. Such conditions may include the filing of a bond in such amount as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, not to exceed $500 for each alien seaman, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman within the period specified. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this subdivision in the case of any alien seaman who establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is unable to comply therewith due to illness or other cause beyond his control, including cases where the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived is unable to depart from the port within the period specified because of weather conditions.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 hereof to the country specified in his seaman's certificate or to the country in which he shall have shipped to return to the United States, at the option of the master of the vessel on which he arrived. Any alien seaman who fails to report for departure with the vessel or at the time required by the immigration officer for his deportation shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 hereof, irrespective of the time limitations specified in section 19 hereof. Any alien seaman who fails to report for departure with the vessel or at the time required by the immigration officer for his deportation shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 hereof, irrespective of the time limitations specified in section 19 hereof. Any alien seaman who fails to report for departure with the vessel or at the time required by the immigration officer for his deportation shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 hereof, irrespective of the time limitations specified in section 19 hereof.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons to alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Where an alternate seaman is a "motorman" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, arranged and classified as to sex, occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination, as required by the immigration laws and regulations in the form prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and to present such vessel for examination by such officer at such time and place as the Commissioner General of Immigration may designate: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel may, in lieu of delivering lists containing the names of alien employees who were not employed when the vessel departed from a foreign port, deliver such lists at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of arrival, and also the names of aliens, if any, who may have been employed or discharged, and the cause of the separation of each alien employee, at such time before the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival as the Commissioner General of Immigration may by regulations prescribe: And provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel may, in lieu of delivering lists containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed when the vessel departed from a foreign port, deliver such lists at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of arrival, as above provided, and also the names of aliens, if any, who may have been employed or discharged, and the cause of the separation of each alien employee, at such time before the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival as the Commissioner General of Immigration may by regulations prescribe: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall be required to deliver lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, whether they have been discharged or not, at the time of the vessel's departure from the last port of call in the United States: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall be required to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of any alien employee who has been discharged, and the cause of the separation, if known, at the time of the vessel's departure from such port of arrival, and to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the vessel's departure from the last port of call in the United States a list containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel at the time of departure from such last port of call: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on board such vessel, arranged and classified as to sex, occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination, as required by the Secretary of Labor, and to present such vessel for examination by such officer at such time and place as the Commissioner General of Immigration may designate; but alien members of the crew of any such vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place may be discharged from such vessel at any port of arrival, subject to the immigration laws, without the payment of any tax, fine, or penalty, upon the certification of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that such alien is not required as a witness on behalf of the United States in any investigation, inquiry, hearing, or trial, and that the cost of returning such alien to the country whence he came to the United States will not be borne by the United States: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien members of the crew who have been left behind on account of illness or injury, and the expense of whose maintenance in the United States has been assumed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and shall report the cause of such illness or injury, the length of time such alien has been in the United States, and the probable length of time such alien will be required to remain in the United States, and shall deposit with such immigration officer a sum sufficient in the opinion of such officer to defray the cost of maintenance of such alien for such time, and shall furnish a bond satisfactory to such officer for the return of such alien to the country whence he came to the United States when required so to do, and shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the head tax required by section 1 of this Act for each such alien. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the port of arrival until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have certified to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the payment of the head tax required by section 1 of this Act for each such alien, or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, issue a permit authorizing the transportation of any such alien from one port to another in the United States for the purpose of his deportation, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, without the payment of the head tax provided for in this section. Any person, company, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be fined in the sum of $1,000 for each alien so landed, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the payment of such fine or the giving of a bond therefor satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention on board vessels of aliens entitled to enter the United States temporarily as visitors, or in transit to foreign countries, or of alien seamen employed on such vessels during their stay in United States ports, unless the Secretary of Labor shall deem such detention necessary: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman who is afflicted with any contagious disease shall be liable to the payment of the same penalty as is provided in this section in the case of other aliens afflicted with such diseases.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing aliens to any port of the United States from any place outside the United States (except aliens in transit through the United States and aliens who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and are returning thereto from a temporary visit abroad) shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in transit through the United States of such aliens, and for their prompt removal therefrom, and shall not permit any such alien to land in the United States, except temporarily because of illness, or on account of the refusal of other countries to receive him, or in pursuance of such precautionary measures as may be directed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and shall, if any such alien is refused admission to the United States, cause him to be returned on the vessel bringing him to the United States or on the vessel on which he arrived in transit through the United States, or on some other vessel at the earliest practicable date, and shall pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return. Any such alien may be required to be detained on board the vessel on which he arrives or to be kept in such place on shore as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pending the decision as to whether he may be allowed to land, and the cost of such detention and of the return of such alien shall be borne by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrives. Any such alien may be required to be detained on board vessel or kept in such place on shore pending the completion of the physical and mental examination of all aliens on board such vessel, and the cost of such detention shall be borne by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel. Any such alien may be required to be detained on board vessel or kept in such place on shore pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to whether he shall be granted a visa, and the cost of such detention shall be borne by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel

LIST OF RACES OR PEOPLES

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. According to separate manifests immigrants and non-immigrants are defined by the Immigration Act of 1891: and also according to separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called contract class, whose ages must be stated in the initial of technical words. and those whose ages do not need such initials. The names of all members a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class: and if they travel in different classes, appropriate care to entries should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Head-tax status).—Steamship lines should make no entries in this column. The above is for use of Government officials only.

Column 2 (Name of person).—(Last name, first name, and middle initial.) The name of every alien must be entered, the letter giving surname to each of those under 1 year of age.

Column 3 (Age).—The years of alien's age (number) to be given.

Column 4 (Sex).—The words Male or Female (write) or M (male), F (female).

Column 5 (Married or single).—The words married or single (write) or S (single), M (married), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 6 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as completely as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, for example: Civil engineer, mechanical engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, farmer, tailor, tailoress, dressmaker, servant, laborer, miner, merchant, clerk, etc., and not simply "engineer," "laborer," "farmer," etc., without indicating qualifications.

A distinction should be made between normal mental inferiority, evidenced by inability to acquire a certain amount of education: and mental defect, such as imbecility or idiocy.

A mental defective is one who operates a train, either for himself or for others.

A train inspector is one who works on a train for the same railway company.

A locomotive engineer should be entered as such, not simply as engineer. Conductors, brakemen, firemen, and trainmen should be entered as such.

Column 7 (Can read).—(Yes or no.) The entry should be "Yes" or "No" as the immigrant can read or can not read the English language or some other language. Any person physically capable of reading who is unable to read English, but who can read some other language or dialect, should be entered as able to read.

Column 8 (Can write).—(Yes or no.) The entry should be "Yes" or "No" as the immigrant can write or can not write. Any person who can make figures readily should be entered as able to write.

Column 9 (Can both read and write).—(Yes or no.) The entry should be "Yes" or "No" as the immigrant can or can not read and write. Any person who can read and write should be entered as able to read and write.

Column 10 (Race or people).—See list of races entered on back of this sheet.

The entry should show the race or people as given in that list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject: country to which permanent residence, and country to which temporarily in transit. For instance, the so-called "Hebrew" race appears under the head of races or peoples does not mean a country, but a people, generally scattered throughout the world: "French" race or people," and similarly "Negro" appears under the head of race or people, but "France" or "Haiti" generally, or Haitian, or Negro may not mean citizen of France or Haiti, but merely the race to which they belong. The word "American" should not be used to describe the native white inhabitants of the United States: the word should be entered as white or Negro.

NATIVE HOME

The term "Native" refers to the Native people (not Negroes).

FINAL DESTINATION

"West Indies" refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cubans or Negroes.

NATIONALITY

"American" refers to the people of Central and South America of Spanish descent.

"Negro" refers to the African (black), whether coming from Cuba or other islands of the West Indies, North or South America, Europe, or Africa. The word alien should be construed to include all the African (black) people of whatever nationality or color.

Column 11 (Place of birth).—The State, province, or district of birth should be entered in full in addition to the city or town.

Column 12 (Seeks admission of document presented).—Enter name of document presented, as "Passport," or "Visé" or "Visaed" passport," "Transit" or "Landing" permit, "Admission," "Identification," or Reentry Permit: and also state section of the Immigration Act of 1907 or 1910, as the case may be.

Column 13.—Alien destined to Texas to the place and date of leave of the vessel as stated in column 15, and to which transportation is purchased.

Column 14 (Nevertheless to landing, etc.).—Alien to whom a through residence to the United States only.

Column 15 (Last permanent residence (country)).—Alien to whom a through residence to the United States only. The place is to be entered in column 15 which the immigrant has left as his last permanent residence. The last country in which alien has had his permanent residence for a year or more is to be entered. Temporary residence, such as for pleasure, business, travel, education, etc., and not sufficient to change permanent residence, should not be entered.

Column 16 (Destined to (city, town, State, province, or district to which immigrant is destined)).—Each alien to whom the country of his permanent residence is given who was born in the United States should be entered as destined to the city, town, State, province, or district of his permanent residence. If it is impossible for the alien to state definitely the place (city or town) of intended future permanent residence, it should be entered as undecided. Any intended residence to a town in the United States should be entered as destined to that town. Any intended residence to a farm in the United States, even though the farm is not definitely described, should be entered as destined to the State, and the port of intended debarkation.

Column 17 (Whether having a ticket to ship to destination).—The words ticket to ship (write) or (No ticket).

Column 18 (Whether in possession of $20 and if less, how much).—The words $20 (write) or (Less than $20) (write) the exact amount in possession of every alien of every class (individual or family) and the exact amount of money in possession of the family.

Money should not be divided by the head so as to make it appear that no one person has more than $20 when the family as a whole has more than $20.

Column 19 (Whether going to join relative or friend).—The words Yes or No (write) and name and address of such relative or friend, with name and complete address: whether going to join either a relative or friend, with name and complete address: and relationship, if any.

Column 20 (Whether ever before in the United States: and if so, when, where, and how long).—The entries should be (Yes or No) in each case to last question. The United States is more than once previously, indicate 1881, Philadelphia. Where in the United States more than once previously, indicate last residence only, and give exact or approximate date to last departure from United States.

Column 21 (Whether going to join relative or friend).—The words Yes or No (write) whether going to join either a relative or friend, with name and complete address: and relationship, if any.

Column 22 to 36.—These columns are to be filled in by the examining officer only. In answering questions in the affirmative or negative, do not simply answer "Yes" or "No," but write the word or words in full.

Column 37.—Any physical or mental defect, such as loss of limb, paralysis, tuberculosis, etc., should be noted. If no such defect is known to exist, write NONE in full.

Column 38.—Any crime, felony, misdemeanor, or conviction for violation of any law or ordinance should be noted. If no such crime, etc., is known to exist, write NONE in full.

Column 39.—Any offense involving moral turpitude should be noted. If no such offense is known to exist, write NONE in full.

Column 40.—Any offense for which the alien has been arrested should be noted. If no such arrest is known to exist, write NONE in full.

Column 41.—Any offense for which the alien has been imprisoned should be noted. If no such imprisonment is known to exist, write NONE in full.

Column 42.—Any offense for which the alien has been deported should be noted. If no such deportation is known to exist, write NONE in full.

Column 43.—Any offense for which the alien has been excluded should be noted. If no such exclusion is known to exist, write NONE in full.

Column 44.—Any offense for which the alien has been pardoned should be noted. If no such pardon is known to exist, write NONE in full.

Column 45.—Any offense for which the alien has been punished should be noted. If no such punishment is known to exist, write NONE in full.

Column 46.—Any offense for which the alien has been sentenced should be noted. If no such sentence is known to exist, write NONE in full.

Column 47.—Any offense for which the alien has been sentenced should be noted. If no such sentence is known to exist, write NONE in full.

Column 48.—Any offense for which the alien has been sentenced should be noted. If no such sentence is known to exist, write NONE in full.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 11. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of actual necessity as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof duly qualified to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall permit the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), to do and shall detain such seaman on board such vessel such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond fully sufficient thereto to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who lands in the United States from any vessel at any port or place in the United States shall be deported as provided in this section, but no such seaman shall be deported as a result of any proceedings brought to deport him for a period of five years after the date of his entry unless he was within five years after such entry convicted and sentenced to imprisonment for one year or more for a crime committed within such period of time after such entry.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of an alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such alien may be permitted to remain in the United States for such time as he may deem necessary, not exceeding four months, upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety, in such sum and containing such conditions as may be prescribed by the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members, when a vessel arriving carries a "manifest" in addition to that otherwise should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, commander, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port at which the vessel shall first arrive a complete list, manifest, or register of all persons on board such vessel, whether such persons be passengers or members of the crew, or other persons carried on such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each person who intends to enter the United States, and such additional information relative to such persons as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, which list, manifest, or register shall be prepared and delivered in such form and manner as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; and any master, commander, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such list, manifest, or register, or who refuses or fails to answer truthfully and correctly to the best of his knowledge and belief any question relative to the persons carried on such vessel, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense: Provided, That the master, commander, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel shall not be required to deliver such list, manifest, or register before the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place at which such vessel shall touch in the course of her voyage to the United States, but in such case shall deliver such list, manifest, or register before the first arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States, and in default thereof shall be punished as herein provided: Provided further, That the master, commander, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel shall not be required to include in such list, manifest, or register the name of any alien employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival who shall have been taken from such vessel by the immigration officer in charge of the port and delivered to the proper authorities of the United States for examination, but a memorandum of the name of every alien so taken from such vessel shall be furnished to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival before the departure of such vessel from such port, and such alien shall be duly entered and accounted for in the list, manifest, or register of such vessel: Provided further, That the master, commander, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel shall not be required to include in such list, manifest, or register the name of any alien employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival who shall have been duly admitted to the United States and who is in the employment of the United States Government or of the government of the Philippine Islands, but a memorandum containing the name of every such alien shall be furnished the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival before the departure of such vessel from such port, and such alien shall be duly entered and accounted for in the list, manifest, or register of such vessel: Provided further, That the master, commander, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel shall not be required to include in such list, manifest, or register the name of any alien who was employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival but who shall leave such vessel at the time of her departure, and also the name of any alien employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who have been paid off and discharged, to the extent of the wages due them, if any, who have been detected on landed: And in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver either of the lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or as to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided: And no such vessel shall be granted clearance beyond the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (38 Stat. 898, 899; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Liens of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens created by section 38 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been transferred, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 169) prevail been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory or adjacent islands, other than an alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or has caused such inspection to be made after such seaman on board after such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by the immigration officer at the port of arrival is located the sum of Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance beyond the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof. This section as amended, shall apply to all branches of the service independent of June 2, 1924.

(b) Every alien seaman who did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from any island adjacent thereto, shall be examined by the immigration officer at the port of arrival before such vessel departs from such port, or if he was temporarily separated from the vessel before departure, before he is admitted to the United States, unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he was a member of the crew of such vessel and that he is not destined to the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 810; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I–418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "non-quota" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of the list, the alien seamen, including names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens:

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [his] a complete list of the crew, which list shall contain the names of all alien employees who were not employed on board the vessel at the time of the arrival [but who were employed on board such vessel at some time during the period of the vessel's stay in port, and the reasons for the discharge of such employees from the vessel, and the names, ages, sex, nationality, last permanent residence, calling, and intended final destination of all such aliens, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension of any such alien found unlawfully in the United States as may be required by the Attorney General. Such list shall be prepared and delivered at such time before the departure of any such vessel from the last port of call in a foreign country for the United States as the Attorney General may prescribe; and failure to comply with any such regulation shall be unlawful. Any person who knowingly shall refuse to deliver to the immigration officer any such list required of him, or who shall refuse to answer any question touching the same, or who shall knowingly make any false statement in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who knowingly shall refuse to answer any question touching the same, or who shall knowingly make any false statement in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged, and specifying those who are destined to the United States; and no such vessel shall depart from any port or place in the United States for any foreign port or place until a permit in writing shall have been granted by the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival: Provided, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any vessel may request and receive from the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a permit in writing for the departure of any alien crew member employed on such vessel, stating the position such alien crew member was employed to fill on such vessel, and specifying those who are destined to the United States, and such permit shall be delivered to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of such vessel upon the arrival of such vessel at the port or place in the United States for which such alien crew member was destined, or upon the departure of such alien crew member from the vessel at any intermediate port or place, upon the production of such permit and the identification of such alien crew member to the satisfaction of the principal immigration officer at such intermediate port or place: Provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any vessel shall report to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival the name of any alien crew member employed to fill the place of any alien crew member originally listed for such vessel who shall fail to join the vessel at any port or place in the United States for which such vessel shall clear, and the cause for such failure, so far as known, and shall deposit with the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a sum sufficient in the opinion of such officer to defray the expense of such alien crew member in returning to the country from which he came, or a sum sufficient to pay the passage money and expenses of such alien crew member to the port or place in a foreign country to which he belongs, if such there be, whichever may be the shorter route, unless such alien crew member is duly discharged in the United States with the consent of the principal immigration officer and shall give a bond in such sum, not exceeding $300, as may be required by such officer, conditioned to indemnify the United States against such expense: And provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any vessel shall report to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival the name of any alien crew member employed to fill a vacancy occurring from any cause at any intermediate port or place where such vessel may lawfully touch in the United States, and the cause of such vacancy, so far as known or ascertained, and shall deposit with such officer a sum sufficient in the opinion of such officer to defray the expense of such alien crew member in returning to the country from which he came, or to the port or place in a foreign country to which he belongs, if such there be, whichever may be the shorter route, unless such alien crew member is duly discharged in the United States with the consent of the principal immigration officer and shall give a bond in such sum, not exceeding $300, as may be required by such officer, conditioned to indemnify the United States against such expense: And provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any vessel shall report to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival the name of any alien employed to fill a vacancy occurring from any cause at any intermediate port or place where such vessel may lawfully touch in the United States, and the cause of such vacancy, so far as known or ascertained, and shall deposit with such officer a sum sufficient in the opinion of such officer to defray the expense of such alien crew member in returning to the country from which he came, or to the port or place in a foreign country to which he belongs, if such there be, whichever may be the shorter route, unless such alien crew member is duly discharged in the United States with the consent of the principal immigration officer and shall give a bond in such sum, not exceeding $300, as may be required by such officer, conditioned to indemnify the United States against such expense. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel shall cause each alien seaman employed on board thereof to be examined by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and no such alien seaman shall be permitted to land from any such vessel except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention, or when the Attorney General may prescribe for the alien seaman a bond with sufficient surety, conditioned on the departure of such alien from the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall fail to depart with the vessel on which he arrived, or on any vessel on which he may be transferred, or on another vessel within a reasonable time, unless prevented by sickness, injury, or other cause beyond his control, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof: Provided, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the deportation of any such alien seaman who has been in the United States for a period of five years next preceding the commencement of deportation proceedings against him, and who proves to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he has married a citizen of the United States during his stay in the United States and is living with his wife therein, or that he has a child or children who are citizens of the United States dependent upon him for support, and that he is of good moral character, and that he was not at the time of his entry a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, except the class described in paragraph (c) thereof, and that he was admitted in good faith for the purpose of following his calling as a seaman and not for the purpose of evading any provision of this Act. Any alien seaman who shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted as passengers shall be entitled to the privilege provided for such aliens. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.12 Limits of alien employees; navy clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), when read translated, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative officer prescribed by said section or to some officer prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 198) has been served, the oaths subscribed to by the master, and the certificate of the immigration officer, "Inspected, and found to be in accordance with the law," indorsed thereon. Where it is impracticable to board the vessel, the master may be sworn before a United States consular officer, and the list, with the oaths subscribed to by the master, and the certificate of the immigration officer, "Inspected, and found to be in accordance with the law," indorsed thereon, may be delivered to the master of the vessel for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose of this section the form of the list to be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list of aliens may be prepared on the regular Customs manifest blank, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list of aliens may be prepared on the regular Customs manifest blank, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list of aliens may be prepared on the regular Customs manifest blank, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alleged alien is at the same time a "non-quota" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and a specific space to be filled in by the port of arrival; to list countries of which they are citizens or subjects, and to answer such questions relative to such aliens, touching their right to admission to the United States, as may be required by the Attorney General; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to deliver to such immigration officer, at the time of the vessel's departure from a port in the United States, a list containing the names of all such aliens employed on such vessel, showing the date, port, and manner of such departure, and the destination of such aliens, so far as known. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered as herein provided, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the remission of the fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall any fine be remitted or refunded. Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.13. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via seven inch the limit fixed by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), when such transfer, and not from alien duties notice of intention to the administrative authority has prescribed by said section or to a fine prescribed by section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 198) unless a deposit has been waived, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or in case of shipwreck, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to detain on board such vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection at all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General, or who fails to deport such seaman at such time or in such manner as the Attorney General may prescribe in the regulations in relation to the deportation of such alien from the United States, or who fails to pay the expenses of such deportation, or who fails to comply with such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe governing the care and maintenance of such seamen, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of any question upon the deposit of a bond in sufficient amount to cover such fine, or of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The action, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which unpaid on the date of enactment.

(b) Every such fine as aforesaid shall not become upon the outgoing vessel of the master of such vessel a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by the United States from such vessel notwithstanding the payment of such fine, and such vessel may be detained by the immigration officer of the port or the collector of customs until such fine is paid or secured to be paid to his satisfaction or that of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to which he belongs would cause undue hardship, such seaman may be permitted by the immigration officer or the Attorney General to depart from the United States on any vessel on which a berth may be obtained, other than a vessel of the nationality of the alien seaman, upon the deposit of such sum as the Attorney General may require, not exceeding the amount of the fine imposed, but such vessel may be detained by the immigration officer or the Attorney General until such deposit is refunded or such fine paid. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be preserved on board vessels arriving at ports in the United States and shall be kept available for inspection by any immigrant inspector desiring to see it. Failure to produce such list upon demand, or the willful destruction, mutilation, or defacement of any entry therein, or the refusal to permit any immigrant inspector to make such copies therefrom as he may desire, will be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Act Feb. 20, 1907, sec. 16.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons who may be on board said vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when they started from the place of their permanent abode, their ultimate destination, whether they have been convicted of any crime or misdemeanor, whether they are polygamists, whether they are in possession of $50 and have paid their own passage, whether they have been in the United States before, how they came, whether they have a ticket through to their destination, whether they have been assisted in coming, and by whom, whether they are coming under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, their age, sex, nationality, race, and last occupation, whether they can read or write, whether they are married or single, the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend whom they intend to join, whether they have ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are connected with any institution for the insane, whether they are coming for a permanent or temporary residence, what trade or profession they have followed, what amount of money they have with them, whether they have a ticket through to their destination, whether they have been deported before, whether they are going to join a relative or friend, and if so what relative or friend, the name and complete address of such relative or friend, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The said lists shall be delivered to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival before any of the persons listed thereon shall be landed, and shall be produced upon the demand of any immigrant inspector, and shall be preserved by the master for a period of three years thereafter, and shall be open to the inspection of any immigrant inspector. The list of aliens required to be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival shall be prepared on the forms (Form 828) and in the manner prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The list of aliens required to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure in the United States shall contain the names in full of all persons, including citizens of the United States, who may be passengers on board, but shall not be required to state the nationality, race, or last occupation of persons who were born in the United States, the object in view in visiting foreign countries, the length of time spent in each country, the port at which they landed in the United States, and whether they have been in the United States before, and if so how long, when, and for what purpose. The master shall also report the name of every alien who may die on board and the cause of death. Masters of vessels shall report the illness or injury of any alien on board, together with the name and destination of such alien, and the nature of the treatment furnished. Masters of vessels shall report the names of all aliens employed or who may be employed during the time the vessel may remain in port, and such other information in regard to such aliens as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration. Masters of vessels shall report the name of any alien employed on board their vessels who shall desert while in port, and shall, if required by the Commissioner of Immigration, detain such alien on board the vessel or in such manner as he may direct until a permit to land such alien shall have been issued by the Commissioner of Immigration or until the decision of the Board of Special Inquiry in the case of such alien shall have been rendered. Masters of vessels who shall refuse or neglect to report, detain, or deliver any such alien, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any other duty required of them by this section or who shall refuse or neglect to answer questions fully and correctly, or who shall knowingly or willfully report, write, or cause or permit to be reported, written, or published any false or incorrect statement or information concerning the same, shall be severally liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each such offense: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector.

(a) Front sheet to be filled in by the master or agent of the vessel on which the alien arrives.

(b) To be filled in by the immigrant inspector at the time of examination.

(c) If the vessel sails from a foreign port to a port in the United States, except Alaska, touching at a Canadian port for the purpose of taking on passengers destined to the United States, the master of such vessel shall report the names of all such passengers to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in the United States, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such passengers.

SEC. 37. No alien seaman shall be employed on board any vessel in the navigation of the waters of the United States unless he has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States at least two years prior to the date of his employment, and has been employed on board vessels sailing from ports of the United States for at least one year prior to his application for a certificate of service, and has obtained such certificate from the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel in violation of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each month or fraction thereof during which he is employed on board such vessel, and shall be arrested and detained on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival of such vessel shall have been satisfied that the provisions of this section have been complied with, and such penalty paid. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel in violation of this section shall be entitled to receive from the master or owner of such vessel the same wages as are paid to seamen of equal rating on board such vessel, and shall be treated in all respects as such seamen are treated, and shall have a lien upon such vessel for the recovery of such wages, which may be enforced in any admiralty court having jurisdiction thereof. Any master or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse to pay such wages when due shall be liable to pay double the amount thereof to such seaman, to be recovered in any admiralty court having jurisdiction thereof. Any master or owner of any such vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each such offense.

(d) If the Secretary of Labor shall not be satisfied that any seaman employed on any vessel in a capacity other than as a member of the crew, shall be duly qualified to perform the duties of the position in which he is employed, he may require such seaman to undergo such examination as he may deem necessary for the purpose of determining the qualifications of such seaman, and may withhold the certificate of service of such seaman pending the result of such examination.

(e) It shall be the duty of the immigration officer in charge at any port of arrival to report to the Secretary of Labor the name of any seaman who has been employed on any vessel on which he has served, and who has been reported to the Secretary of Labor as having deserted, or who has been reported to the Secretary of Labor as having been discharged in a foreign port, and to furnish such information in regard to the case as may be required by the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees levied by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to the fine prescribed by section 35 of said act has been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention, certified by the medical officer in charge, or for the purpose of participating in the hearing before the Board of Special Inquiry, or for the purpose of obtaining documents from the consular officer of the country to which he proposes to go or from which he came, or pending the receipt of funds with which to pay his passage to the country to which he proposes to go or from which he came, or pending the arrangement for such passage, or pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived or another vessel upon which he can be lawfully employed, or pending the arrangement for the deportation of such seaman in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who may be found in the United States in violation of this Act: Provided, That no such seaman shall be permitted to land temporarily as hereinbefore provided unless a bond in the sum of $300 with sufficient surety to secure the payment of the cost of maintenance and the ultimate deportation of such seaman shall have been given by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which such seaman arrived, in such form and manner and with such sureties as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and in default of the giving of such bond such seaman shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who may be found in the United States in violation of this Act. Any such seaman who has been permitted to land temporarily as provided in this section and who has been ordered deported shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge pending the departure of the vessel from the port, or pending the expiration of such period of time as may be reasonably necessary to secure his admission to any other country. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States except as provided in this section shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who may be found in the United States in violation of this Act. Any such seaman who shall be found on board any vessel after the departure of the vessel from the port at which he arrived shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who may be found in the United States in violation of this Act. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who may be found in the United States in violation of this Act.

(a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman employed on board such vessel shall include a statement particularly describing each such alien seaman in the manifest required to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall report the departure or removal from the United States of each such alien seaman, whether by deportation or otherwise, or his employment on board any other vessel before the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, and shall deliver to the master of such vessel a certified copy of the list or manifest upon which such alien seaman is entered, and it shall be the duty of the master of such vessel to report the illness or injury of any such alien seaman, the name of the hospital in which he was treated, and the name and address of the physician who attended him, and to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a certificate from such physician as to the cause of illness of such alien seaman. Such certificate shall be prepared on the forms furnished by the Secretary of Labor. Such master shall also report the name of any alien seaman who shall desert while in port, and shall, if required by the Commissioner of Immigration, detain such alien seaman on board the vessel or in such manner as he may direct until a permit to land such alien seaman shall have been granted by the Commissioner of Immigration or the Board of Special Inquiry shall have rendered a decision in the case of such alien seaman. Masters of vessels who shall refuse or fail to report, detain, or deliver any such alien seaman, or who shall refuse or fail to answer questions fully and correctly, or who shall knowingly or willfully report, write, or cause or permit to be reported, written, or published any false or incorrect statement or information concerning the same, shall be severally liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. No clearance shall be granted any vessel while any penalty which may be imposed upon the master thereof under the provisions of this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector.

(b) Front sheet to be filled in by the master or agent of the vessel on which the alien arrives.

(c) If the vessel sails from a foreign port to a port in the United States, except Alaska, touching at a Canadian port for the purpose of taking on passengers destined to the United States, the master of such vessel shall report the names of all such passengers to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in the United States, and the provisions of this section shall apply to such passengers.

VETIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, David R. Wolfe, Master, of the Panther Motor Yacht RAIDA do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew principal or mate access from and port or place during per. present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 14 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

D R Wolfe

Master, ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ at Miami, Fla.

Sworn to before me this 30 day of November, 1948

Immigrant Inspector.

Panther Motor Yacht Co.
Owner
Patrick H. Miller.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall not be destroyed by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (Form I–418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, "NONE" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position that they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board for the vessel at the port of arrival; to list contained as much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the said vessel it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien employed before the departure of the said vessel from the port of arrival shall have deserted or left the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension: and such master, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien shall have been illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension: and such master, agent, consignee, or master shall not be granted clearance for the vessel by the collector of the port until he shall be in receipt of a certificate from the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival that all the aliens employed on the vessel at the time of its departure have been accounted for as in this section provided: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall require the master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel to report the name of any alien employed as a bona fide member of the crew of such vessel who shall depart from the United States with the vessel upon which he arrived and who shall have been reported by the master of such vessel as required by section 33 of this Act: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the reporting of aliens employed on such vessel, in the case of any vessel making regular trips across the land borders between the United States and contiguous territory, or between the United States and adjacent islands, or trips to ports of call in Alaska, Hawaii, Panama, or Canada, or such trips as he may designate, which trips, in his opinion, do not make necessary the reporting of such aliens.

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171.), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to file such lists or to that effect has been received by the district director at the port of departure. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 14. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, or any insular possession of the United States, except upon a certificate in the form prescribed by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and issued by the Secretary of Labor to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived, stating specifically the cause for his exclusion, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless he shall be specially certified by the Secretary of Labor to be a member of a class of aliens or to the case of an individual alien whose entry is found to be for the national interest. Before the departure of any vessel from a port of the United States the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof, or the immigrant inspector in charge at such port, shall cause all seamen employed on board such vessel who are to be discharged in foreign ports to be examined by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, and certificates to be issued to such seamen as to their mental and physical condition. Such examination shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officers at the port of departure, except that the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, designate any United States immigration officer to perform such examination at any port where such officers are stationed, and may, in his discretion, designate any medical officer of the United States Army or Navy, or any surgeon of the United States Public Health Service, or any civil surgeon of the United States Army, to perform such examination at any port where no such officers are stationed. Such certificates shall be delivered to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, and a duplicate thereof shall be filed with the immigrant inspector in charge at the port. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands who shall refuse to submit to such examination before the departure of the vessel from the port, or who shall refuse to obey the lawful requirements or regulations issued by the Secretary of Labor for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, or who shall secrete himself on board such vessel in order to avoid such examination, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be incapable of becoming a citizen of the United States. The cost of maintenance and treatment of any such alien seaman pending his certification and deportation shall be paid from the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. The Secretary of Labor is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, except upon the certification of such alien from the United States Public Health Service, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate detention, removal, deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Every such alien seaman employed on such vessel shall, before the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, be examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate detention, removal, deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, except upon the certification of such alien from the United States Public Health Service, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate detention, removal, deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Every such alien seaman employed on such vessel shall, before the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, be examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate detention, removal, deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that such deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, he may, in his discretion, permit such alien seaman to remain in the United States for such time as he may specify, not exceeding five years, upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to insure that at the time of such alien's departure he will be in possession of the passport required by the country of which he is a subject or citizen, and will depart to such country. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond and cancel any such bond. Such bond shall not be required of any alien seaman who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be unable to furnish such passport because no such passport has been issued to him by the country of which he claims to be a subject or citizen, and who establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he cannot secure such passport without unreasonable delay or expense or without returning to the United States. Failure to deport any alien seaman as required by this section shall render the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived liable to a penalty of $300 for each seaman not deported. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the penalty has been paid or a sufficient sum deposited to cover it. (43 Stat. 164–165, as amended, 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR
IMMIGRATION SERVICE

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens to whom permission to land is granted shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. "Master" as used herein shall include any person in charge of a vessel. Failure to prepare the list or to deliver it to the immigration officer at the time of arrival shall be unlawful and may result in the imposition of a penalty of $300 for each alien concerned in respect to whom such failure occurs. Attention is directed to section 273 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which provides penalties for bringing aliens to the United States who do not have valid documents. Masters are also required to detain any alien crewman who has been certified for hospital treatment by the Service. (See 8 U. S. C. 1223.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such persons, if such be the fact. Such lists shall be prepared in the form and manner and contain such further information as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be delivered in duplicate to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before any of the persons listed therein shall be landed. Any person who shall refuse to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to permit any immigration officer to board any such vessel for the purpose of examining the same, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully questions propounded by such immigration officer, or who shall refuse to exhibit the ship's papers and the persons on board thereof for such examination, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any person who shall knowingly make any false statement in relation to the information required by this section

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names in full of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival; or, if there be no such immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, then to the collector of customs at such port, who shall forward forthwith a true copy of such lists to the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be delivered in duplicate in the port of arrival before the departure of any such vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to relate to the right of such alien to enter the United States as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. All aliens employed on such vessel, coming to ports of the United States from foreign ports, shall be listed, whether they are to be landed at such ports or to depart therefrom with the vessel. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list of all aliens employed on such vessel who were not listed by the name of each alien at the time of departure from the last foreign port or place visited by such vessel, stating as nearly as may be ascertained the length of time each such alien has been employed on board such vessel, and the reason why each such alien is to be discharged from such employment. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and completely to the best of his knowledge any question touching the right of any alien to enter the United States which may be asked by any immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board such vessel any alien when ordered so to do by such immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any such alien certified to be specially inquired for by any consular officer, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly authorized immigration officer at the port of arrival, or concerning whom any other default is made under the provisions of this section, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such vessel be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, no clearance shall be granted to such vessel while she remains in any port of the United States as an owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 7. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been paid or deposited, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to the fine prescribed by section 32 of said Act, shall have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as may render his removal on such vessel inadvisable, unless a bond in such sum not exceeding $300 for each seaman as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and with sufficient surety, shall be deposited by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel guaranteeing the payment of a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to pay the collector of customs. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond or reduce the amount thereof: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, upon the recommendation of the Commissioner General of Immigration, in lieu of a bond in such amount as to cover each case, or in lieu of a bond fully sufficient under this section to secure the payment thereof, accept a deposit of cash in such amount as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, such deposit to be held by the collector of customs. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or reduce the amount thereof.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels not specifically mentioned in section 13 (c) hereof, irrespective of the date of their entry into the United States, arriving at any port in the United States from any place outside thereof, or which may arrive at any such port from any place outside thereof, during the calendar year 1940.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or to which he was transferred pursuant to law, or who shall depart from the United States without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided in the case of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of this Act.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such seaman shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posting the vessel at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons of alien nationality who are entering the United States from any foreign port or place in the Canal Zone, Porto Rico, Hawaii, or the Philippine Islands, shall be prepared in duplicate, one copy to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States, and the other copy to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of departure from the United States for the foreign country to which the alien seaman is destined. In order to facilitate inspection, masters of vessels (Form I–84) shall not be restricted on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien entering seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and where they are destined if known, and such other information regarding them as may be required by the rules and regulations hereinafter prescribed; and no alien seaman shall be allowed to land from any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place until a certificate of the boarding officer has been delivered to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel permitting the landing of such alien seaman, which certificate shall be delivered up by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel to the immigration officer at the port of arrival: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may by regulations prescribe, and alter from time to time, the ports at which such certificates shall be delivered up: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may by regulations prescribe the conditions upon which masters of vessels may be permitted to land seamen employed on their vessels in the United States without requiring the delivery of certificates in the case of such seamen, and may by regulations provide for the withdrawal of such permission in the case of masters who have been guilty of violating the provisions of this section relating to seamen: Provided further, That masters of vessels may be required to deposit with the immigration officer at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the return transportation of any seaman employed on their vessels who may be certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to be suffering from a mental or physical disability or infectious or contagious disease, which certificate shall state that in the opinion of said medical officer the said seaman is likely to become a public charge, and that the cost of the return transportation of such seaman will not be less than the sum deposited for the purpose. Upon the certification by the said medical officer that the seaman specified therein is able to be returned to his country, or other place of destination, the said sum deposited, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be applied to the return transportation of the said seaman, and any surplus remaining shall be returned to the depositor. Any master who shall refuse or neglect to comply with any of the requirements of this section shall pay a penalty of $300 for each such offense; and no vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty. Such penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by process of libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port is situated in which the vessel shall arrive or depart. The Secretary of Labor shall prescribe rules and regulations governing the admission temporarily into the United States of alien seamen employed on vessels arriving at ports of the United States, and shall prescribe the conditions upon which such seamen may be granted such temporary admission, and may require a bond in such sum and with such sureties as he may deem necessary to insure that such seamen will depart from the United States on the vessel bringing them to the United States or on some other vessel, and may withhold clearance from any vessel which has violated the conditions upon which any seaman was granted temporary admission. Any seaman who departs from the United States without having been granted clearance by the Secretary of Labor shall be deported in the manner provided by law unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such seaman departs shall have given a bond in such sum, not exceeding $300, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the return of such seaman within such period of time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver the certificate provided for in this section, or who refuses or fails to deliver up the certificate of any seaman granted temporary admission under the provisions of this section,

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring his removal, or for deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel duly admitted in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring his removal, or for deportation of such alien from the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily by such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deport any such seaman on board such vessel when departing from the United States, or who employs any such seaman not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the time of arrival at the port of departure, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master, key of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel key the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not exceed clearance duly expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, CHRISTIAN JEPERSEN, of the SS PT EXPLORER, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in so said vessel from/and port or place stated per present schedule. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, supra, appear below.

Sworn to before me this 1st day of SEPTEMBER, 1948

Master, First or Second Officer.

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possible the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. "Master" as used in the instructions includes any officer succeeding to command of the vessel. The list of crew shall not be removed from the vessel until the last member of the crew has been inspected by the immigration officer, or his assistant, or a boarding officer designated by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and no member of the crew shall be permitted to land in the United States except upon written permission of the immigration officer at the port of arrival and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe. Failure to deliver the list to the immigration officer at the port of arrival will result in the imposition of a penalty of $300 for each person not listed, unless it be proved that such person was not on board the vessel at the time of departure from the last foreign port or place at which the vessel touched before arrival in the United States. Failure to deliver a correct list may also result in the imposition of a penalty of $300 for each person not listed or improperly listed. Any master who refuses to deliver the list to the boarding officer, or who refuses to answer truthfully the questions contained therein, may be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

Sec. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists or manifests of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; to state concerning the number of such aliens employed which of the ports they severally intend to land at, and to make such other and further statements in relation thereto as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such lists or manifests shall be prepared at such time before the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place as the immigration officer at the port of arrival may prescribe, and shall be subject to such further verification before the departure of the vessel from the United States as the immigration officer at the port of departure may deem necessary. Such lists or manifests shall be signed by the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall show the full name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether in possession of a valid passport, whether destined to a consular office for an immigrant visa, whether in possession of such visa, and the result of application for such visa, whether a citizen of the United States, whether in transit through the United States to a foreign country, whether ever before in the United States, and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or assistance of any kind to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, whether in possession of a ticket through to the country whereof he is a citizen or subject or to some other country, the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came, the name and complete address of the relative or friend in the United States to whom he is going, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so how long, the price paid for the vessel's passage, whether the passage was paid for by himself or by others, whether he has a ticket for passage to his ultimate destination, whether his passage is paid for by himself or by others, whether he has been employed in the United States before, and if so when and where, whether he has been employed by the Government of the United States or any State, county, city, or other municipal government, or any political subdivision thereof, and the nature of such employment, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates or teaches the overthrow by force or violence or by the assassination of public officials of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching the overthrow by force or violence or by the assassination of public officials of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he has ever been in a penal institution or reformatory or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, which and when, whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of performing labor or service of any kind, and if so what kind, the length of time he intends to remain, whether he intends to return to the country whence he came after the performance of the labor or service for which he is coming, and his reasons therefor, whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States, whether he is a skilled laborer or person of profession, and if so what profession, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously existing contract, and if so by whom such contract was made, whether he has a ticket or money with which to purchase a ticket, how much money he has with him, whether he has been deported from the United States, and if so when and why, the place of birth, the last residence before coming to the United States, the name and address of the husband or wife and children, if any, of such alien if residing in the United States, and such other facts and information as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel who shall refuse to answer any question put to him by any immigration officer in relation to the matters about which he is required by this section to report, or who shall fail to report concerning any alien on board his vessel, or who shall fail to deliver the list required by this section at the time of the inspection of the vessel by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall fail to deliver a correct list, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct data are not delivered, or a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

Sec. 15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied.—Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the data required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), when passengers are carried, and not then unless notice of intention to the contrary is not received from the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization within ten days after the inspection of the vessel by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further time as may be necessary for the prompt examination of the persons on board. (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 173.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

Sec. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall refuse to permit any immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to inspect any alien on board such vessel, or who shall fail to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of inspection or to deport such alien in all cases shall forfeit a sum not exceeding $300 for each such alien, to be recovered by action of debt in the name of the United States. (39 Stat. 884; 8 U. S. C. 146.)

(b) Any master, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall refuse to answer truthfully any question put to him by any immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pertaining to any alien on board such vessel, or who shall fail to deliver the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), when passengers are carried, and not then unless notice of intention to the contrary is received from the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization within ten days after the inspection of the vessel by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further time as may be necessary for the prompt examination of the persons on board, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment or hospital treatment by order of the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or to secure the services of a surgeon to perform a surgical operation found necessary for the immediate welfare of the alien, or to secure the services of a nurse for such alien, or to obtain the necessary clearance papers, or to make repairs to the vessel, or to obtain supplies, or to discharge cargo, or to land sick or injured members of the crew, or to land the remains of a deceased member of the crew, or to land any alien for the purpose of having him participate in any case or proceeding before a court or judge, or for the purpose of having him testify in any case or proceeding before a court or judge, or for the purpose of having him examined by alienists, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the inquiry to permit the vessel to depart from a port or place in the United States with any alien detained thereon for special inquiry under the provisions of section 16 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 152), if the vessel is in charge of a pilot who is to take her to sea without delay, and the inspection officer in charge at the port of arrival is notified by the master before the departure of the vessel of the name of each alien detained and the reason for detaining him. (39 Stat. 884; 8 U. S. C. 146.)

(c) If the Attorney General is of opinion that the immigration officer at the port of arrival has been guilty of unreasonable delay in the performance of his duties, or has refused to perform the same, he may report the facts to the Attorney General for his consideration and action.

(d) Every alien detained for special inquiry under the provisions of section 16 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 152) shall be given all reasonable facilities by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for communicating with relatives or friends, and with counsel, and for the engagement of counsel to represent him in the hearings before the Board of Special Inquiry, and before the Secretary of Labor on appeal, if any be taken, and shall be given all reasonable facilities for the preparation of appeals, and for the production of witnesses in his behalf before the Board of Special Inquiry, the Secretary of Labor, and the courts. (39 Stat. 884; 8 U. S. C. 147.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place outside thereof, or arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or, in the case of a seaman employed on board a vessel which is licensed to engage in the coastwise trade, for the purpose of taking such seaman to the port at which he is to be employed, or to such destination as may be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or for the purpose of changing the vessel on board which he arrived for another vessel, or for the purpose of accompanying a sick or injured member of the crew who is certified by a medical officer of the United States to be unable to proceed to sea, or for the purpose of attending the funeral of a deceased member of the crew, or for any other reason in the discretion of the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, but no such seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States for the purpose of medical treatment if such treatment is available without cost to such seaman. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman who is prohibited from landing by the provisions of this section shall be required to remove such alien on board such vessel or to cause him to be removed to the country from which he came to the United States or to such other country as may be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and shall be required to pay the cost of his maintenance while he is detained in the United States and the cost of his removal from the United States. Such cost of maintenance and removal shall be a lien upon the vessel, and clearance may be withheld or the vessel may be seized and proceeded against through the courts for the recovery of the amount of such cost. (b) Any master, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel who shall refuse to comply with the requirements of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such refusal occurs, and may also be imprisoned for not more than one year. (c) If the Attorney General is of opinion that the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel has been guilty of unreasonable delay in the performance of his duties, or has refused to perform the same, he may report the facts to the Attorney General for his consideration and action. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

Failure to comply with this requirement will result in the imposition of a penalty of $300 for each offense.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of the port of arrival [each continuing the names of all alien employees and crew on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's economy, where they were respectively born, and the nationality to which they belong, and the last foreign port from which they severally came to the United States, and the intended destination of each, which list shall be prepared in the port of departure, and also the names and last known addresses of any relatives in the United States whom any such alien employee may intend to join, and the purpose for which he intends to enter the United States, which list shall be prepared by the master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of the vessel at the time of her departure: and also the names of those employees who were not employed when the vessel sailed from the last foreign port, but who have been engaged to proceed to the United States in the vessel, and the reasons for their subsequent employment, which list shall be prepared by the master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of the vessel at the time of her departure from such foreign port, and delivered to the immigrant inspector at the first port of arrival in the United States; and the master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of any vessel bringing any alien employee who was not included in the list of such employees prepared at the last foreign port of departure, as above provided, shall, in case of the failure of such master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of the vessel to report such alien employee, forfeit and pay for each such offense the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to report such alien employee, the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, in addition to the penalty of $10 for each alien not included in the list delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of departure of such ship: Provided, That deserters from vessels in the service of the United States shall not be returned under the provisions of this section: Provided further, That the penalty shall not be imposed, while it remains unpaid, upon any vessel which shall have been libeled therefor and released on bond or stipulation in the manner provided by law: Provided further, That the Secretary of Commerce may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof imposed under the provisions of this section.

SEC. 38. (a) That it shall be unlawful for any person, company, partnership, or corporation to bring into the United States from any foreign port or place any alien, except upon the certificate of the consular officer at the port of departure, or, if there be no consular officer at such port, then upon the certificate of the consular officer at the most convenient port, that such alien has been granted a visa for entry into the United States, and that such consular officer has ascertained that such alien is not excluded from admission into the United States under any of the provisions of this Act, or any other law or treaty now in force or hereafter enacted or ratified regulating the admission of aliens into the United States, and that such alien is not excluded from admission into the United States under any of the provisions of this Act, or any other law or treaty now in force or hereafter enacted or ratified regulating the admission of aliens into the United States, except upon the certificate of the consular officer at the port of departure, or, if there be no consular officer at such port, then upon the certificate of the consular officer at the most convenient port.

SEC. 13. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or the operator of any aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman, or who refuses to detain on board such alien seaman (after inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) or who fails to detain such seaman as so detained after inspection or to so detain such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such seaman is found a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each such seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question or while such seaman is detained on board, except that clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application, in his discretion and upon the production of such other evidence as may be available, remit any such fine or any part thereof. Such application must be made within one year from the date of the final order in the case. Pending final determination by the Attorney General no fine shall be collected or bond enforced. The decision of the Attorney General shall be final as to the remission or mitigation of such fine or any part thereof.

(b) Every alien seaman who has been temporarily permitted to land temporarily under bond, pursuant to the provisions of section 18 of this Act, shall be deported as a matter of course when required to depart by the Attorney General, unless the Attorney General shall be satisfied that he has become a bona fide resident of the United States during the period of his temporary permission to land, and that his character and conduct entitle him to be admitted to the United States for permanent residence, and in such case the Attorney General may record the landing of such alien as of the date of his original arrival in the United States, without requiring him to return to a foreign port or place for the purpose of obtaining a visa.

(c) If the Attorney General shall be satisfied that any alien seaman has been employed on any vessel in violation of this section, such alien seaman shall not be granted a visa as an immigrant or nonimmigrant, unless the Attorney General shall be satisfied that such alien seaman did not have any knowledge that the employment of such alien seaman was in violation of this section, or that such alien seaman has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for the purpose of obtaining another position on board a vessel of the nationality to which the vessel on which he arrived belongs, or to which he may lawfully be entitled, or for the purpose of proceeding to the country of his birth or former residence, at the option of the master, upon the certificate of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that such alien seaman has been so treated for a sickness or injury not due to his own culpable negligence subsequent to his arrival at such port, or that such alien seaman has been issued a passport by the consular officer of the country to which he belongs, or that such consular officer has waived the issuance of a passport to such alien seaman, or that such alien seaman has been ordered deported in lieu of being granted a visa as an immigrant or nonimmigrant by the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–166; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman as provided in section 13 hereof, or who refuses to detain such seaman as so detained after inspection or to so detain such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such seaman is found a sum not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon application and certificate of the Attorney General, made after deportation of the alien seaman or the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such sum has been paid or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application, in his discretion and upon the production of such other evidence as may be available, remit any such fine or any part thereof. Such application must be made within one year from the date of the final order in the case. Pending final determination by the Attorney General no fine shall be collected or bond enforced. The decision of the Attorney General shall be final as to the remission or mitigation of such fine or any part thereof.

(b) That all alien seamen employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be duly entered on the list of crew by the master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of the vessel at the port of arrival, and such list shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port. When any alien seaman (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. It is the duty of the master to have it ready for inspection at all times while the vessel is docked at such place, and to deliver it to the immigrant inspector at the time of departure. Failure to comply with this requirement will result in the imposition of a penalty of $300 for each offense.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of the port of arrival [each continuing the names of all alien employees and crew on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's economy, where they were respectively born, and the nationality to which they belong, and the last foreign port from which they severally came to the United States, and the intended destination of each, which list shall be prepared in the port of departure, and also the names and last known addresses of any relatives in the United States whom any such alien employee may intend to join, and the purpose for which he intends to enter the United States, which list shall be prepared by the master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of the vessel at the time of her departure from such foreign port, and delivered to the immigrant inspector at the first port of arrival in the United States; and the master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of any vessel bringing any alien employee who was not included in the list of such employees prepared at the last foreign port of departure, as above provided, shall, in case of the failure of such master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of the vessel to report such alien employee, forfeit and pay for each such offense the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to report such alien employee, the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, in addition to the penalty of $10 for each alien not included in the list delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of departure of such ship: Provided, That deserters from vessels in the service of the United States shall not be returned under the provisions of this section: Provided further, That the penalty shall not be imposed, while it remains unpaid, upon any vessel which shall have been libeled therefor and released on bond or stipulation in the manner provided by law: Provided further, That the Secretary of Commerce may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof imposed under the provisions of this section.

SEC. 38. (a) That it shall be unlawful for any person, company, partnership, or corporation to bring into the United States from any foreign port or place any alien, except upon the certificate of the consular officer at the port of departure, or, if there be no consular officer at such port, then upon the certificate of the consular officer at the most convenient port, that such alien has been granted a visa for entry into the United States, and that such consular officer has ascertained that such alien is not excluded from admission into the United States under any of the provisions of this Act, or any other law or treaty now in force or hereafter enacted or ratified regulating the admission of aliens into the United States, and that such alien is not excluded from admission into the United States under any of the provisions of this Act, or any other law or treaty now in force or hereafter enacted or ratified regulating the admission of aliens into the United States, except upon the certificate of the consular officer at the port of departure, or, if there be no consular officer at such port, then upon the certificate of the consular officer at the most convenient port.

SEC. 13. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or the operator of any aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman, or who refuses to detain on board such alien seaman (after inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) or who fails to detain such seaman as so detained after inspection or to so detain such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such seaman is found a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each such seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question or while such seaman is detained on board, except that clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application, in his discretion and upon the production of such other evidence as may be available, remit any such fine or any part thereof. Such application must be made within one year from the date of the final order in the case. Pending final determination by the Attorney General no fine shall be collected or bond enforced. The decision of the Attorney General shall be final as to the remission or mitigation of such fine or any part thereof.

(b) Every alien seaman who has been temporarily permitted to land temporarily under bond, pursuant to the provisions of section 18 of this Act, shall be deported as a matter of course when required to depart by the Attorney General, unless the Attorney General shall be satisfied that he has become a bona fide resident of the United States during the period of his temporary permission to land, and that his character and conduct entitle him to be admitted to the United States for permanent residence, and in such case the Attorney General may record the landing of such alien as of the date of his original arrival in the United States, without requiring him to return to a foreign port or place for the purpose of obtaining a visa.

(c) If the Attorney General shall be satisfied that any alien seaman has been employed on any vessel in violation of this section, such alien seaman shall not be granted a visa as an immigrant or nonimmigrant, unless the Attorney General shall be satisfied that such alien seaman did not have any knowledge that the employment of such alien seaman was in violation of this section, or that such alien seaman has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman, including seamen of alliance American citizen seamen as well as aliens, is taken on board at any port for transportation to the United States, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of the crew, the master, purser, or other officer in charge of the vessel should be prepared to furnish a complete list of the crew, showing the full name of each member, his nationality, last permanent residence, and the port at which he intends to land. Immigrant inspectors will be stationed at the gangway of vessels arriving at ports where there are such officers, and no member of the crew will be allowed to leave the vessel until he has been inspected by one of these officers, or by the master, purser, or other officer specially designated for the purpose. Masters, pursers, and other officers are required to report the illness or injury of any member of the crew, or the presence of any stowaway, to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival before the vessel is allowed to proceed to sea. Masters, pursers, and other officers are required to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a correct list of all crew members who have been left behind in the United States since the vessel's last arrival at a port in the United States, the cause for their detention, and the amount of money deposited with the Commissioner of Immigration for the use of each. Masters, pursers, and other officers are required to report the illness or injury of any member of the crew occurring while in quarantine, and to deliver to the quarantine officer a complete list of the crew. Masters, pursers, and other officers are required to report the death of any member of the crew occurring while in quarantine, and to deliver to the quarantine officer a complete list of the crew. Masters, pursers, and other officers are required to report the death of any member of the crew occurring while in quarantine, and to deliver to the quarantine officer a complete list of the crew.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely none of those so to be held on board at any time without the permission of the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver lists containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at such immigrant station, and to report the illness or injury to any alien employee who may become ill before the departure of any such vessel if such be the case, and the cause of death of any such employee who may die before the departure of any such vessel, if such be the case, and to report the names of those, if any, who have been left behind in a foreign country or elsewhere, and the cause therefor, and also the names of those, if any, who have been born on board, and to deliver lists containing such information concerning all such persons, and to pay the head tax of $8 for each alien employee, except those specifically exempted by law, and to report the sickness or injury of any alien passenger occurring during the voyage, stating the name, age, sex, nationality, and last permanent residence of such passenger, and the cause of such sickness or injury, and the duration thereof, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all passengers who have been treated by the ship's surgeon during the voyage, stating the name, age, sex, nationality, and last permanent residence of such passenger, and the cause of such treatment, and the duration thereof, and to deliver to the SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or intransit to and from foreign territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or shipwreck, during the period such vessel remains in port, or for the purpose of obtaining other employment in exchange for the discharge of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to which such alien may be entered and inspected and admitted (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection or to report such inspection or to report such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section shall be enforced, shall apply to all foreign seamen who do not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such alien may be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of the necessity for his testimony in connection with any investigation or proceeding relative to the cause of the illness or injury for which he was treated in a hospital, or pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or pending his deportation or such alien seaman is certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board such vessel or on board some other vessel, or to proceed to and depart from the United States from any place outside thereof, or fails to obtain on board the vessel before departure the certificate of the medical officer at the port of arrival that such seaman is free from any infectious or contagious disease, or who fails to comply with any of the requirements of this section. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155). Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or bond in the case of any alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The second proviso of section 18 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board such vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board such vessel or on board some other vessel, or to proceed to and depart from the United States from any place outside thereof, or fails to obtain on board the vessel before departure the certificate of the medical officer at the port of arrival that such seaman is free from any infectious or contagious disease, or who fails to comply with any of the requirements of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the Attorney General or the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or bond in the case of any alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of the time of their entry into the United States.

(b) Proof shall be upon any alien seaman who did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart upon such vessel, unless the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 28 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens must be prepared by the master in the form prescribed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival. "Write in ink." "Do not abbreviate." "Number consecutively." "Give full name of every alien." "Indicate whether citizen or subject of country specified." "Give last residence and last permanent address." "Write plainly." "Be careful to spell correctly." "Do not omit any information required." "Any master or agent of any vessel who refuses to answer any question addressed to him by an immigration officer, or who fails to exercise due diligence in the preparation of a correct list, or who refuses to deliver such list to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last port in the United States, or who refuses to subscribe to the oath required, or who knowingly makes any false statement in connection therewith, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court."

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, within the boundaries fixed by the immediate inspector in charge of the port of arrival, first continue to the person designated in the port of arrival; to take continue to the same to all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the respective ports to be paid to and discharged in the port of arrival; to take continue to the same to all aliens, concerned, or master to report to such immediate officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, ill cases in which any such alien shall illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, but only such aliens shall leave port thereon at the time of the departure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel a certificate in writing, to the effect that the name of such alien has been reported to the Attorney General for special inquiry, and also the manner of such disposition thereof; and such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall furnish to the Attorney General, or to any officer designated by him, such information in his possession concerning such alien as may be required by the Attorney General, and shall, if required by the Attorney General, detain such alien on board such vessel or in such manner as the immigration officer in charge of the port may direct until a bond has been given to the United States in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the Attorney General, conditioned for the payment of the hospital expenses and maintenance of such alien, and also conditioned that if such alien shall be certified to the Attorney General for special inquiry, he shall be delivered to the custody of the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, or at such other place as may be designated by the Attorney General, to await such special inquiry, and shall not be allowed to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the administration of the immigration laws, or deportation of such alien from the United States, except as provided in section 23 of this Act. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than from a foreign port or place in the West Indies, Mexico, Central America, or the Canal Zone, or the islands belonging to the United States in the Pacific Ocean, except Hawaii, or Canada, or Newfoundland, or St. Pierre and Miquelon, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the removal of the crew, or of any portion thereof, to the port from which they came, or to any port where they may be entitled to be admitted, or deported under the provisions of this Act, or to such port as the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel may elect, unless there has been delivered to the master of such vessel a certificate issued in his behalf by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival to the effect that the case of each alien employed on such vessel shall have been reported to the Attorney General for special inquiry, and unless such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer has obtained the written permission of the Attorney General to do so, and has complied with such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe governing the inspection of such vessel and the aliens employed thereon, and the administration of the provisions of this section. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the application of the penalty to the case of any such alien, but clearance may be given prior to such determination upon the deposit with and approved by the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to such less sum as to him shall seem appropriate. Such application must be filed within one year after the date of the final decision in the case

In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel; showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely none to be hired thereafter; and if shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel to report the illness or injury to any alien, together with information thereof, to a medical officer of the immigration service at the port of arrival as soon as the master has knowledge thereof, and to deliver to such officer at the time of inspection a complete list of all aliens employed on such vessel who have been ill or injured during the voyage, specifying the nature of the illness or injury in each case, and the length of time each has been ill. Before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, at the option of such officer, a further list containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel who have not been previously reported and who have been discharged, and the cause of discharge of each, and the destination of such persons, if any, who have been hired to join such vessel, and the reason for hiring each person, if any, who have been discharged or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists required in this section, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to a true report is not made as above provided; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 890–891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fine prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 169) previously been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or necessity, or by reason of the action of the master in discharging him as provided by section 16 of this Act, or for the purpose of and while actually in transit to be discharged in pursuance of the provisions of section 16 of this Act, or for the purpose of and while actually in transit to be treated in a hospital for medical treatment, or because of the action of the Attorney General in permitting him to enter the United States as a witness or for the purpose of prosecution, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except from Canada or Mexico) shall be entitled to land in the United States, under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, any alien seaman employed on board such vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), arriving and intending to depart on board the vessel or on board any other vessel or aircraft arriving at the port from the United States, if such alien seaman is in possession of a valid passport issued by the country of which he is a national or subject, or, if he is not in possession of such passport, if the consular officer in charge of the consulate of such country in the district in which the port is located has visaed the application for the seaman's identity certificate, which visa the consular officer is hereby authorized to grant upon the production of such evidence as he may require as to the nationality and identity of the alien seaman. The Attorney General is authorized to prescribe rules and regulations governing the issuance of identity certificates to alien seamen pursuant to this section, the transportation of such seamen to and from the United States, and the period for which such certificates shall be valid, and to impose and collect a fee not exceeding $10 for each certificate issued to such seamen. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the granting of a certificate to any alien seaman who is ineligible to receive a visa to enter the United States under the immigration laws in force at the time application is made for such certificate.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any port in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to be admitted to the United States under the provisions of section 3 of this Act.

(c) Any alien seaman who shall fail to report for deportation as required by the immigration laws and regulations or any rule made thereunder, or to depart from the United States in accordance with the terms of any permit granted him under the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than $1,000, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(d) Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in the United States or who shall remain in the United States after the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, shall be deemed to be a deserting alien seaman. Any such alien seaman may be taken into custody without warrant or other process by any immigration officer or any person authorized in writing by the Attorney General or any immigration officer, and shall be delivered to the master or agent of the vessel on which he arrived, or to the master or agent of any vessel in which he intends to depart from the United States, or to the master or agent of any vessel to which he may be transferred with the consent of the Attorney General. If such vessel is not ready to depart within forty-eight hours after the arrest of such alien seaman, he may be detained in such manner as the Attorney General may direct, at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived will be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, he may require the master or agent of such vessel to furnish a bond in such amount, not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deserting alien seamen who shall have arrived in the United States prior to June 2, 1940.

(43 Stat. 164–165, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 163 (a), 163 (b), 163 (c).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons, including the master, employed on such vessel, whether such persons be citizens of the United States or aliens, and whether they intend to land or not, and to furnish such information in addition thereto, at the time of the arrival of the vessel at such port or subsequent thereto, as may be required by such officer in charge of the port of arrival; or in case of vessels not arriving directly from a foreign port to the port of arrival, then such list shall be delivered by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port at which such vessel shall first arrive. Such list shall contain the name of every person employed on such vessel, whether a citizen or subject of the United States or an alien, the capacity in which employed, the nationality, last residence, and such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, touching the right of any person named therein to enter the United States. Such list shall be prepared and delivered in such manner and form and contain such additional particulars as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such list, or refuses or fails to furnish any information required by this section or by any rule made in pursuance thereof, or who makes any false statement in any such list or in any information furnished by him in pursuance of this section or any such rule, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who knowingly aids or abets any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel in violating any provision of this section or any such rule, or who knowingly conceals, harbors, or protects from detention any alien who has remained on board any such vessel after the same has been ordered to depart by the Commissioner General of Immigration or any immigrant inspector, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver on board thereof, prior to the departure of such vessel from any port of the United States, any alien who has been ordered by the Commissioner General of Immigration or any immigrant inspector to remain on board thereof and to be detained therein, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each and every such alien so ordered to remain. The Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, remit or refund any fine or penalty or any part thereof imposed or collected from any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel for the violation of any of the provisions of this section, except the penalty of $300 for each alien ordered to remain on board thereof, and may mitigate any such penalty before or after judgment. The Commissioner General of Immigration may, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, prescribe such additional rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, and may employ such additional inspectors at such ports as may be necessary to prevent the violation of this section.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico, or from any place in the United States to which such vessel is destined, shall, before such vessel departs from the port at which it may arrive, deliver to the immigrant inspector at such port a list containing the name of every alien on board such vessel, the nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each such alien, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such list shall be prepared and delivered in such manner and form and contain such additional particulars as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such list, or refuses or fails to furnish any information required by this section or by any rule made in pursuance thereof, or who makes any false statement in any such list or in any information furnished by him in pursuance of this section or any such rule, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who knowingly aids or abets any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel in violating any provision of this section or any such rule, or who knowingly conceals, harbors, or protects from detention any alien who has remained on board any such vessel after the same has been ordered to depart by the Commissioner General of Immigration or any immigrant inspector, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver on board thereof, prior to the departure of such vessel from any port of the United States, any alien who has been ordered by the Commissioner General of Immigration or any immigrant inspector to remain on board thereof and to be detained therein, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each and every such alien so ordered to remain. The Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, remit or refund any fine or penalty or any part thereof imposed or collected from any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel for the violation of any of the provisions of this section, except the penalty of $300 for each alien ordered to remain on board thereof, and may mitigate any such penalty before or after judgment. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors possible the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of clearance (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens admitted, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list of the names of all aliens embarked on such vessel, stating the position therein, the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each, and the amount of money in possession of each, and the final destination as far as known of each alien who is destined to the United States, and such other information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master thereof to report to such immigration officer, at such time and place as he may direct, the name of each alien who may have been discovered on board after the list was completed, and also the name of each alien who may have been found to be ill and in need of medical treatment, and such other information in regard to each such alien as may be required by such immigration officer; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master thereof to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens embarked at the last foreign port or place touched at by such vessel, and such other information in regard to each such alien as may be required by such immigration officer. If any such master shall refuse or neglect to report the name of any alien, or to deliver such list, or to furnish such information in regard to each such alien as may be required by such immigration officer, or shall refuse or neglect to perform any other duty required of him by such officer, such master shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question as to the payment of such sum, and in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no clearance shall be granted or vessel allowed to depart from the port except in pursuance of such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum. (39 Stat. 886, 887; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except upon the certificate of the Attorney General that such alien seaman (a) has been lawfully admitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for such medical treatment, or treatment to such extent, as may be necessary to enable him to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, or (b) has been granted by the Secretary of Labor permission to land temporarily under bond or such other conditions as he may prescribe, or (c) is a member of the crew of a vessel which has arrived at a port of the United States and is destined to a foreign port and intends to depart on such vessel or some other vessel within the period of time allowed by the Secretary of Labor for the departure of such crewman. Any alien seaman employed on any vessel in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. The Attorney General may prescribe rules and regulations governing the issuance of certificates provided for in this section. Any person who shall knowingly employ any alien seaman in violation of this section, or who shall knowingly employ any alien seaman for the purpose of bringing him into the United States in violation of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman so employed, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone any alien seaman (except an alien seaman employed on board a vessel touching at a port of the United States solely for the purpose of taking fuel, supplies, or orders, and not specifically destined to a port in the United States by the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure) shall, if such alien seaman is refused a permit to land in the United States, except temporarily for such medical treatment, or treatment to such extent, as may be necessary to enable him to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, or has been granted by the Secretary of Labor permission to land temporarily under bond or such other conditions as he may prescribe, or is a member of the crew of a vessel which has arrived at a port of the United States and is destined to a foreign port and intends to depart on such vessel or some other vessel within the period of time allowed by the Secretary of Labor for the departure of such crewman, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman so refused a permit to land, and no clearance shall be granted such vessel while any such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman as to whom such failure occurs. Upon such remission as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section as amended shall apply to all deportation warrants issued by the Attorney General on or after June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place outside thereof, or that he was refused a permit to land temporarily or under bond or other conditions, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart with such vessel unless such alien seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such failure to depart was occasioned by reasons beyond his control.

(c) If the Attorney General by the immigration officer at the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States is a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart with such vessel unless such alien seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such desertion was occasioned by reasons beyond his control. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone any alien (except an alien crewman entitled to land temporarily as the Attorney General may prescribe) for the alternate destination of such alien from the United States, except temporarily for such medical treatment, or treatment to such extent, as may be necessary to enable him to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, or has been granted by the Secretary of Labor permission to land temporarily under bond or such other conditions as he may prescribe, or is a member of the crew of a vessel which has arrived at a port of the United States and is destined to a foreign port and intends to depart on such vessel or some other vessel within the period of time allowed by the Secretary of Labor for the departure of such crewman, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien so refused a permit to land, and no clearance shall be granted such vessel while any such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman as to whom such failure occurs. Upon such remission as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportation warrants issued by the Attorney General on or after June 2, 1924.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place outside thereof, or that he was refused a permit to land temporarily or under bond or other conditions, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart with such vessel unless such alien seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such failure to depart was occasioned by reasons beyond his control.

(e) If the Attorney General by the immigration officer at the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States is a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart with such vessel unless such alien seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such desertion was occasioned by reasons beyond his control. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 181 (a), 181 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness as the result of which he is certified by the medical officer of the port to be unable to proceed to his destination, or because of the necessity of providing for the proper burial of a deceased relative, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or intending to depart therefrom, who shall land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness as the result of which he is certified by the medical officer of the port to be unable to proceed to his destination, or because of the necessity of providing for the proper burial of a deceased relative, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien, shall be required to give a bond in the sum of $1,000 with sufficient surety, conditioned that he will depart from the United States within thirty days after such landing, or within the period of time required for the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, if such period of time be longer than thirty days, unless prevented from so doing by sickness or other cause beyond his control, which shall be certified to by the medical officer of the port. Such bond shall be approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, in his discretion, extend the time within which such alien seaman may depart from the United States, or cancel any bond given hereunder, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit to pay the payment of such fine, or cancel any bond given hereunder, and shall cause the same to be returned to the person who made such deposit. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportation orders issued prior to, on, or after June 2, 1940.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing vessel on which he arrived or a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart within the time allowed by the master of such vessel as a deserter.

(e) If the Attorney General shall think that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that any master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of such vessel has violated any of the provisions of this section, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to cause a written report thereof to be delivered to the master of such vessel at the time of the departure of such vessel from the United States, and such report shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated in any hearing before the Attorney General. Such report shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival in the United States, except that in the case of the failure of the master to deliver such report the owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be liable to the penalty hereinafter provided. The master of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Such penalty shall accrue at the time the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportation orders issued prior to, on, or after June 2, 1940.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory to the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury requiring his removal, or for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, shall be responsible for the payment of the hospital treatment and interdiction (which interdiction in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), of any alien found to be afflicted with any of the diseases named in section 2 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 875), and for the maintenance and transportation to the port of foreign contiguous territory or to the country to which such alien belongs, if practicable, of any alien who shall have been allowed to land temporarily under bond as provided in section 23 of said Act, and who shall become a public charge within one year after the date of such landing, or who shall be found in the United States in violation of this Act, or who shall be deported at any time prior to the payment of such expenses and charges. Such charges shall be a lien upon any vessel bringing such alien to the United States, which lien may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which such vessel may be found. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, in cases where such hospital treatment, maintenance, and transportation charges will result unduly to the master or owner of any vessel, or upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such charges or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such hospital treatment, maintenance, and transportation charges will result unduly to the master or owner of any vessel, or upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such charges or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or cancel any such bond in whole or in part, as the facts and circumstances may warrant. Such deposit shall be refunded or such bond canceled when the person in respect of whom such deposit was made shall depart from the United States through a port of entry, or when the Attorney General is satisfied that such person will depart from the United States through a port of entry within such time as he may deem reasonable, or when such person shall become a citizen of the United States. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any alien prior to the determination that he is subject to deportation, or pending an appeal taken from such determination, or pending his departure from the United States. Any person who shall knowingly bring into the United States any alien subject to the provisions of this section, or who shall knowingly aid or abet any alien to enter the United States in violation of this section, or who shall conceal or harbor any such alien within the United States, or who shall assist any such alien to depart therefrom with intent to prevent the discovery and deportation of such alien in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or cancel any such bond in whole or in part, as the facts and circumstances may warrant. Such deposit shall be refunded, but no interest thereon shall be allowed. (43 Stat. 162–168; 8 U. S. C. 141 (a), 141 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for such time as the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel is required to detain him for the performance of his usual duties, or for such time as may be necessary to enable the master to secure another seaman in his place, and in no case for a longer period than twenty-nine days: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, extend the period of detention for such time as he may deem necessary in any case in which it appears that the alien has been unable to secure passage on account of the refusal of any consul of a foreign country to issue a passport to, or visa the passport of, such alien, or for the reason that the vessel on which the alien intended to depart has left port before the departure of such alien, or for such other cause as the Secretary of Labor may deem sufficient. Any alien who is permitted to land temporarily as provided in this section shall at such time and place as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor be deported and shall pay the cost of his maintenance while detained. Such deportation shall be a deportation within the meaning of section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), but shall not be subject to review by any court or by the Secretary of Labor unless application therefor is made within six months after the date of such deportation. Any alien who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156), except that no warrant for the arrest of such alien shall be required other than any warrant provided for in section 1014 of the Revised Statutes (U. S. C., title 22, sec. 191). Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as modifying or repealing any of the provisions of section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. C. 136), relating to the detention and deportation of alien members of the crews of vessels.

SEC. 14. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien (except an alien lawfully admitted to the United States or returning after a temporary visit abroad) or who has landed or caused to be landed any alien (except as aforesaid) from any vessel at any port in the United States, shall be responsible for, and shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of entry is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien so landed or caused to be landed, unless such alien shall have been duly admitted by an immigration officer or the Attorney General to, or shall have been lawfully landed by such immigration officer or the Attorney General in, the United States or unless such alien shall have been a member of the crew of a vessel which shall have arrived at a port of the United States and shall depart therefrom without the embarkation or landing of any passenger brought thereon. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel may appeal to the Secretary of Labor before the deportation of any such alien is undertaken, but such appeal shall not result in any stay of deportation unless so ordered by the Secretary of Labor. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final. Pending the decision on such appeal, the alien shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port. Upon the deposit of such sum with any immigration officer, such vessel shall be granted clearance and shall not thereafter be detained on account of the failure to land such alien. Such sum shall be refunded to the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel if within four months from the date of the deposit of such sum the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that such alien (1) has been lawfully admitted to the United States or has departed therefrom or was a member of the crew of a vessel which arrived at a port of the United States and departed therefrom without landing any passenger brought thereon, or (2) was prevented from departing from the United States within such four months by reason of (A) the institution of legal proceedings by the United States or by the State, Territory, or municipality in which such port is located, for the collection of taxes assessed against such alien, or (B) the certification by the Secretary of Labor to the Attorney General of the United States of the name of such alien as a witness on behalf of the United States in any case pending in any court, or (C) the granting by the Secretary of Labor of a stay of deportation of such alien pending determination of his case by the Secretary of Labor, or (D) the granting by the Secretary of Labor of a stay of deportation of such alien pending the determination of a claim to United States citizenship made by such alien, or (E) the granting by the Secretary of Labor of a stay of deportation of such alien pending the determination of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus sued out by such alien, or (F) the granting by the Secretary of Labor of a stay of deportation of such alien pending the determination of a petition for review of a final order of deportation sued out by such alien pursuant to section 106 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended (8 U. S. C. 156). Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 35 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to file application for such clearance has been given at least twenty-four hours prior to the granting thereof, the exact time of which shall be determined by said section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 169).

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof has been informed by the district director in charge of the port that the number of aliens employed on board such vessel does not exceed the number permitted by section 30 of the immigration laws, and that the vessel has complied with the requirements of section 35 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), and that proper information has been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to file application for such clearance has been given at least twenty-four hours prior to the granting thereof, the exact time of which shall be determined by said section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, showing the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether married or single, whether in possession of a ticket through to destination, whether the transportation is paid in whole or in part by himself or by any other person or corporation or other group, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so what relative or friend and his name and complete address, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether an anarchist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and whether having a ticket or passage paid for by the United States or by any department thereof or by any State, Territory, or municipality or by any charitable institution, society, or other organization, and such other facts regarding each person therein named as may be required by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws. Such list or manifest shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses to deliver such list or manifest, or who refuses to furnish any information required by this section or by any rule made in pursuance thereof, or who furnishes information in response thereto which he knows to be false, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The list of crewmen of alien registry (Form I-418) shall not be required on board but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "crewman", a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seaman, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for such time as the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel is required to detain him for the performance of his usual duties, or for such time as may be necessary to enable the master to secure another seaman in his place, and in no case for a longer period than twenty-nine days: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, extend the period of detention for such time as he may deem necessary in any case in which it appears that the alien has been unable to secure passage on account of the refusal of any consul of a foreign country to issue a passport to, or visa the passport of, such alien, or for the reason that the vessel on which the alien intended to depart has left port before the departure of such alien, or for such other cause as the Secretary of Labor may deem sufficient. Any alien who is permitted to land temporarily as provided in this section shall at such time and place as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor be deported and shall pay the cost of his maintenance while detained. Such deportation shall be a deportation within the meaning of section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), but shall not be subject to review by any court or by the Secretary of Labor unless application therefor is made within six months after the date of such deportation. Any alien who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156), except that no warrant for the arrest of such alien shall be required other than any warrant provided for in section 1014 of the Revised Statutes (U. S. C., title 22, sec. 191). Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as modifying or repealing any of the provisions of section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. SEC. 14. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien (except an alien lawfully admitted to the United States or returning after a temporary visit abroad) or who has landed or caused to be landed any alien (except as aforesaid) from any vessel at any port in the United States, shall be responsible for, and shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of entry is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien so landed or caused to be landed, unless such alien shall have been duly admitted by an immigration officer or the Attorney General to, or shall have been lawfully landed by such immigration officer or the Attorney General in, the United States or unless such alien shall have been a member of the crew of a vessel which shall have arrived at a port of the United States and shall depart therefrom without the embarkation or landing of any passenger brought thereon. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel may appeal to the Secretary of Labor before the deportation of any such alien is undertaken, but such appeal shall not result in any stay of deportation unless so ordered by the Secretary of Labor. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final. Pending the decision on such appeal, the alien shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port. Upon the deposit of such sum with any immigration officer, such vessel shall be granted clearance and shall not thereafter be detained on account of the failure to land such alien. Such sum shall be refunded to the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel if within four months from the date of the deposit of such sum the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that such alien (1) has been lawfully admitted to the United States or has departed therefrom or was a member of the crew of a vessel which arrived at a port of the United States and departed therefrom without landing any passenger brought thereon, or (2) was prevented from departing from the United States within such four months by reason of (A) the institution of legal proceedings by the United States or by the State, Territory, or municipality in which such port is located, for the collection of taxes assessed against such alien, or (B) the certification by the Secretary of Labor to the Attorney General of the United States of the name of such alien as a witness on behalf of the United States in any case pending in any court, or (C) the granting by the Secretary of Labor of a stay of deportation of such alien pending determination of his case by the Secretary of Labor, or (D) the granting by the Secretary of Labor of a stay of deportation of such alien pending the determination of a claim to United States citizenship made by such alien, or (E) the granting by the Secretary of Labor of a stay of deportation of such alien pending the determination of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus sued out by such alien, or (F) the granting by the Secretary of Labor of a stay of deportation of such alien pending the determination of a petition for review of a final order of deportation sued out by such alien pursuant to section 106 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended (8 U. SEC. 150.1. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be refused any vessel until the limitation imposed by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 141), have been complied with, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof has been notified by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival that the number of alien employees, their nationality, and the ports at which they were engaged have been ascertained, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made, and the application therefor has been approved by the Commissioner. While it remains pending, not more than the number of alien employees specified in the application may be employed on board the vessel, and no such vessel shall be cleared during the pendency of such application, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such application upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in the discretion of the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof, who shall refuse to deliver to the proper immigration officer, upon the demand of such officer, any list required by the provisions of this section, or who shall refuse to answer truly any question relative to the number, nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each alien employed on board such vessel, or who shall refuse to permit any such officer to go on board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same and the compartments thereof, or who shall refuse to detain such vessel for a period not exceeding two hours after the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival when requested by such officer, or who shall refuse to detain such vessel for such further period, not exceeding twenty-four hours, as may be necessary for the proper inspection of such vessel, or who shall refuse to aid such officer in the performance of his duties in relation to such inspection, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any fine imposed under the provisions of this section.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness which arose after such alien seaman arrived in the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States from any place outside the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the United States any alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof, who shall refuse to deliver to the proper immigration officer, upon the demand of such officer, any list required by the provisions of this section, or who shall refuse to answer truly any question relative to the number, nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall refuse to permit any such officer to go on board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same and the compartments thereof, or who shall refuse to detain such vessel for a period not exceeding two hours after the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival when requested by such officer, or who shall refuse to detain such vessel for such further period, not exceeding twenty-four hours, as may be necessary for the proper inspection of such vessel, or who shall refuse to aid such officer in the performance of his duties in relation to such inspection, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any fine imposed under the provisions of this section.

(b) Proof shall be taken in such manner and form as may be prescribed by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman, as required, shall apply to all penalties similar in character to those imposed by this section, and shall not be remitted unless it appears to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such alien seaman was prevented by illness arising after such alien seaman arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or, after due investigation by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, that such alien seaman has been lawfully discharged in the United States or has died.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be refunded otherwise than upon proof that such expense has been paid to its payment unreasonably withheld.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, possible the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens required by section 12 of the act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 136), to be prepared by masters of vessels arriving at ports of the United States from any place outside the United States, shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be filled out with the information called for by said section. The list or manifest of aliens employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside the United States shall be printed in the English language, and shall contain the following information regarding each alien employed on board such vessel: Full name, age, sex, whether married or single, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, whether in the United States or elsewhere, whether having a ticket through to destination, whether in possession of money and how much, whether going to join relatives or friends and if so what relatives or friends and their names and complete addresses, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity and if so what institution, whether a polygamist, whether an anarchist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, express or implied, to perform labor in the United States and if so what is the nature of such agreement, whether the alien has a ticket or passage paid for by others or has sufficient money to pay passage, whether the alien intends to return to the country whence he came after temporary residence in the United States, whether the alien is a stowaway, whether the alien has been deported from the United States and if so how many times and the cause for each deportation, whether the alien is coming in pursuance of a previously made contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States and if so what is the nature of such contract or agreement, the last occupation, calling, or profession of such alien, whether he can read or write any language or dialect, and if so what language or dialect, the height and complexion of such alien, whether deformed or crippled and if so how, the color of hair, eyes, and complexion of such alien, and the identification marks of such alien. Any master who refuses or neglects to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of first arrival in the United States the list or manifest required by section 12 of the act of February 5, 1917, or who refuses or neglects to answer truthfully the questions contained in such list or manifest as to each and every alien on board such vessel, or who knowingly or willfully delivers a false list or manifest, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such false information is given or such list or manifest is not delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to enter the vessel for the purpose of performing his duties in connection with the inspection of aliens arriving on such vessel, or who refuses to allow such inspector to remain on board such vessel for the period of time, not exceeding two hours, necessary for the performance of such duties, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each such refusal. The master of any vessel bringing an alien who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, which would be likely to endanger the health of persons residing in the United States, shall be required to detain such alien on board the vessel at such time and place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge, and such alien shall not be allowed to land in the United States except in case of emergency or for hospital treatment or with the written permission of the Secretary of Labor or such person as he may designate for the purpose. The cost of maintenance of such alien while on board such vessel or in hospital shall be borne by the master of the vessel bringing such alien to the United States. Upon the refusal of the master to pay the cost of maintenance of such alien while in hospital, the Secretary of Labor may cause the same to be paid out of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, and the amount so paid shall be added to the head tax imposed by law upon the vessel on account of such alien, and shall be a lien upon the vessel for the payment thereof. The cost of maintenance of such alien while in hospital shall be a lien upon the vessel for the payment thereof, and shall be collected by the collector of customs before the vessel shall be granted clearance. Nothing herein shall be construed to affect the existing law requiring the head tax to be collected from the master of the vessel.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained to such reasonable limits as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted a permit for the landing of such alien seaman, except temporarily for medical treatment, or interned to such reasonable limits as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

(b) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted a permit for the landing of such alien seaman, except temporarily for medical treatment, or interned to such reasonable limits as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 for each alien seaman so detained on board after such inspection or to whom such alien seaman if temporarily landed for medical examination).

(c) Every alien seaman (whether in transit to or from the United States or otherwise) employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who remains in the United States after the departure of the vessel from the United States without the permission of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is located and found in the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, unless the Attorney General is satisfied that such alien seaman was unable to depart from the United States with the vessel upon which he arrived because of illness or injury requiring his hospitalization, or that the vessel upon which such alien seaman arrived departed from the United States without the knowledge or consent of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, or that such alien seaman has been granted permission to land temporarily by the Secretary of Labor, or that such alien seaman has been granted a visa as a nonimmigrant by an American consular officer, or that such alien seaman has been granted permission to land temporarily by the Attorney General.

(d) Every alien seaman who is required by this section to be deported shall be detained on board the vessel on which he arrived or on board another vessel in the custody of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived, or in a detention facility, as directed by the Attorney General, until such alien seaman departs from the United States or is granted permission to land temporarily or to enter the United States for permanent residence. The cost of detention and maintenance of such alien seaman while in a detention facility, and the cost of his deportation, shall be paid from the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. The cost of detention and maintenance of such alien seaman while on board such vessel, and the cost of his deportation, shall be a lien against the vessel on which he arrived, and shall be collected by the collector of customs before the vessel shall be granted clearance.

(e) Every alien seaman who is required by this section to be deported shall be deported to the country in which he was born, if practicable, unless such alien seaman shall request deportation to some other country and the Attorney General shall approve such request, or unless such alien seaman shall be deported to a country which will not accept him, in which case he shall be deported to such country as the Attorney General may direct.

(f) Any alien seaman who is required by this section to be deported shall be deported at the earliest practicable time, and without expense to such alien seaman or to the United States, unless the Attorney General shall determine that such expense should be borne by the United States because of the inability of such alien seaman to defray such expense or because of the refusal of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived to bear such expense.

(g) Any alien seaman who is required by this section to be deported shall be deported to the port at which he was originally boarded on the vessel on which he arrived, or to any port in reasonable proximity thereto, or to any other port agreeable to the Attorney General and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived.

(h) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who fails to comply with any requirement of the Attorney General under this section, or who connives or conspires with, or knowingly or negligently permits, any alien seaman required by this section to be deported to secrete himself on board such vessel or to depart from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 for each such alien seaman in respect of whom any failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any alien seaman to whom such failure occurs, when such failure is the fault of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, or while such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, remit such fine or any part thereof, or may direct the payment of such fine or any part thereof into the immigrant relief fund established by section 2 of the act of March 3, 1903, if he is satisfied that such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer was not at fault and that such fine was improperly imposed.

(i) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who knowingly brings to the United States any alien seaman who is required by this section to be deported, or who knowingly harbors any such alien seaman in the United States after such alien seaman has been ordered deported, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(j) Any alien seaman who is required by this section to be deported shall be deported under the provisions of section 19 of this Act, notwithstanding the provisions of section 3 of the act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 136), and shall not be granted a visa as a nonimmigrant by an American consular officer, or be permitted to land temporarily by the Attorney General, except as provided in subdivision (d) of this section.

(k) Any alien seaman who is required by this section to be deported shall be deported to the port at which he was originally boarded on the vessel on which he arrived, or to any port in reasonable proximity thereto, or to any other port agreeable to the Attorney General and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived.

(l) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who fails to comply with any requirement of the Attorney General under this section, or who connives or conspires with, or knowingly or negligently permits, any alien seaman required by this section to be deported to secrete himself on board such vessel or to depart from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 for each such alien seaman in respect of whom any failure occurs. When such failure is the fault of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, or while such fine remains unpaid, no vessel shall be granted clearance other than the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, and such vessel may be detained until such fine is imposed, which if remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 892, 893; 8 U. S. C. 137.)

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the limit fixed by section 3 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 137), where been transmitted, and not then unless notice of landing to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to some prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 136), penalty been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment, or interned to such reasonable limits as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted a permit for the landing of such alien seaman, except temporarily for medical treatment, or interned to such reasonable limits as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

(b) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted a permit for the landing of such alien seaman, except temporarily for medical treatment, or interned to such reasonable limits as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 for each alien seaman so detained on board after such inspection or to whom such permit has been granted (from the vessel). The list or manifest required by section 12 of the act of February 5, 1917, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively born, their last foreign residence, whether they have been previously in the United States, and if so when and where, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are connected with any anarchistic or similar organization, whether they are polygamists, whether they have a ticket through to destination, whether they have been deported from the United States, and if so when and where, whether they have been in the military or naval service of any country during the present war, and if so what country, whether they intend to become citizens of the United States, their calling or occupation, their age, sex, color, race, nationality, the country to which they belong, the country from which they came, their last permanent residence, the name and complete address of the person or persons whom they are coming to join in the United States, and their destination while in the United States, shall be prepared by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which they arrive, and shall be delivered by him to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival. The list or manifest required by section 12 of the act of February 5, 1917, to be prepared by masters of vessels arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall not be required to show the nationality, last permanent residence, destination, or whether in possession of money, of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel. Any master who refuses or neglects to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the list or manifest required by section 12 of the act of February 5, 1917, or who refuses or neglects to answer truthfully the questions contained in such list or manifest as to each and every alien seaman employed on board such vessel, or who knowingly or willfully delivers a false list or manifest, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such false information is given or such list or manifest is not delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to enter the vessel for the purpose of performing his duties in connection with the inspection of aliens arriving on such vessel, or who refuses to allow such inspector to remain on board such vessel for the period of time, not exceeding two hours, necessary for the performance of such duties, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each such refusal. The master of any vessel bringing an alien who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, which would be likely to endanger the health of persons residing in the United States, shall be required to detain such alien on board the vessel at such time and place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge, and such alien shall not be allowed to land in the United States except in case of emergency or for hospital treatment or with the written permission of the Secretary of Labor or such person as he may designate for the purpose. The cost of maintenance of such alien while on board such vessel or in hospital shall be borne by the master of the vessel bringing such alien to the United States. Upon the refusal of the master to pay the cost of maintenance of such alien while in hospital, the Secretary of Labor may cause the same to be paid out of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, and the amount so paid shall be added to the head tax imposed by law upon the vessel on account of such alien, and shall be a lien upon the vessel for the payment thereof. The cost of maintenance of such alien while in hospital shall be a lien upon the vessel for the payment thereof, and shall be collected by the collector of customs before the vessel shall be granted clearance. Nothing herein shall be construed to affect the existing law requiring the head tax to be collected from the master of the vessel.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be refunded clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of crewmen or other members of the crew (Form I-418) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate vessel is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held for and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the aforesaid officer shall require; and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has left the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and the master, consignee, or master to deliver to each immigration officer, before the departure of the vessel from each port, a list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival and the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of all those, if any, who have deserted, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of all those, if any, who have deserted at the time of the departure, and also the names of all the members of the crew, with the information required at the time of the arrival and who are not then on board, and the cause of their absence, and the intended destination of each of them; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, he shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 890, 891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 890; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to file such lists has been given pursuant to section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 892; 8 U. S. C. 189). Application to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 36 to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act (39 Stat. 892; 8 U. S. C. 189) pursuant to section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 890; 8 U. S. C. 171)," have been furnished, and not then unless notice of deportation of such alien from the United States. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements, during the period such vessel remains in port, unless specifically certified by the Attorney General as a deserter. Any alien so certified shall be given a hearing before a special inquiry officer to determine whether he is subject to deportation. Pending such hearing and decision thereon, the alien shall be detained in the custody of the owner, agent, master, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived, and such owner, agent, master, or consignee shall be responsible for the payment of the cost of maintenance and detention of such alien. Any alien seaman who remains in the United States after the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or who is certified by the Attorney General as a deserter, shall be deemed to be a person who entered the United States unlawfully within three years next preceding the time he is found therein, and shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act. Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in connection with his employment on board any vessel and who shall fail to depart with the vessel on which he arrived, or on any subsequent vessel on which he may be employed, shall be deemed to be a person who entered the United States unlawfully within three years next preceding the time he is found therein, and shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place in the West Indies, Mexico, Central or South America, or Canada, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements, during the period the vessel remains in port, unless specially authorized by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign coastwise limits of the United States, who is refused a landing permit by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, may be detained on board vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure of such vessel from the United States shall have been notified of the refusal to land such alien seaman, and the cost of detention and maintenance, pending removal, shall be paid by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States, or who shall be found in the United States in violation of this section, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156). Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such offense, and shall not be granted clearance papers for such vessel while any such fine remains unpaid. Clearance may be granted such vessel upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine, in whole or in part, upon such terms as he may deem just and reasonable, and shall report to each regular session of Congress all cases where fines have been remitted, with the reasons therefor. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of remission or mitigation of fine in any case where such question is raised within the period prescribed by law, but clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located of such sum as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe for the payment of such fine or penalty as may be finally imposed in the case. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any vessel on account of the illness of any seaman found to be afflicted with any communicable disease other than leprosy, tuberculosis in the pulmonary form, favus, trachoma, or venereal disease, or on account of any seaman who has been certified by the United States Public Health Service to be in need of such medical treatment in a hospital that the vessel cannot provide, or on account of any seaman who has been certified by the United States Public Health Service to be suffering from any disease in a communicable form, or on account of any seaman who has been in contact with any person suffering from any such disease, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall refuse or neglect to furnish such medical treatment, or to provide for the detention and isolation of such seaman, as required by the United States Public Health Service. Any seaman who refuses medical treatment, or who refuses to be detained in isolation when ordered so to be by the United States Public Health Service, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156). Any seaman who refuses medical treatment, or who refuses to be detained in isolation when ordered so to be by the United States Public Health Service, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156).

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign coastwise limits of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements, shall be permitted to land in the United States from such vessel only for the purpose and during the period while the vessel remains in port, and while actually employed on such vessel, and only upon the issuance by the master of a landing permit to such alien seaman by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such landing permit shall be granted only upon the consent of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and upon the payment by such master, agent, consignee, or owner of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the passage of such alien seaman to the port of departure, and the maintenance of such alien seaman while in the United States, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival may require a bond in such sum as he may deem sufficient to insure compliance with the terms of the landing permit. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman so departing, except that no such payment shall be required in the case of any alien seaman who shall have been in the United States for a period of more than one year prior to his departure, or who shall have been legally admitted for permanent residence therein, or who is a returning native inhabitant who has been in the United States for a period of more than six months prior to his departure, or who is the husband, wife, father, mother, child under sixteen years of age, brother, or sister of a citizen of the United States. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave under the provisions of section 10 of this Act, or to any alien seaman employed on a vessel touching at ports of the United States solely for the purpose of taking on fuel, supplies, or sea stores, or solely for the purpose of transferring passengers in transit to foreign ports, or for any one or more of such purposes, and who does not land from such vessel. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States, or who shall be found in the United States in violation of this section, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156). Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such offense, and shall not be granted clearance papers for such vessel while any such fine remains unpaid. Clearance may be granted such vessel upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located of such sum as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe for the payment of such fine or penalty as may be finally imposed in the case. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any vessel on account of the illness of any seaman found to be afflicted with any communicable disease other than leprosy, tuberculosis in the pulmonary form, favus, trachoma, or venereal disease, or on account of any seaman who has been certified by the United States Public Health Service to be suffering from any such disease, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall refuse or neglect to furnish such medical treatment, or to provide for the detention and isolation of such seaman, as required by the United States Public Health Service. Any seaman who refuses medical treatment, or who refuses to be detained in isolation when ordered so to be by the United States Public Health Service, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156).

SEC. 20. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The immigration laws of the United States require that all persons coming to the United States from any foreign port or place, if applying for the privilege of the permit, shall present to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival their passports duly vised by the proper United States consular officer, and, in addition, such other documents as may be required by the immigration laws and regulations. Every alien, whether in transit through the United States or destined to a point within the United States, must present a valid passport and visa, unless specifically exempted by the immigration laws and regulations. Every alien must present a valid passport and visa, unless specifically exempted by the immigration laws and regulations. Every alien must present a valid passport and visa, unless specifically exempted by the immigration laws and regulations.

Sec. 18 (a) (1) Any alien who at any time after entering the United States is found to have been at the time of entry within one of the classes excluded by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 203), or who at any time after entering the United States is found to have been within any of the classes excluded by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 203), or who at any time after entering the United States is found to have been within any of the classes excluded by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 203), shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155), except as otherwise provided in this section.

(b) Any alien who at any time after entering the United States is found to have been at the time of entry within one of the classes excluded by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 203), or who at any time after entering the United States is found to have been within any of the classes excluded by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 203), shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155), except as otherwise provided in this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien would on the account of race or religion, he may, in his discretion, suspend deportation of such alien. Upon the granting of such suspension the Attorney General shall cancel deportation proceedings. Any alien whose deportation has been suspended under this subsection shall be subject to such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe. Nothing in this subsection shall prevent the Attorney General from deporting any alien who is found to be a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 203), or who at any time after entering the United States is found to have been within any of the classes excluded by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 203), shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155), except as otherwise provided in this section.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

Sec. 19. (a) The commissioner of immigration at any port of entry may, in his discretion, refer to a special inquiry officer for determination whether any alien who has been duly admitted to the United States shall be deported as being within one or more of the classes of aliens excluded by section 3 of this Act. Such special inquiry officer shall have power to administer oaths, to take and consider evidence concerning the right of any such alien to remain in the United States, and to investigate and report as to the true facts as to the nationality and right to remain in the United States of any such alien, and for such purpose may issue warrants for the arrest and taking into custody of any such alien. After such hearing and investigation as he may deem necessary, such special inquiry officer shall certify his decision to the commissioner of immigration in charge of the port of arrival of such alien. Such decision shall be final unless reversed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor, which appeal may be taken by the alien or by any officer of the United States charged with the administration of the immigration laws at the port of arrival of such alien. Pending a decision on such appeal, such alien shall be detained in custody. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, order deportation by any special inquiry officer without appeal in the case of any alien who admits that he is within the United States in violation of any law or regulation made in pursuance of law regarding the admission of aliens, and who applies for voluntary deportation in lieu of being required to appear before a special inquiry officer for examination.

(b) Any alien who shall be found in the United States in violation of this Act or any amendment thereto, or in violation of any treaty or convention regulating the admission of aliens to the United States entered into by the United States and any foreign nation, shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155), except as otherwise provided in this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, he may, in his discretion, suspend deportation of such alien. Upon the granting of such suspension the Attorney General shall cancel deportation proceedings. Any alien whose deportation has been suspended under this subsection shall be subject to such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe. Nothing in this subsection shall prevent the Attorney General from deporting any alien who is found to be a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 203), or who at any time after entering the United States is found to have been within any of the classes excluded by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 203), shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155), except as otherwise provided in this section.

(d) Every alien deported shall not be admitted into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside the United States, unless, in addition to any other requirements of law, he shall be examined by a medical officer in charge at the port of arrival and certified to be in sound physical condition, mental, emotional, and physical, and shall be in possession of a valid passport and visa, unless specifically exempted by the immigration laws and regulations. Every alien deported shall not be admitted into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside the United States, unless, in addition to any other requirements of law, he shall be examined by a medical officer in charge at the port of arrival and certified to be in sound physical condition, mental, emotional, and physical, and shall be in possession of a valid passport and visa, unless specifically exempted by the immigration laws and regulations. Every alien deported shall not be admitted into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside the United States, unless, in addition to any other requirements of law, he shall be examined by a medical officer in charge at the port of arrival and certified to be in sound physical condition, mental, emotional, and physical, and shall be in possession of a valid passport and visa, unless specifically exempted by the immigration laws and regulations.

Sec. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory shall, before such vessel shall depart from such port, report to the collector of customs the name of every alien on board such vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, and such other information in regard to each such alien as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, upon the forms prescribed by him, and shall pay to the collector of customs $8 for each alien so reported. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, authorize such deviation from the provisions of this section as may be necessary to prevent undue hardship. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of this section or any lawful rule or regulation issued in pursuance thereof, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien on board when required so to do by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver any such alien to the custody of any officer entitled to demand his custody under the immigration laws, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien in respect to whom any such violation occurs.

(b) Every alien arriving at a port of the United States, during the time steerage passengers are being inspected by the immigration officers, shall be detained on board or at the option of the master, shall be detained in the vicinity of the pier at which the vessel docks, and shall not be allowed to land until after he has been inspected and has been certified by an immigration officer to be entitled to land, or has been certified by a medical officer to be a member of a class not subject to medical examination, or has been granted a special inquiry, medical, or other examination by the Board of Special Inquiry. Any alien detained on board or in the vicinity of the pier may be required to pay a sum not exceeding $3 per day for the cost of his maintenance while so detained, and any such sum shall be a lien against the vessel on which he arrived, and against the master, agent, consignee, and owner thereof, which may be collected by suit or libel in any district court of the United States within which the vessel may be found. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention on board or in the vicinity of the pier of any alien who has been duly admitted to the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of any regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation of each alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to a port of the United States from any place outside thereof upon which alien seamen are employed shall furnish the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspection such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), as the Attorney General or any immigrant inspector may require, and pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit by a master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $200 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The master, as amended, shall apply to all immigrant inspectors alike.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the continental territory of the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on any other vessel within the period of time such vessel may remain in port, or who shall land in the United States from any vessel, without having previously obtained a permit so to land from the immigration officer in charge of the port, or who shall land at any time or place in violation of any regulations made by the Attorney General, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and may be arrested and deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 hereof: Provided, That clearance may be granted any vessel prior to the determination of the question of the deportation of any alien seaman thereon, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the penalties which may be imposed upon such alien seaman under the provisions of this section, or the filing of a bond or undertaking approved by the Attorney General with sufficient surety in such sum as he may require conditioned for the payment of such penalties.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any foreign seaman employed on any vessel arriving at a seaport of the United States has been permitted to land temporarily or has remained in the United States for a longer period than permitted under the immunities granted to the seamen of the nationality of such vessel, he shall cause such seaman to be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of other aliens arriving on the vessels on which they arrived, to the nation whose citizens they are or of which they are subjects, or to the country in which they shipped or engaged, at the option of the Attorney General.

(43 Stat. 164–165, as amended by 48 Stat. 816; 8 U. S. C. 188 (a), (b), (c).)

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, W. C. Andrews, of the S. S. "Transocean" do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place named per current coupon. NOTE.—Any person liable to be excluded from admission to the United States, or to be deported therefrom, or to be detained for special inquiry under the provisions of the United States immigration laws, rules, or regulations, will not be allowed to land from any vessel arriving at a port within the United States, but will be detained on board or at the station of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, unless sooner removed in the discretion of the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, pending a final determination of his case. Any person who shall bring to the United States any alien not duly admissible to the United States, or who shall conceal or harbor any such alien, or who shall encourage, induce, assist, abet, or aid any such alien to enter or to try to enter the United States, except in pursuance of law, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who shall knowingly bring into the United States any alien who is not duly admissible to the United States, or who shall conceal or harbor any such alien, or who shall encourage, induce, assist, abet, or aid any such alien to enter or to try to enter the United States, except in pursuance of law, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port in which passengers embark for the United States, according to ports where manifests terminate and ports so-called foreign ports, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; but also according to separate manifests should be prepared for each vessel touching at the third class and cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Head-tax status).—Steamship line should make no entries in this column. The space is for use of government officials only.

Column 2 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 3 (Married or single).—The terms should be either M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 4 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as, for example: Civil engineer, mechanical engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, farmer, laborer, tailor, clerk, or other descriptive designation.

A distinction should be made between ordinary farm laborers, who are ignorant of modern methods, and those who are trained to the use of improved farm machinery.

A farmer is one who operates a farm, either for himself or for others.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the farmer.

Steamship companies should make this distinction on the manifests, and correction should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of aliens arriving.

Column 5 (Name and complete address of nearest relative or friend in country whence alien came).—The entry should give name, exact relationship, and complete address of the person whom the alien is joining. It is not sufficient to give merely "husband," "wife," "father," "mother," "brother," "sister," "friend," "cousin," "uncle," "aunt," "grandfather," or "grandmother." The name and address of the nearest relative in the country whence the alien came should be given, even though the alien has relatives or friends in the United States. If the alien has no relative or friend living in the country whence he came, but has relatives or friends living elsewhere, the name and address of such relative or friend should be given.

Column 6 (Name and address of person in United States whom alien intends to join).—The name and address of the person in the United States whom the alien intends to join should be given. If the alien intends to join relatives, the exact relationship should be stated. If the alien intends to join friends, the exact address should be given. If the alien intends to go to a institution, the name and location of the institution should be given.

Column 7 (Final destination).—The name of the city, town, or village in the United States to which the alien is destined should be given. If the alien intends to remain in the city of arrival, the word "same" should be entered.

Column 8 (Whether have ticket to final destination).—Entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien has a ticket to his final destination.

Column 9 (Whether in possession of $50 or more).—Entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien has in his possession at least $50 in money.

Column 10 (Whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and name and complete address of such relative or friend).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien is going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and the name and complete address of such relative or friend.

Column 11 (Whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien has ever been in the United States before, and if so, when and where.

Column 12 (Whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, what and when).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, what institution and when.

Column 13 (Whether a polygamist).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien is a polygamist.

Column 14 (Whether an anarchist).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien is an anarchist.

Column 15 (Whether coming under contract labor law, and if so, what).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien is coming under contract labor law, and if so, what.

Column 16 (Whether ever deported or excluded, and if so, when and why).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien has ever been deported or excluded, and if so, when and why.

Columns 17 and 18.—These columns are for use of Government officials only.

Column 19 (Whether in transit through the United States to another country, and if so, name of country).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien is in transit through the United States to another country, and if so, the name of the country.

Column 20 (Nationality).—The entry should be made to indicate the nationality of the alien, as, for example: American, English, Irish, Scotch, German, French, Italian, Spanish, Russian, Polish, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish, Dutch, Belgian, Swiss, Portuguese, Greek, Turkish, Armenian, Syrian, Arabian, Chinese, Japanese, Hindu, Mexican (native born), Mexican (citizen), Cuban, West Indian (native born), West Indian (citizen), or other nationalities.

Column 21 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

The entry should be made as race or people as given in list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject, country to which belonging, and country whence came. For instance, the so-called "French Canadian" should be entered "French" and not "French Canada" or "France," as the people are not citizens of France, but of Canada. So, also, natives of Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bohemia, etc., should be entered as "German," "Hebrew," or "Polish," as the case may be, and not by country. An Irishman, Scotchman, or Welshman should be entered as "Irish," "Scotch," or "Welsh," as the case may be, and not as "British," "English," or "United Kingdom."

Column 22 (Last permanent residence).—Aliens arriving from foreign countries should be asked to state their last permanent residence. The last country in which alien resided for one year or more should be entered as his last permanent residence, even though he may have visited other countries for short periods during the year. The entry should be the name of the country, city or town, State, province, or district in which the alien had his last permanent residence. It is important for statistical purposes that accurate information be secured in this column. The entry should be independent of the alien's nationality, and should not be the country to which he is going.

Country of last permanent residence to which alien who has permanent residence in the United States belongs should be recorded. Use "United States."

Column 23 (Intending to become citizen of United States).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien intends to become a citizen of the United States.

Column 24 to 38.—These columns are self-explanatory and require no entries.

Column 39 (Whether in possession of ticket through to ultimate destination, and if not, how much money he has to complete journey).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien has a ticket through to his ultimate destination, and if not, how much money he has to complete journey.

Column 40 (Whether having been in prison, etc., previously specified).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien has been in prison, etc., previously specified.

Column 41 (Whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien has been in the United States before, and if so, when and where.

Column 42 (Whether ever before refused admission to the United States, and if so, when and where).—The entry should be made "yes" or "no" to indicate whether or not the alien has been refused admission to the United States before, and if so, when and where.

Columns 43 and 44.—These columns are for use of Government officials only.

Column 45 (Remarks).—The entry should be made to indicate any physical or mental defect or infirmity of the alien, and the cause thereof, if known.

Column 46 (Name and address of person who paid for passage).—The entry should be made to indicate the name and complete address of the person who paid for the passage of the alien.

Column 47 (Whether in charge of any children, and if so, how many and what sex and ages).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien is in charge of any children, and if so, how many and what sex and ages.

Column 48 (Whether accompanied by husband or wife, and if so, name of husband or wife).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien is accompanied by husband or wife, and if so, name of husband or wife.

Column 49 (Whether accompanied by father or mother, and if so, name of father or mother).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien is accompanied by father or mother, and if so, name of father or mother.

Column 50 (Whether ever separated from husband or wife, father or mother, and if so, name and relationship, and where and when).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien has ever been separated from husband or wife, father or mother, and if so, name and relationship, and where and when.

Column 51 (Whether ever in almshouse or institution for care of insane, and if so, what and when).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien has ever been in almshouse or institution for care of insane, and if so, what and when.

Column 52 (Whether ever in prison or penitentiary, and if so, what and when).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien has ever been in prison or penitentiary, and if so, what and when.

Column 53 (Whether a professional beggar).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien is a professional beggar.

Column 54 (Whether a person who has been or is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien is a person who has been or is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose.

Column 55 (Whether ever supported by charity, and if so, what and when).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien has ever been supported by charity, and if so, what and when.

Column 56 (Whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien has ever been in the United States before, and if so, when and where.

Column 57 (Whether ever before refused admission to the United States, and if so, when and where).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien has ever been refused admission to the United States before, and if so, when and where.

Columns 58 and 59.—These columns are for use of Government officials only.

Column 60 (Whether ever before deported from the United States, and if so, when and where).—The entry should be made to indicate whether or not the alien has ever been deported from the United States before, and if so, when and where.

AFFIDAVIT TO BE MADE BY MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER.

I, [illegible] MARTIN, Master of the M/S "DANZIG", from Kobenhavn for Halifax and Boston, solemnly, sincerely, and truly ——— declare that I have caused the surgeon of said vessel sailing from Europe, to the surgeon employed by the owners thereof, to make a physical and mental examination of each and all of the aliens named in the foregoing Lists or Manifests of Aliens," ——— as required, and that from the report of said surgeon and from my own personal investigation, I believe that no one of said aliens is of any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States by the laws relating thereto, and that also, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, the information in said Lists or Manifests concerning each of said aliens named therein is correct and true in every respect.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be permitted to land at the United States during the period of time his vessel remains in port, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless destined to such territory as the United States Commissioner General of Immigration may designate, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, or unless such seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner General of Immigration that he is entitled to admission under the provisions of section 3 of this Act, or section 4 (a) or section 4 (c) of the Immigration Act of 1917, or section 3 of the Act of May 19, 1921, as amended and extended by the Act of May 11, 1922, as amended by the Act of May 29, 1924, or unless such seaman is in possession of a valid immigration visa. Any alien seaman who is refused a landing permit shall be detained on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on board such other vessel as may be designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and such vessel shall be required to remove such alien seaman to the country whence he came, or to such other country as may be designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration which will accept such alien seaman: Provided, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, grant a temporary permit to such alien seaman to enter the United States for a period not exceeding five days, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, when in his opinion such action is necessary in order to avoid the separation of such alien seaman from his vessel because of the illness of such alien seaman, which illness requires hospital treatment, or because of the refusal of the country to which such alien seaman is destined to receive him, or because of the lack of shipping facilities to such country, or because of the refusal of such alien seaman to proceed to such country on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or because of the refusal of the master of such vessel to permit such alien seaman to proceed thereon, or because such alien seaman is destined to a country which refuses to grant him a visa, or because such alien seaman is destined to a country which requires a passport visa and such alien seaman is unable to obtain such passport visa, or because such alien seaman is destined to a country which requires a passport visa and such alien seaman is unable to obtain such passport visa except by applying in person at the office of a consular officer of such country in the United States, or because such alien seaman is destined to a country which requires a passport visa and such alien seaman is unable to obtain such passport visa except by applying in person at the office of a consular officer of such country in the United States

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and at no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be delivered at the port of the first arrival to the principal immigration officer in charge of the district in which such port is located, or to such officer as may be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and no such alien shall be allowed to land in the United States from any vessel arriving at such port or place until the list or manifest has been delivered and the inspection of such alien has been completed, except as provided in section 10 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 154; 8 U. S. C. 206).

The list or manifest shall be made at the time of embarkation of the alien at the last port or place of foreign departure, and shall be prepared in the order indicated by the headings on the manifest. It must be legible and made with pen and ink or typewriter, and the original list or manifest delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any changes or additions necessary to be made in the list because of the detention or removal of aliens therefrom for further examination or hearing, or the failure of any alien duly listed to embark, must be noted and explained in the proper space provided on the list or manifest. Each list or manifest must be signed and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master, commander, purser, surgeon, or agent of the vessel, who shall write his name in the space provided on the last page of the list or manifest following the last name entered thereon.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That aliens arriving in the United States from foreign ports or those ill when they arrive at a port of the United States shall be detained on board the vessel or at the discretion of the inspector in charge of the port, or his assistant, be removed to a hospital for treatment and observation until examined and admitted or excluded. Aliens who become ill after examination and before the vessel sails shall be detained in the hospital, unless upon certificate of the medical officer in charge of the hospital they can be left there without danger to others. The cost of maintenance of aliens detained in hospitals after the vessel sails shall be borne by the owners of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States. Sick aliens who have been rejected and are ordered excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and who are destitute shall be cared for at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Sick aliens who have been admitted to the United States and who become public charges within three years after landing shall be returned to the country whence they came at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws upon certificate by the Secretary of Labor that the aliens were admitted in violation of law, and that their return is necessary to protect such aliens from becoming public charges. All appropriations for the enforcement of the immigration laws shall be available for the hire, maintenance, and operation of launches and other boats for the use of immigrant inspectors in the discharge of their duties.

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.12. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted the vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 141), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative head prescribed by this section or to some prescribed officer at a time prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 183) may reasonably be expected to arrive, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and deported on board the vessel bringing him to the United States, except deserters, shall be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is satisfied that adequate provision has been made by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel for the maintenance and removal of such alien. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel, except as provided in this section, or who shall land in violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel, except as provided in this section, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel, except as provided in this section, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel, except as provided in this section, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien (except an alien crewman) to a port of the United States shall be responsible for the proper maintenance of such alien while he is detained at such port, and for his removal on any vessel upon which he may be found, or any other vessel, or otherwise, as directed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. If any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall fail to remove any such alien as required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located a penalty of $300 for each alien so detained, and no vessel will be granted clearance papers until such penalty has been paid or the payment thereof secured to the satisfaction of the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or cancel any such penalty or part thereof if he is satisfied that the same was incurred without intention on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to violate the provisions of the immigration laws, or that for other reasons it is just and proper that such remission or cancellation be made.

(b) Any such alien may be taken from the vessel to a hospital for treatment and detention until examined and admitted or excluded, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers until such alien is removed from the hospital or the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel has complied with the requirements of this section. The cost of such treatment and detention shall be borne by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and a lien is hereby imposed upon such vessel therefor. Such lien may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the district in which such vessel may be found.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that the immigration officer or the Attorney General has refused to permit the landing of any alien duly arrived on any vessel at a seaport, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to comply with the provisions of this section as to such alien.

(d) Upon final discharge abroad of any alien who has been a member of the crew of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, and who has been reported as a deserter, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers until such expenses have been paid to the Attorney General.

(43 Stat. 164–165, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 181 (a), 181 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer in the case of the first port of crew (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master at the first port of arrival where an immigration officer is on board. When an alternate manifest is used, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; or list containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent residence, and intended final destination of each alien, together with such information likely to lead to the identification; and such additional lists or information relative to persons who were employed upon the vessel at the time of her departure from any foreign port as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers before the departure of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to each immigration officer to whom he is required by this section to deliver a list the lists required of him by this section: Provided, That if any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he had no intention of bringing any alien on board the vessel of which he was master, owner, agent, consignee, or master, and that such alien was brought on board without his knowledge or consent, and that all reasonable means were employed by him to prevent it, he shall not be required to deliver to the immigration officer the list or lists of the aliens not carried in the vessel to the United States: Provided further, That if any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master shall refuse or willfully neglect to deliver to the immigration officer the list or lists of the aliens carried in the vessel to the United States, or shall refuse to answer questions under oath put by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival in relation to the aliens carried in the vessel to the United States, or to their right to enter the United States, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to whom true answers are not made as aforesaid, which sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be sued for and recovered by the collector of customs in favor of the United States: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15. Lists of aliens employed: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel from a port or place in the United States to a foreign port or place if such vessel has failed to deliver lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), unless good cause therefor is established to the satisfaction of the district director in charge of the port at which application for clearance is made. Failure to file any list required by section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 180) may be penalized by the imposition of a fine of $10.00–$1,000.00 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to whom true answers are not made as aforesaid, which sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be sued for and recovered by the collector of customs in favor of the United States: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (8 CFR, 1949 Supp., 150.15.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board a vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or such other cause or circumstance as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing such names as may be required by the Attorney General of all aliens (whether passengers or members of the crew) on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent residence, and intended final destination of each alien, and specifying those to be admitted or detained for medical examination or on account of being afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing in special cases or classes of cases and in his discretion, waive the delivery of lists by the master of vessels of such aliens as may be entitled to enter the United States solely in pursuance of existing treaties of friendship and commerce, or who are not destined to the United States, or who are in transit through the United States, or who have been in the United States previously and are returning from a temporary visit abroad, or who are seamen employed on such vessel arriving at the port of arrival. Such lists shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Attorney General, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel failing to deliver such lists, or any part thereof, or knowingly making any false statement in connection therewith, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination as to the payment of the penalty or any part thereof imposed by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing received prior to the determination of the question of imposition of the penalty, remit or mitigate such penalty or any part thereof if he is satisfied that the vessel was not at fault and that due diligence was exercised to prevent the violation of the provisions of this section, or that for other reasons it is just and proper that such penalty be remitted or mitigated. Upon the payment of such penalty or any part thereof, application may be made to the Secretary of the Treasury for the remission thereof, and he is authorized to remit the same upon such terms and conditions as he may deem proper. Such application may be granted upon the recommendation of the Attorney General or the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or upon judicial ascertainment of the absence of fault or negligence on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel and of the existence of such circumstances as would justify remission or mitigation of the penalty. Such remission or mitigation may be upon the payment of such sum and upon such terms and conditions as the Secretary of the Treasury may deem proper, or without the payment of any sum, or upon the remission of a part of the penalty and the payment of the residue thereof. Such remission, mitigation, or commutation, if granted after any suit has been instituted, shall be pleaded in bar of any further prosecution of such suit. (43 Stat. 162–163, as amd. 54 Stat. 673; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the discharge mentioned in the permit or who shall not depart with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel within such time as may be fixed by the immigration officer or the Attorney General, may be arrested and taken before a commissioner of any district in which he may be found, and after hearing, if it appears that he is subject to deportation, the commissioner shall certify the case to the Attorney General for such action as he may deem proper. Such alien seaman shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (43 Stat. 162–163, as amd. 54 Stat. 673; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, Honolulu, T. H., at the port of arrival not less than (48) nor more than (96) hours before the vessel is due to arrive at the first port of call in the United States. The list is to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list is to be made out in the order of the numbers on the manifest. It is to facilitate inspection if the list is made out in the following manner: Aliens destined to the United States should be listed first, alphabetically, and the names of all members of the same family should be entered consecutively. Citizens of the United States, Canadians (including Canadian Indians), Mexicans, and aliens entitled to enter the United States as temporary visitors for business or pleasure may be listed last, alphabetically. Each alien must be listed, whether he is to be admitted or not, and the list must show the full name of each alien; whether a citizen of the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, or Newfoundland; whether an immigrant or a nonimmigrant; the alien's last residence; his destination, if known; whether in possession of a valid passport; whether in possession of a valid immigration visa, if required; whether in possession of a valid nonimmigrant visa or border crossing identification card, if required; whether coming by reason of relationship to a citizen of the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, or Newfoundland, and if so, what relationship; whether ever before refused admission to the United States, or deported, or ever arrested or convicted, or ever a prostitute or procurer, or coming for any such purpose, or ever imprisoned or supported in a charitable institution; whether under a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia; whether in possession of $50 or more and, if less than $50, the amount possessed; whether ever in the United States and, if so, when and how long ago and how long in all; and the last country to which each alien had a lawful right to enter after leaving the port of arrival. Each alien must be asked whether he is going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and where, and must state whether the destination is the place where the alien intends to reside permanently or temporarily, and whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States. Each alien must be asked the purpose of his coming to the United States, how he is coming, and who paid his passage. Each alien must be asked his occupation, whether skilled, partly skilled, or unskilled, and the kind of occupation in which he has been engaged during the previous five years, and the amount of money he has with him at the time of application for admission. Each alien must be asked whether he has been in prison or in a poorhouse or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is a member of the anarchistic or other classes excluded by law, and whether he has ever been a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such views, and what his ultimate purpose is in coming to the United States. Each alien must be asked whether he has a ticket through to his ultimate destination, whether he has been assisted in coming by any society or person, and whether he has paid his own passage. Each alien must be asked whether he is married or single, his age, sex, and race, and must declare whether he is able to read or write any language, and what language. Each alien must be described as to complexion, color of hair and eyes, height, and weight, and must be asked whether he has any visible marks of identification, and what they are. Each alien must be asked whether he has ever been in the United States before, when he came, where he landed, whether he has been in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, or Newfoundland at any previous time, and, if so, how often and for what purpose, how he entered, and how long he remained on each occasion. Each alien must be asked whether he has been refused admission to the United States or deported, and if so, why, and whether he has ever been in prison or in a poorhouse or supported by charity, and if so, where and when. Each alien must be asked whether he has been in the United States Army or Navy, and if so, when, and whether he deserted therefrom, and whether he has ever been a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining views hostile to the United States, and if so, what organization, and what views. Each alien must be asked whether he has a ticket through to his ultimate destination, whether he has been assisted in coming by any society or person, and whether he has paid his own passage. Each alien must be asked whether he is married or single, his age, sex, and race, and must declare whether he is able to read or write any language, and what language. Each alien must be described as to complexion, color of hair and eyes, height, and weight, and must be asked whether he has any visible marks of identification, and what they are. Each alien must be asked whether he has been in the United States before, when he came, where he landed, whether he has been in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, or Newfoundland at any previous time, and, if so, how often and for what purpose, how he entered, and how long he remained on each occasion. Each alien must be asked whether he has been refused admission to the United States or deported, and if so, why, and whether he has ever been in prison or in a poorhouse or supported by charity, and if so, where and when. Each alien must be asked whether he has been in the United States Army or Navy, and if so, when, and whether he deserted therefrom, and whether he has ever been a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such views, and what views. Each alien must be asked whether he has a ticket through to his ultimate destination, whether he has been assisted in coming by any society or person, and whether he has paid his own passage. Each alien must be asked whether he is married or single, his age, sex, and race, and must declare whether he is able to read or write any language, and what language. Each alien must be described as to complexion, color of hair and eyes, height, and weight, and must be asked whether he has any visible marks of identification, and what they are. Each alien must be asked whether he has been in the United States before, when he came, where he landed, whether he has been in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, or Newfoundland at any previous time, and, if so, how often and for what purpose, how he entered, and how long he remained on each occasion. Each alien must be asked whether he has been refused admission to the United States or deported, and if so, why, and whether he has ever been in prison or in a poorhouse or supported by charity, and if so, where and when. Each alien must be asked whether he has been in the United States Army or Navy, and if so, when, and whether he deserted therefrom, and whether he has ever been a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such views, and what views. Each alien must be asked whether he has a ticket through to his ultimate destination, whether he has been assisted in coming by any society or person, and whether he has paid his own passage. Each alien must be asked whether he is married or single, his age, sex, and race, and must declare whether he is able to read or write any language, and what language. Each alien must be described as to complexion, color of hair and eyes, height, and weight, and must be asked whether he has any visible marks of identification, and what they are. Each alien must be asked whether he has been in the United States before, when he came, where he landed, whether he has been in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, or Newfoundland at any previous time, and, if so, how often and for what purpose, how he entered, and how long he remained on each occasion. Each alien must be asked whether he has been refused admission to the United States or deported, and if so, why, and whether he has ever been in prison or in a poorhouse or supported by charity, and if so, where and when. Each alien must be asked whether he has been in the United States Army or Navy, and if so, when, and whether he deserted therefrom, and whether he has ever been a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such views, and what views. Each alien must be asked whether he has a ticket through to his ultimate destination, whether he has been assisted in coming by any society or person, and whether he has paid his own passage. Each alien must be asked whether he is married or single, his age, sex, and race, and must declare whether he is able to read or write any language, and what language. Each alien must be described as to complexion, color of hair and eyes, height, and weight, and must be asked whether he has any visible marks of identification, and what they are.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That from and after the expiration of four months after the passage of this Act no alien seaman (other than a master) regularly employed on a vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States from such vessel unless and until the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name in full of each such alien seaman employed on such vessel, stating the position in which each is employed, the nationality of each, the last foreign port in which each shall have taken on board the vessel, the name of the vessel, and such additional information relative to each such alien seaman as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall, before granting clearance papers to such vessel, deliver to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port is located a certificate, subscribed and sworn to by him before a duly authorized officer of the United States, stating that the list or manifest delivered by him to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival contains a full and correct account of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure from each foreign port or place touched at by her on the way to the United States, and that every alien seaman included in such list or manifest has been accounted for to the satisfaction of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and that no alien seaman employed on board such vessel at any such foreign port or place touched at by her has been omitted from such list or manifest with intent to evade the provisions of this section. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien seaman employed on board such vessel at any such foreign port or place touched at by her, for which sum such vessel shall be liable and may be seized and proceeded against by way of libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which she may arrive or depart. Clearance may be refused any such vessel, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of which shall be liable to the penalty aforesaid, and the payment of such penalty may be enforced by withholding clearance papers. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $200 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. The Attorney General may, upon the application of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel, remit such penalty or any part thereof upon the production of a certificate showing that the seaman in respect of whom such penalty was incurred has been found and returned to the country to which he belongs, or that he died subsequent to the date of the vessel's departure from the foreign port at which he was shipped, and that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel has been unable to collect the penalty from the person liable therefor, and has used due diligence to collect the same. The Attorney General may, upon like application, remit the whole or any part of a penalty incurred under this section when it is made to appear to his satisfaction that the vessel arrived in port with alien seamen employed on board thereof in excess of the number allowed by this section by reason of unforeseen necessity, and that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel had at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port where such seamen were shipped reasonable cause to believe that the full complement of seamen allowed by this section was on board such vessel at such departure, and that the vessel left such port with such complement. The Attorney General may, upon the application of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel, cancel any penalty or forfeiture incurred under this section upon the production of such evidence as he may deem sufficient to show that such penalty or forfeiture was incurred without fault on the part of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel. (As amended Mar. 4, 1929, 45 Stat. 1564; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States from such vessel any alien seaman employed on board thereof who shall have been certified by the medical officer at the port of arrival to be suffering from any contagious disease, or who shall be certified by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any mental disease or defect, or who is an idiot, imbecile, epileptic, insane person, or who has been certified by the medical officer at the port of arrival as a person who has come to the United States for the purpose of prostitution or for any immoral purpose, or who is a person who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, unless such alien seaman shall be specifically certified by the Attorney General, after such investigation as he may deem necessary, to be not known by him to be within any of the foregoing classes of persons excluded from admission to the United States. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers while any penalty imposed by this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the payment of such penalty upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover the same, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such remission or mitigation being made the Attorney General shall state in writing the reasons therefor.

(b) Every alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place and who shall desire to land temporarily in the United States shall be required by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to be detained on board such vessel, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to detain such alien seaman on board such vessel until a permit for the landing of such alien seaman shall be granted by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, and it shall be the duty of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to grant such permit upon the application of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, unless he has reason to believe that such alien seaman belongs to one of the classes excluded from admission to the United States, or that the application for the permit is made for the purpose of enabling such alien seaman to land for permanent residence in the United States, or that such alien seaman intends to land temporarily and will not depart therefrom when the vessel on board which he arrived shall depart therefrom, or that such alien seaman intends to violate any of the provisions of the immigration laws of the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States without a permit as provided in this section shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall violate the provisions of this subdivision shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. (As amended Mar. 4, 1929, 45 Stat. 1564; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws of the United States shall be permitted to land temporarily for any purpose from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, until the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name in full of each such alien seaman, his last foreign port or place of residence, the intended port of debarkation in the United States, and such other information relative to each such alien seaman as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall, before granting clearance papers to such vessel, deliver to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port is located a certificate, subscribed and sworn to by him before a duly authorized officer of the United States, stating that the list or manifest delivered by him to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival contains a full and correct account of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure from each foreign port or place touched at by her on the way to the United States, and that every alien seaman included in such list or manifest has been accounted for to the satisfaction of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and that no alien seaman employed on board such vessel at any such foreign port or place touched at by her has been omitted from such list or manifest with intent to evade the provisions of this section. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers while any penalty imposed by this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the payment of such penalty upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover the same, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such remission or mitigation being made the Attorney General shall state in writing the reasons therefor.

(c) If the Attorney General has received information from the Secretary of Labor or any other source showing that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel has failed to comply with the provisions of this section or with any regulations made to carry the same into effect, or has connived or conspired to violate the same, or has failed or refused to detain any alien seaman on board any vessel when ordered so to do by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or has obstructed or hindered any immigration officer in the performance of his duties in relation to the same, the Attorney General may refuse clearance papers to such vessel, and may cancel any clearance papers which may have been granted but not delivered to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and may thereafter withhold clearance papers to such vessel while she remains in any port of the United States. (As amended Mar. 4, 1929, 45 Stat. 1564; 8 U. S. C. 180 (b), 181 (b).)

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws of the United States shall be permitted to land temporarily from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, until the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name in full of each such alien seaman, his last foreign port or place of residence, the intended port of debarkation in the United States, and such other information relative to each such alien seaman as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall, before granting clearance papers to such vessel, deliver to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port is located a certificate, subscribed and sworn to by him before a duly authorized officer of the United States, stating that the list or manifest delivered by him to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival contains a full and correct account of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure from each foreign port or place touched at by her on the way to the United States, and that every alien seaman included in such list or manifest has been accounted for to the satisfaction of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and that no alien seaman employed on board such vessel at any such foreign port or place touched at by her has been omitted from such list or manifest with intent to evade the provisions of this section. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers while any penalty imposed by this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the payment of such penalty upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover the same, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such remission or mitigation being made the Attorney General shall state in writing the reasons therefor.

(d) Every alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place and who shall desire to land temporarily in the United States shall be required by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to be detained on board such vessel, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to detain such alien seaman on board such vessel until a permit for the landing of such alien seaman shall be granted by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, and it shall be the duty of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to grant such permit upon the application of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, unless he has reason to believe that such alien seaman belongs to one of the classes excluded from admission to the United States, or that the application for the permit is made for the purpose of enabling such alien seaman to land for permanent residence in the United States, or that such alien seaman intends to land temporarily and will not depart therefrom when the vessel on board which he arrived shall depart therefrom, or that such alien seaman intends to violate any of the provisions of the immigration laws of the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States without a permit as provided in this section shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall violate the provisions of this subdivision shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. (As amended Mar. 4, 1929, 45 Stat. 1564; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

(e) If the Attorney General has received information from the Secretary of Labor or any other source showing that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel has failed to comply with the provisions of section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917, as amended, or any rule or regulation promulgated by the Secretary of Labor thereunder, or has connived or conspired to violate any of the provisions of said section, or has failed or refused to detain any alien seaman on board any vessel when ordered so to do by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or has obstructed or hindered any immigration officer in the performance of his duties in relation to the same, the Attorney General may refuse clearance papers to such vessel, and may withhold clearance papers granted but not delivered to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and may thereafter withhold clearance papers to such vessel while she remains in any port of the United States. (As amended Mar. 4, 1929, 45 Stat. 1564; 8 U. S. C. 180 (d), 181 (c).)

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possessing the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the word "NONE" is to be entered on the manifest if there are no aliens on board. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens assembled, include names of arriving American citizens assembled as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens on board such vessel, arranged in the groups and subdivisions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those so to be held on board detained in the port of arrival; to state concisely on such lists the sex, age, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination, so far as known or ascertained, of all aliens in any way specifying those in transit through the United States to foreign countries, and the names and residences of those who have been previously in the United States, so far as known or ascertained, and such other information regarding them as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration; and to report to such immigration officer, at the time of the departure of the vessel from each port in the United States, the names of all aliens who have been taken on board during the progress of the vessel while in such port, and such information shall be given as to the additional persons and their destination as may be required by such immigration officer. Any master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver to any such immigration officer, at the time of the departure of the vessel from any port in the United States, the lists required by this section, or who refuses or neglects to report to any such immigration officer the additional persons on board and their destination, or any of them, as required by such officer, or who refuses or neglects to make any such report, or who knowingly reports or lists incorrectly or falsely any such alien, or who refuses to any such immigration officer the right to go and remain on board any vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same and the lists required by this section to be delivered to such officer, or who refuses to such officer the means, information, and facilities necessary for the proper inspection of such vessel and lists, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who refuses or neglects to detain any alien on board when required so to do by any such immigration officer, or who refuses or neglects to prevent any such alien from landing in violation of law, or who aids or abets any such alien to land in violation of law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any such alien who lands in violation of law may be arrested without warrant and shall be taken before the United States commissioner for the district in which the port is located for examination. Any such alien who is found to be unlawfully in the United States shall, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, be taken into custody and deported. Any such alien who shall come into the United States in violation of law may be required to return to the country whence he came, or, if he came from a foreign country, to the country to which belongs the subject or citizen of the government under the authority of which he came to the United States, or to the country from which he embarked, as the Secretary of Labor may direct. Any such alien who shall enter the United States in violation of law and who shall not depart therefrom when required so to do by the Secretary of Labor shall be deported as provided in this section. Any such alien who shall have been arrested within one year after entering the United States in violation of law may be deported as provided in this section from any place in the United States to the country whence he came to the United States or to the country from which he embarked, as the Secretary of Labor may direct. The cost of the maintenance of any such alien while in custody pending examination by the immigration officers and pending his deportation, if he shall be ordered deported, shall be paid out of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. Any such alien arrested within one year after entering the United States in violation of law shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act unless the Secretary of Labor shall adjudge that the cost of such deportation should be paid from the immigration fund. Any such alien who shall enter the United States in violation of law and who shall not depart therefrom when required so to do by the Secretary of Labor

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from via ports outside thereof, or any vessel transporting any alien destined to the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of the date of their entry. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a), 101 (a).)

(b) Proof shall be taken as above provided by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival from any place outside thereof, and by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or from any seaman who shall have been duly discharged in such foreign port or place, shall be prima facie evidence of the failure to deposit with the immigration officer at the port of arrival such list or manifest of the seamen employed on board such vessel as is required, shall be prima facie evidence of the failure to deliver to such immigration officer at the port of departure such list or manifest of the seamen employed on board such vessel as is required, and shall be prima facie evidence of the failure to report the illegal landing of any alien seaman as required by the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel or which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such alien may be permitted to remain in the United States for such time as he may specify, upon the filing of a bond in such amount and with such sureties as may be required by the Attorney General, conditioned that such alien will depart when required from the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, and will not become a public charge. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alleged alien member of the crew (Form I-408) shall not be examined on board, but shall be required to appear at a hearing before a special inquiry officer at a location to which he is transferred for such purpose, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. The list or a synopsis of alien members of the crew shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States. Failure to comply with the requirements of section 251 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U. S. C. 1281) may result in the imposition of a penalty of $300 for each violation.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list of such of the members of the crew, and such other persons employed on such vessel, whether or not citizens of the United States, as may be required to be entered, and such specific facts concerning each, as may be required by the regulations prescribed in that behalf by the Attorney General, and shall be ready to be so delivered before the vessel is granted entry. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such list, or who delivers a list which is incorrect or incomplete in any particular, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each person concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while any such person remains on board, but no such clearance shall be granted for more than ten days. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the delivery of a list containing the name of any person who shall have been transferred from such vessel to a hospital on account of sickness or injury, and who cannot be removed without danger, until the condition of such person shall be such that he can be removed without danger, and then only to the immigration officer at the port where the hospital is located. Any person who knowingly conceals, harbors, or secretes, or attempts to conceal, harbor, or secrete any alien not duly entered by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel, or who knowingly assists any alien to escape from any such vessel before the same shall have been duly entered, or who knowingly aids any alien to escape from the custody of any officer charged with the execution of the immigration laws of the United States, or who harbors any such alien after he has escaped from such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily while such vessel is in port, unless such alien seaman has been lawfully admitted to the United States or is a member of a class of aliens authorized by the Attorney General to be employed on board such vessel arriving in the United States. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who employs any alien seaman in violation of this section or of any rule or regulation made pursuant thereto, and any alien seaman who accepts employment or who remains on board any such vessel in violation of this section or of any such rule or regulation, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman employed or who remains on board, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except from a foreign contiguous territory, who shall fail to detain on board thereof any alien seaman (whether an alien lawfully admitted to the United States or not) employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted to such alien seaman a permit to land in the United States, or who shall fail to report and deliver such alien seaman to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for such purpose, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each such alien seaman, and such vessel shall be liable for and may be seized to satisfy such penalty. Such penalty shall not be remitted or refunded except that clearance may be granted by the collector of customs prior to the payment thereof upon the deposit with him of a bond in such amount, not to exceed $2,000 for each seaman, as the Attorney General may, by regulations, prescribe, conditioned upon the return of such alien seaman on the departure of such vessel from the United States, or upon the payment of such penalty. (b) Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States who shall desert while such vessel is in port shall be detained on board or on the dock to which he may be taken pending the completion of the inquiry to determine whether he shall be allowed to land temporarily or permanently in the United States, and pending the issuance of a permit for him to land or his removal to the country to which he belongs or in which he resided before coming to the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except temporarily while such vessel is in port, or who shall remain in the United States after such vessel has departed from the port, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who become public charges within two years after entry. (c) If the Attorney General finds that any collector of customs has refused or failed to collect any penalty or to detain any vessel as provided in this section, he may, in his discretion, withhold clearance of any vessel or other vessel owned in whole or in part by the owner of such vessel, and such vessel shall be liable for any such penalty. The Attorney General may remit or refund any penalty, or portion thereof, paid pursuant to this section whenever he shall be satisfied that there was no fault on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel from which such seaman deserted, and that clearance was granted such vessel after the exercise of due diligence to detain such seaman. (d) Every alien seaman shall, while in a port of the United States, be entitled to all benefits arising from any treaty or convention to which the United States is a party to the same extent as if he were a citizen thereof, unless the Attorney General shall have given notice to the contrary to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such seaman arrived at least forty-eight hours before the departure of such vessel from a port of the United States. (e) Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, amend, or modify the provisions of section 4 of the Seamen's Act of March 4, 1915 (38 Stat. 1165), as amended (U. S. C., title 46, sec. 673), or to repeal, amend, or modify any provision of any treaty or convention now in force between the United States and any foreign country.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain tissue approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members, if any, shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival before the vessel leaves the port. When no alien members are carried, a list containing no names should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of crews (Form I–418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alien American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively examined or entered, and specifying those of the said aliens who are to be landed at the port of arrival; or state that there are no aliens employed on such vessel, which lists shall be in such form and contain such further information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: and after the arrival of any such vessel at a port of the United States it shall be unlawful for the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to land or cause or permit to be landed from such vessel any alien employee, or any alien who may have been employed on board such vessel at any foreign port or place, at any time or in any manner whatsoever, before the examination of such alien employee shall have been completed and a certificate in relation thereto issued by the immigrant inspector, except in such cases as may be specially provided for by the Attorney General: and any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed or attempted to be landed, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That the Attorney General may, upon the recommendation of the Secretary of Labor, issue rules and regulations permitting masters, owners, agents, consignees, or charterers of vessels touching at ports in contiguous territory to the United States, or adjacent islands, to which, or from which, it may be customary for crews to go ashore and return on the same vessel without being entered or cleared, to bring to such ports aliens employed on such vessels without requiring the shipping commissioner to go on board such vessels for the purpose of examining such aliens, and may provide for the return of such aliens to such vessels without detention or examination by the shipping commissioner or immigrant inspector at the port of return: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, upon the recommendation of the Secretary of Labor, make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to prevent the violation of the provisions of this section, and may employ such additional inspectors at such ports as may be necessary to enforce the same.

(As amended Feb. 16, 1929, 45 Stat. at L. 1165, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

(a) It shall be unlawful for any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to bring to the United States any alien who is afflicted with any loathsome disease, or with any mental disease or defect, or who is a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates the assassination of public officials, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such beliefs or advocating such overthrow, assassination, or unlawful destruction of property, or who advocates the unlawful damage, injury, or destruction of property, or who is an anarchist, or who is a prostitute, or who has been convicted or admits the commission of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who practices polygamy or believes in or advocates the practice of polygamy, or who is a professional beggar, or who is a person who has been deported, or who has come in consideration for the procurement of his passage by any person or by any transportation company, or who is assisted by others to come, unless it is affirmatively and satisfactorily made to appear to the special inquiry officer that such person does not belong to any of the foregoing classes, or to any other class of aliens excluded by law, and any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall violate any of the provisions of this subdivision shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such alien so brought, and may be imprisoned for not more than one year, and all the aliens so brought shall be detained upon the vessel or at such place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge of the port until the certificate in their cases required by this section shall have been issued, and they shall be subject to deportation as provided by section 19 of this Act.

(b) If any vessel arriving at a port of the United States shall have on board any alien who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental defects described in subdivision (a) of this section, and such disease or defect shall be discovered by the examining surgeon, such alien shall be certified to the special inquiry officer in charge for further action in accordance with the provisions of this Act, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be required to provide for the detention of such alien on board such vessel or at such place on shore as shall be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge until such alien shall be certified by the special inquiry officer in charge to be entitled to enter, or to be returned on board such vessel for removal from the United States in pursuance of law. Such detention shall be at the expense of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and if any such alien shall be certified for deportation, such expense shall be added to and collected as part of the head tax provided by section 2 of this Act. (39 Stat. at L. 878, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for the sole purpose of obtaining treatment in a hospital or asylum as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alleviation of any such disease or mental defect or defects, and in such cases as the Attorney General may permit to land in the United States from any place outside the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman or has been notified that such seaman (unless a member of the crew of a vessel touching at a foreign port in the regular course of its voyage and remaining not more than forty-eight hours in the United States) will be treated at a hospital as a certified case, or who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel after such inspection or to detain such seaman on board until the immigration officer in charge has been notified that such seaman has been cleared, or who fails to report the illness or hospital treatment of such seaman, or who fails to deliver such seaman on board such vessel before its departure from the United States, or who fails to make complete and truthful entries in the manifest concerning each such seaman, or who fails to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of inspection a correct list of the crew, or who fails to produce for such inspection each such seaman, or who fails to truthfully answer questions propounded by the immigration officer concerning any such seaman, or who fails to detain any such seaman on board such vessel at any subsequent port of call in the United States until such seaman has been inspected by the immigration officer in charge at such port, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such seaman, and in addition to such penalty shall pay the expenses of the maintenance of such seaman while detained on shore, and the cost of his return passage to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he shall have become a resident, or to such other country as he may choose, unless the Attorney General shall otherwise direct. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty, remove, or cancel any penalty or charge under this section, and shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine all questions arising under this section. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of any such penalty or charge, or while any such seaman is detained on board or on shore for the purpose of this section, unless a sufficient sum of money to cover such penalty or charge is deposited with the collector of customs, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs, or the Attorney General may, upon the recommendation of the Secretary of Labor, issue rules and regulations permitting masters, owners, agents, consignees, or charterers of vessels touching at ports in contiguous territory to the United States, or adjacent islands, to which, or from which, it may be customary for crews to go ashore and return on the same vessel without being entered or cleared. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty, remove, or cancel any penalty or charge under this section, and shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine all questions arising under this section. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of any such penalty or charge, or while any such seaman is detained on board or on shore for the purpose of this section, unless a sufficient sum of money to cover such penalty or charge is deposited with the collector of customs, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs, or the Attorney General may, upon the recommendation of the Secretary of Labor, issue rules and regulations permitting masters, owners, agents, consignees, or charterers of vessels touching at ports in contiguous territory to the United States, or adjacent islands, to which, or from which, it may be customary for crews to go ashore and return on the same vessel without being entered or cleared, to bring to such ports aliens employed on such vessels without requiring the shipping commissioner to go on board such vessels for the purpose of examining such aliens, and may provide for the return of such aliens to such vessels without detention or examination by the shipping commissioner or immigrant inspector at the port of return: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, upon the recommendation of the Secretary of Labor, make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to prevent the violation of the provisions of this section, and may employ such additional inspectors at such ports as may be necessary to enforce the same.

(As amended Feb. 16, 1929, 45 Stat. at L. 1165, 8 U. S. C. 136.) (See also 43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(Rev. 1-1-48)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on plain white paper approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival and will in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of charges of alien merchant vessels (Form I–418) shall not be destroyed or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, charterer, or agent of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all such aliens, including the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether married or single, whether in possession of a ticket, and whether the passage is paid by himself or by other persons or by the government or by any corporation, society, municipality, or other body, and whether in possession of money, and if so, how much, and whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their names and complete addresses, whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, whether in the United States in pursuance of such contract or agreement, whether having been solicited to emigrate by any person, agent, or company in the United States, and if so, by whom, whether the immigrant has a ticket through to his final destination, whether the immigrant has been in the United States before, and if so, when, how long he remained, where he has been living or working while absent from the United States, whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States, whether he is coming to the United States to avoid conscription, whether he has been a soldier or sailor in any army or navy and if so, what army or navy, whether he is deformed or crippled or otherwise physically defective, and if so, from what cause, whether he is blind, deaf and dumb, an epileptic, or feeble-minded, and whether he has a contagious disease, and if so, what disease, and all such facts as may be required for the proper classification of aliens according to the immigration laws and regulations, and the physical and mental examination of such aliens, and the decision whether they may land or shall be deported, which said list or manifest shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival before any of the passengers shall be landed, and shall be prepared in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and shall contain such other information pertaining to said aliens as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which list or manifest shall be signed by the master or agent of such vessel, who shall take and subscribe an oath before the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to the truth of the statements contained therein. The master or agent of every such vessel shall also deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of the inspection of the vessel a separate list or manifest of the cabin passengers who have been landed at any previous port in the United States, which list or manifest shall contain such information regarding said passengers as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Any master or agent who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required of him by this section shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly authorized officer at the port of arrival, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no clearance shall be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 886–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

Sec. 150.12. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via Seattle, Washington, to any vessel required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), from the United States under the immigration laws and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, or to any vessel from any foreign port or place, unless duplicate lists or manifests of all persons on board, including the crew, have been delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure, and in the case of vessels destined to ports not having immigrant inspectors, to the collector of customs at the port of departure, and unless the master or agent of such vessel has delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a list of the persons who have been landed at ports in the United States during the voyage, and has subscribed to the truth of the statements contained in such lists or manifests before the immigrant inspector at the port of departure. Such lists or manifests shall be prepared in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and shall contain such other information pertaining to said aliens as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Any master or agent who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required of him by this section shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly authorized officer at the port of arrival, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no clearance shall be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from a place outside thereof, who fails to detain on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman or has given notice that such inspection is not required, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to such determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sureties satisfactory to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or cancel any such fine, or any part thereof, if he is satisfied that such fine was incurred without fault on the part of the master, owner, agent, or consignee of the vessel, and that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent the violation of the provisions of this section.

(b) Every alien seaman shall not be allowed shore leave from any vessel on which he arrives at a seaport of the United States unless he is in possession of a valid passport and visa, if a visa is required by the regulations issued hereunder, or unless he is in possession of a special shore-leave certificate issued by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such certificate shall be issued only for the period of the vessel's stay in port, or for a period not exceeding five days, whichever is shorter, and may be revoked at any time by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Assistant Commissioner General of Immigration, or any immigration officer in charge of a port. Such certificate shall be granted only upon the condition that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel will guarantee the return of the alien seaman to the vessel or to the custody of the immigration officer in charge of the port at the time of departure of the vessel from the port, or upon the revocation of the certificate, and will pay the cost of maintenance of the alien seaman while in detention and the cost of his passage to the country to which he belongs or to any country which will receive him, if deportation becomes necessary. Such certificate shall be granted only upon the condition that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel will deposit with the immigration officer in charge of the port a sum sufficient to cover

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the port of arrival, and no alien shall be allowed to land in the United States from the vessel. The list of aliens (Form I–418) shall not be detached or mutilated in any manner, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is in possession of a "non-quota" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. It is the duty of facilitate inspection of aliens seeking admission, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, consignee, or agent thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons, including the members of the crew, employed on board such vessel, showing the position they respectively hold in the said vessel, and stating which of such persons are destined to the United States or to some foreign country, and the intended length of their stay in the United States or elsewhere, and whether they have been previously in the United States or which of them have been deported or excluded and for what cause, and all such information required by regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor as may be necessary for the proper execution of the immigration laws relative to the persons employed on such vessel, which list or manifest shall be certified to by the master of such vessel, and by the surgeon, if there be one, and shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's first arrival at a port in the United States. Such list or manifest shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the master shall, if required by the principal immigrant inspector, also deliver to him a passenger list or copy of the ship's manifest in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, containing such particulars regarding the passengers as may be required by him. Any master who refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to whom permit to land is not granted, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not a clearance shall be granted prior to the determination of such question adversely to the master: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 886–888; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15 Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171),[1] have been completed, and not then unless notice of intention to do so has been given by such section or it shall appear that the master, owner, consignee, or agent of such vessel has been notified by the Commissioner of Immigration that the provisions of such section have been complied with. (39 Stat. 886–888; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman entering from adjacent foreign contiguous territory, or from any island adjacent thereto, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily to the same extent as alien passengers, or because of illness, or injury requiring hospital treatment, or because of being detained as a witness in connection with the prosecution of such alien seaman for violation of the immigration laws, or pending examination, special inquiry, or appeal, or pending his return in the vessel on which he arrived or on another vessel, to the country from which he came, or to the country in which is located the foreign port at which he embarked, or to the country to which is located the foreign port at which the vessel on which he arrived shall have received clearance papers: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit any alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted into the United States and who has been employed on board a vessel engaged in the coastwise trade to land temporarily at any port without being required to obtain a permit so to land, and to return on board such vessel without being required to obtain a permit so to do, if the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel shall furnish a bond in such sum and with such sureties as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned that such alien seaman will return on board such vessel within the period of time fixed by the Secretary of Labor at the time of granting such permission to land, and will not land in the United States at any port or place other than the port or place at which he was granted permission to land, except in case of sickness or injury requiring hospital treatment or because of being detained as a witness in connection with the prosecution of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser for violation of the immigration laws, or pending examination, special inquiry, or appeal, or pending his return in the vessel on which he arrived or on another vessel to the country from which he came, or to the country in which is located the foreign port at which he embarked, or to the country to which is located the port at which the vessel on which he arrived shall have received clearance papers: Provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 886–888; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port. The list or manifest of aliens transported to ports of crews (Form I-418) shall not be restricted to aboard, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, "Unknown" is a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively naturalized or admitted to land, and specifying those who have been rejected by the immigration officers; to state contagious or other diseases known to them to be prevalent at the port or place from which the vessel sailed or through which she passed on her voyage to the port of arrival; to state separately the names of those who intend to apply for admission to the United States, and those who intend merely to pass in transit through the country to some foreign destination; and to answer such other questions in relation to the aliens named as may be required by regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, which regulations shall be printed on the lists required by this section. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses to comply with the provisions of this section, or any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to include in such lists any alien employee who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently and prior to the departure of the said vessel from the port of arrival become employees thereon, or who refuses or neglects to report to the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival the illness or death of any alien employee who was employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who died or became ill during the period intervening between the time of the arrival and the departure of the said vessel from the port of arrival, or who refuses or neglects to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival any such alien employee who was ill or who died during the period intervening between the time of the arrival and the departure of the said vessel from the port of arrival, or who refuses or neglects to report the illness or death of any such alien employee who was ill or who died during the period intervening between the time of the departure of the said vessel from the port of arrival and the time of the report required by this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien employee in respect of whom such failure occurs, and such alien may be arrested by any officer charged with the enforcement of the immigration laws and taken before any United States commissioner or judge for a hearing, and deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act. (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 172.)

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment in a hospital or sanitarium as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, (other than aircraft) shall immediately upon its arrival at the port of first arrival, report and land any alien crewman employed on board such vessel that immigration officer in charge at the port of entry as the Attorney General may require, and shall detain such alien crewman on board until such inspection or to depart such alien crewman if required by such immigration officer to the Attorney General or to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while any alien seaman employed thereon is detained for the purpose of this section, unless a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw any alien seaman so detained or may permit the deportation of any such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The master, as amended, shall pay a sum of twenty dollars for each alien seaman employed on board of any vessel who shall not depart from the United States in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(b) Every alien seaman shall not depart or attempt to depart from the United States from any foreign port or place in which he may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States, except upon the production of a valid passport and an unexpired immigration visa, or a valid passport and a seaman's identification certificate, or a valid passport and a permit to depart issued by the Attorney General, or a valid passport and a permit to depart issued by the Secretary of State, or a valid passport and a permit to depart issued by the Secretary of Commerce, or a valid passport and a permit to depart issued by the Secretary of Labor, or a valid passport and a permit to depart issued by the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, or a valid passport and a permit to depart issued by the Secretary of the Treasury, or a valid passport and a permit to depart issued by the Secretary of the Navy, or a valid passport and a permit to depart issued by the Secretary of War, or a valid passport and a permit to depart issued by the Secretary of the Interior, or a valid passport and a permit to depart issued by the Secretary of Agriculture

I, Adam A. Grayson, Master of the U.S.S. Volunteer, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from this port on March 7, 1961, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named therein; and that the information contained in the foregoing manifest is correct and true in every respect. I do further solemnly swear that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the said aliens, severally and respectively, are not members of the following described classes of persons: persons who are feeble-minded; persons who are insane; persons who have had one or more attacks of insanity at any time previously; persons who are afflicted with tuberculosis in any form; persons who are afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease; persons who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude; persons who have been convicted of two or more offenses for which the aggregate sentence was five years or more; polygamists, or persons who practice polygamy or believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law; anarchists; persons who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government; persons who advocate or teach the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character; persons who advocate or teach the unlawful destruction of property; persons who are members of or affiliated with any organization entertaining a belief in, teaching, or advocating the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or the unlawful destruction of property; persons who are members of or affiliated with any organization, association, society, or group of anarchists or persons who believe in, advise, advocate, or teach the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character; persons who are members of or affiliated with any organization, association, society, or group of persons who believe in, advise, advocate, or teach the unlawful destruction of property; and persons who are members of or affiliated with any organization, association, society, or group of persons who believe in, advise, advocate, or teach the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law.

Sworn to before me this 11th day of September, 1961.

Adam A. Grayson, Master.

Immigrant Inspector.

(1)

I, Adam A. Grayson, Master of the U.S.S. Volunteer, do solemnly swear that I have caused the antigen of the said vessel sailing therewith, or the surgeon thereof, to make a physical and mental examination of each and all of the aliens named in the foregoing manifest, to make a true list of all the aliens so found to be afflicted with any of the said diseases or mental defects, and to report the same to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization; that I believe from said examination and investigation that no alien mentioned in the said list is afflicted with any of the said diseases or mental defects, except as stated; that there were no other cases of such diseases or defects among the said aliens to the best of my knowledge and belief; and that the information contained in the said list is correct and true in every respect. I do further solemnly swear that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the said aliens, severally and respectively, are not members of the following described classes of persons: persons who are feeble-minded; persons who are insane; persons who have had one or more attacks of insanity at any time previously; persons who are afflicted with tuberculosis in any form; persons who are afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease; persons who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude; persons who have been convicted of two or more offenses for which the aggregate sentence was five years or more; polygamists, or persons who practice polygamy or believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law; anarchists; persons who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government; persons who advocate or teach the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character; persons who are members of or affiliated with any organization, association, society, or group of anarchists or persons who believe in, advise, advocate, or teach the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character; persons who are members of or affiliated with any organization, association, society, or group of persons who believe in, advise, advocate, or teach the unlawful destruction of property; and persons who are members of or affiliated with any organization, association, society, or group of persons who believe in, advise, advocate, or teach the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law.

Sworn to before me this 11th day of September, 1961.

Adam A. Grayson, Master.

Immigrant Inspector.

(2)

I, Adam A. Grayson, Master of the U.S.S. Volunteer, do solemnly swear that I have carefully examined the manifest of aliens dated March 7, 1961, and that the information contained in the said manifest is true and correct, and that every person mentioned therein is correctly described, as far as I know or believe.

I further swear that I have not, nor has any one to my knowledge or belief in my behalf, given or promised any money or other consideration for information or advice in regard to the said aliens, nor will I accept or receive, nor permit any one in my employ to accept or receive, for me or on my behalf, any money or other consideration for information or advice in regard to any of said aliens, nor will I knowingly permit any such payment to be made, except for such sums as may be lawfully charged for the services of counsel or agent in the prosecution of claims before the Department of Labor.

Sworn to before me this 11th day of September, 1961.

IMPORTANT

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and shall be verified by the master or commanding officer or the first or second officer of the vessel (Form I-418) at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last port. When no alien passenger is carried, a report to that effect shall be made on Form I-420, "Master's Certificate of No Aliens Carried."

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any place outside thereof, or upon departure of any vessel from one port to another in the United States having on board any alien or aliens required by regulations prescribed by the Attorney General to be inspected by immigrant inspectors, the master, commander, or agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall deliver to such immigrant inspectors, or to the immigrant inspector in charge of the district in which the port of arrival is located, lists or manifests of such aliens on board such vessel, in such form and manner and containing such information as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. It shall be the duty of the master, commander, or agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the district in which the port of arrival is located the muster roll of the crew of such vessel, which shall contain such information as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. It shall be the duty of the master, commander, or agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the district in which the port of arrival is located, at the time of the departure of such vessel from such port, lists or manifests of all aboard such vessel, natives of the United States or aliens, who have been lawfully admitted to the United States, and who have been in foreign countries visiting temporarily or in transit through the United States, which lists or manifests shall contain such information as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. It shall be the duty of the master, commander, or agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the district in which the port of departure is located the muster roll of the crew of such vessel, which shall contain such information as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. It shall be the duty of the master, commander, or agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the district in which the port of departure is located lists or manifests of all aliens, and of natives of the United States who have been lawfully admitted to the United States, who have been in foreign countries visiting temporarily or in transit through the United States, which lists or manifests shall contain such information as may be prescribed by the Attorney General.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS

SEC. 30. No alien seaman shall be permitted to land temporarily in the United States from any vessel arriving at any port of the United States unless such seaman shall be in possession of a valid passport or such other document as may be required by the President under the provisions of section 6 of this Act, and unless such seaman shall be in possession of a valid nonimmigrant visa or such other document as may be required by the President under the provisions of section 3 of this Act, and unless such seaman is otherwise admissible under the provisions of this Act. Whenever the Attorney General finds that any alien crewman has remained in the United States in violation of this section, he shall cause such alien to be deported in the manner provided by section 20 of this Act. Any alien crewman who shall remain in the United States in violation of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS

SEC. 31.051. Duty of alien employees; when cleared vessel may depart.

(a) Except as provided by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (8 U.S.C. 1201–1221), no vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the district in which any port of the United States is located if any alien employed on board such vessel has not been granted a permit to land from the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or has not been issued a certificate of identification and registry by the Attorney General, unless such alien is employed on board a vessel which is scheduled to depart from such port within twenty-four hours after the time of application for clearance papers.

(b) Any master, commander, or agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who knowingly violates the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such violation occurs. The Attorney General may remit such fine, or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he deems reasonable and just, when it is made to appear that there was no intention to violate this section, or that the master, commander, or agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel had no reason to believe that the alien employed was not entitled to be employed on board such vessel. (June 27, 1952, ch. 477, title II, ch. 2, § 251, 66 Stat. 233.)

(c) It shall be the duty of the Attorney General, under such regulations as he may prescribe, to detain any vessel which may be required to be inspected under the provisions of this section, at the expense of the owner, master, commander, agent, or consignee thereof, until a certificate of inspection has been issued by the immigrant inspector. (June 27, 1952, ch. 477, title II, ch. 2, § 251, 66 Stat. 233.)

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port." When an alleged alien seaman is a "motorman" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alleged American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are destined in the port of arrival; to state separately the number of aliens in each of the classes mentioned, and the nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien, so employed; and to report additions to or changes in such lists, if any, and the cause thereof, before the departure of any such vessel from any port; and to report the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may have been discharged from such employment before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, and the cause of their discharge. All lists required to be delivered by this section shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall be severally liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly authorized immigrant inspector at the time of the departure of such vessel from any port in the United States: Provided, That clearance papers shall not be withheld nor the vessel detained by reason of any inaccuracy in such lists unless an intent to evade any law regulating the admission of aliens to the United States shall be disclosed: Provided further, That the penalty shall not attach in the case of any vessel which shall touch at a port in the United States solely for the purpose of taking fuel or supplies, and which shall depart therefrom without having landed any passengers or discharged any cargo: Provided further, That the master of any vessel may be exempted from the provisions of this section with respect to the employment of any alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who has been employed on board such vessel for a period of not less than one year immediately preceding the date of the vessel's departure from the United States, upon the filing of a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 for each such alien seaman in accordance with such regulations governing the same as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Commerce. The Secretary of Commerce may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such exemption in the case of any alien seaman whenever in his opinion the employment of such alien seaman is inimical to the interests of the United States, and require the deposit of a cash bond in accordance with the provisions of this section. The Secretary of Commerce may, upon application in writing therefor, cancel any such bond upon the departure of the alien seaman from the United States, upon the presentation of such evidence as may be required by the Secretary of Commerce that such alien seaman has complied with the conditions of his admission to the United States, and upon the payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax imposed by section 1 of the Act of February 2, 1903, upon such alien seaman. (32 Stat. 1213; 8 U. S. C. 132.)

(a) Every alien arriving at a port of the United States from a foreign contiguous territory, and every alien departing from the United States to a foreign contiguous territory, shall be subject to all the provisions of this section relating to aliens arriving at or departing from ports of the United States, except that the Secretary of Commerce may by regulations limit the application of this section to such classes of aliens arriving at or departing from such ports as may be specified in such regulations.

(b) If the Secretary of Commerce shall deem it necessary, he may require masters of vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign contiguous territory to deliver lists containing the names of aliens who are to be examined at such ports by immigrant inspectors, and may refuse clearance papers to any vessel the master of which shall fail to deliver such lists. (32 Stat. 1214; 8 U. S. C. 136 (a), 136 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector portside the vessel at the port of entry (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry as required by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, entitled "An Act to Amend the immigration laws of the United States," approved May 26, 1924, as amended, shall apply to all deviation from the requirements of the immigration laws.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of debarkation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except transportation by land in the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate debarkation or removal of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate debarkation or removal of such alien from the United States, shall not permit any such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry shall have inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), and certified to the master of such vessel that such alien seaman may be landed, or that such alien seaman is detained for special inquiry by the immigration officers or the Attorney General, or to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question upon the deposit of such sum, or of a bond duly executed to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall finally prescribe. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deviation matters supervening to June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof shall be made as may be prescribed by the Attorney General that any alien seaman did not abscond from the conveyance in which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the inspector of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on another vessel or by the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such seaman shall not be entitled to such maintenance as may be required by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(43 Stat. 164–165, 38 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 168 (a), 168 (c).)

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel, arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, before any of the passengers shall be landed, and before the customs entry shall be granted, to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of entry a complete list or manifest of all the persons on board such vessel, which list or manifest shall be prepared in the form and contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof, and shall be sworn to before the United States consul at the port of departure, if there be a consul at such port, or, if there be no consul at such port, before such officer as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor. Upon the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer thereof shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry a list or manifest corrected to date in accordance with the provisions of this section, which list or manifest shall be sworn to before the immigrant inspector at the time of the delivery thereof. Any master or commanding officer, or agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel, who refuses or neglects to deliver such list or manifest at the time of the entry of such vessel, or who refuses or neglects to deliver to the immigrant inspector such additional information relative to the persons on board of such vessel as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by any person authorized by him to require the same, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such refusal or neglect. Any master or commanding officer, or agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel, who shall knowingly or willfully land or permit to be landed from any such vessel any alien not duly entered on the list or manifest delivered by the master or commanding officer thereof, or who shall knowingly or willfully refuse to allow the immigrant inspectors to board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the list or manifest of passengers, or who shall refuse to detain on board such vessel or at the dock at which she may be moored any alien who may be designated to be detained by the immigrant inspectors, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien landed or permitted to land contrary to the provisions of this section, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any alien who shall willfully refuse to be listed by the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any such vessel, or who shall refuse to disembark when required to do so at the port of arrival, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master or commanding officer, or agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the time of the entry of such vessel any such alien who may have been discovered on board such vessel after the list or manifest has been delivered to the immigrant inspectors, or who shall land or permit to be landed any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien so landed or permitted to land, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any alien who shall willfully refuse to be listed by the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any such vessel, or who shall refuse to disembark when required to do so at the port of arrival, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master or commanding officer, or agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the time of the entry of such vessel any such alien who may have been discovered on board such vessel after the list or manifest has been delivered to the immigrant inspectors, or who shall land or permit to be landed any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien so landed or permitted to land, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned at ports of departure (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. (Form I–418) may be obtained from the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C., or from any immigration officer.

SEC. 20. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the ports at which they severally intend to land: Provided, That the master of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from a foreign port shall not be required to deliver lists containing the names of any aliens in addition to those who he has reason to believe intend to land at such port: Provided further, That the master of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from a foreign port shall not be required to deliver lists containing the names of any aliens in addition to those who he has reason to believe intend to land at such port or at some port to be subsequently visited by the vessel on her voyage: Provided further, That the master of any vessel shall not be required to deliver lists containing the names of any aliens who have been examined by a medical officer of the United States at the port of departure and certified by him for admission into the United States, but the master of such vessel shall deliver a list containing the names of all aliens who have been so certified by the medical officer at the port of departure. Such lists shall be prepared at the time of the arrival but may be corrected before the departure of the vessel from any subsequent port. Any master who refuses to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, or to any officer designated by him, lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, or who refuses to deliver to such immigration officer at a subsequent port of call lists containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall have discharged from the vessel, during a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any master, consignee, or agent of any vessel who refuses to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, during a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any master, consignee, or agent of any vessel who refuses to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, or who refuses to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall have discharged from the vessel before the departure of such vessel, shall be fined in the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalties; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the inability of the master to deliver any alien specified in his report, or pending the production of such alien, and in the event such alien is imposed, while it remains pending; nor shall such alien be remitted to Mexico: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or peril to the vessel, or for such other reasons as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alien's departure, removal, or deportation at such alien's own expense or the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, or the owner thereof, or his agent, consignee, or master, to the foreign port, place, or country from which he came to the United States or to the country to which he belongs or in which he resides, at the option of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than that designated by an immigration officer, or at a time other than that designated by immigration officers, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter or to land in the United States in violation of the law, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien so brought, aided, or abetted, and may be imprisoned for not more than five years, and if any such alien shall have been allowed to enter upon the giving of a bond or undertaking, such bond or undertaking shall be forfeited. Such fine may be remitted or mitigated by the Attorney General upon such terms as he shall deem reasonable and just, and shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may arrive. Pending the payment of such fine or the securing of the remission or mitigation thereof, the vessel may be required by the collector of customs to depart only from the last port in the United States at which she arrives to the port at which she is cleared, and may be required to give a bond in such sum, not exceeding double the amount of such fine, as the collector of customs may direct, conditioned upon the departure of the vessel from port without the payment of such fine or the securing of the remission or mitigation thereof. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit by the master of the vessel with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond fully sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit by the master of the vessel with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond fully sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not embark upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from this country before sailing thereof, or that he was temporarily in the hospital, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport, which failure, notwithstanding the intervention of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such alien may be granted a conditional permit to land temporarily during the period of the vessel's stay in port, but such permit shall not be granted except upon the affirmative recommendation of the Attorney General and the payment by the master of the vessel on which the alien arrived of the expenses of the alien's detention at the Attorney General's discretion, such expenses to be determined by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Such vessel may be required to deposit a sum sufficient to cover such expenses, or a bond approved by the collector of customs, conditioned upon the payment of such expenses as may

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival a complete and accurate list, in the English language, of all the persons on board such vessel, whether as passengers or members of the crew, setting forth their names, ages, sex, whether married or single, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, whether they have been in the United States previously and if so how long previously, whether they have been in prison or almshouses or institutions for the care of the insane or supported by charity, whether they are in possession of $50 and if not the amount they have with them, whether going to join relatives or friends and if so their names and complete address, whether going to the United States on account of any contract or agreement to perform labor, and if so what kind, whether they have ever been in the United States before and if so when and where, whether they have been deported or excluded and if so when and why, the place of birth, the last permanent residence, the final destination, whether they have a ticket through to such destination, whether they have been in penal institutions or reformatories, whether they are coming to the United States to avoid military service, whether they have ever been a member of or connected with any anarchistic or similar organization, whether they are polygamists, whether they believe in the practice of polygamy, whether they are in the United States as the result of solicitation, the condition of health, mental, physical, and personality of each alien, whether deaf, dumb, blind, or crippled, the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came, and the name and complete address of the relative or friend to whom he is going in the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration and enforcement of the immigration laws. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States shall furnish to each alien a certificate of the information required by this section, which certificate shall be signed by the alien and countersigned by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel bringing the alien to the United States. Such certificate shall be prepared in such manner and contain such other information as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a certificate in the form prescribed by the Secretary of Labor for each alien on board such vessel, and shall deliver to the immigration officer at each subsequent port at which such vessel may call before the departure therefrom for a foreign port a certificate in the form prescribed by the Secretary of Labor for each alien on board such vessel at the time of departure from such subsequent port. Such certificates shall be delivered by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel to the immigration officer at the time of inspection of the vessel at each port, or if no inspection be made, then upon the departure of the vessel from each port. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver the certificates required by this section, or who refuses or fails to deliver any certificate required in the case of any alien, or who refuses or fails to detain any alien on board when ordered so to do by an immigration officer, or who refuses or fails to prevent any alien from landing in violation of law, or who refuses or fails to comply with the requirements of the Secretary of Labor relative to the inspection of aliens prior to their departure from foreign ports, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such penalty, or while such penalty remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing received prior to the departure of the vessel, remit or cancel any penalty or part thereof imposed under the provisions of this section as he may deem just and proper. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who violates any of the provisions of such rules and regulations shall be subject to the penalties provided in this section. (39 Stat. 884, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owners, charterers, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof (other than persons in transit across the United States between two foreign places) any alien who has been refused admission to the United States shall be required to take back such alien to the place from which he came to the United States, or to the country which issued the passport on which such alien came to the United States, or to the place in which he resided before coming to the United States, as the Secretary of Labor may direct. The cost of the maintenance of such alien while in the United States and of his return shall be borne by such owners, charterers, agent, consignee, or master. Such return shall be made on the vessel bringing such alien to the United States, unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct. Such alien may be detained on board such vessel or in such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port pending the return of such vessel or the departure of another vessel or vessels to the country to which such alien is to be returned. The cost of such detention shall be borne by such owners, charterers, agent, consignee, or master. Such owners, charterers, agent, consignee, or master shall furnish such bond as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to guarantee compliance with the provisions of this section. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse or fail to return any such alien to the country to which his return is directed by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse or fail to furnish such bond when required, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien in respect to whom such refusal or failure occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any such alien may be arrested upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, upon such terms as to bail or security as the Secretary of Labor may require, and may be taken into the custody of the Secretary of Labor within the United States and returned to the country whence he came, in the manner provided by the Secretary of Labor, at the cost of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. Any such alien who shall enter the United States in violation of any order of deportation, or who shall enter, attempt to enter, or be found within the United States after having been excluded and deported or removed, except as provided in this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than five years. Any such alien shall also be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided in this section. (39 Stat. 884, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board a vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless specifically certified by the Attorney General as a person not dangerous to the welfare of the United States, and then only under such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien. Any such alien who shall land in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless specifically certified by the Attorney General as a person not dangerous to the welfare of the United States, and then only under such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (39 Stat. 884, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, but any such alien seaman may be required to remain on board and to depart in the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or in such other vessel as may be available for his departure and destination, and the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return shall be borne by the owners, charterers, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel bringing such seaman. Any such alien seaman who shall refuse or fail to depart in the vessel on which required to depart, or in such other vessel as may be available for his departure and destination, or who shall refuse or fail to remain on board when ordered so to do by an immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse or fail to prevent any seaman (whether immigrant or not) on board such vessel from violating any of the provisions of the immigration laws, or who shall refuse or fail to perform any duty required of him by any such officer, or who shall obstruct or hinder or delay such officer in the performance of such duty, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of the Secretary of Labor relative to the inspection of aliens prior to their departure from foreign ports, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such penalty, or while such penalty remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing received prior to the departure of the vessel on which any alien seaman against whom a penalty has been imposed under this section is employed, remit or cancel any penalty or part thereof imposed under this section. The Attorney General is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. (39 Stat. 884, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

(a) Every alien arriving at a land border port of entry who is destined to a point in the United States other than that at which he applies for admission shall be required to proceed to his destination within the United States without delay, except as may be necessary to comply with the requirements of the immigration laws. Any such alien who shall fail to proceed to his destination within the United States without delay, except as may be necessary to comply with the requirements of the immigration laws, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing received prior to the departure of the vessel on which any alien seaman against whom a penalty has been imposed under this section is employed, remit or cancel any penalty or part thereof imposed under this section. The Attorney General is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. (39 Stat. 884, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

(b) If the Attorney General [illegible] the cancellation of any alien seaman [illegible] the performance of any duty or the payment of any penalty imposed upon the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States, he shall report his action to the Congress with the reasons therefor. (39 Stat. 884, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than alien seamen, shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspection such seamen (which inspection at all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), a certificate to be prepared by the Attorney General as to each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port or such other alien as may be designated by the Attorney General shall have certified on the back of such certificate that such inspection or to dispose such seamen if required by such immigration officer to the effect that he has collected at the port of arrival the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or any part thereof.

The said section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration matters subject thereto on and after July 1, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that such alien seaman has been lawfully admitted to the United States, shall be prima facie evidence to establish or dispose of the case, as the case may be.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States will be unduly burdensome because of the inability of the master to arrange for the return of such alien seamen, he may cause such aliens to be detained on board or at the expense of the said vessel until such expense has been paid or adequate security therefor furnished to the satisfaction of the Attorney General and such vessel has cleared from the port.

(43 Stat. 164–166, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 168 (a), 168 (b).)
